SPAIN DEMANDS BOMB TRUCE IN ROW WITH ITALY

Offers to Drop Plan to Make Reprisals.

PARIS, June 26.—(AP)—The Spanish government has promised to abandon the thought of bombing Italian and German cities, in return for three concessions from France and Great Britain, a reliable diplomatic informant disclosed today.

The conditions for giving up a plan for reprisals against rebel air raids, unlikely to be agreed to by Britain and France, were listed as:

1. That France reopen the Pyrenees frontier to arms and munitions for Spanish government armies.

2. That France and Britain force Spanish insurgents to halt bombardment of government cities, in which many civilians have been killed.

3. That France and Britain agree to impose eventual mediation of the conflict upon Generalissimo Francisco Franco, Spanish rebel commander, who has Italian and German support.

Called Bargaining Threats.

Diplomats, doubting such conditions would be received favorably by France and Britain, were inclined to believe now that the Barcelona threats of reprisal bombings were for bargaining and not intended as a serious project.

The Spanish embassy in Paris yesterday acknowledged consideration had been given to reprisal bombings, which would include "Italian-dominated" towns in the Balearic Islands, rebel base just off Spain's east coast.

Sources close to the French foreign office said the Spanish loyalist government also had threatened to bomb cities of "those foreign countries" sharing responsibility for aerial attacks on Spanish government territory.

Barcelona had insisted that both Italian and German flyers have taken part in bombings of government Spain, and following close after the Barcelona threats, Italy served notice any reprisals would bring about mass destruction on Spanish government territory.

Appeals to Mussolini.

France and Britain kept in close touch today. Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet and the British prime minister, Neville Chamberlain, it was ascertained, asked Premier Mussolini to put pressure on his Spanish insurgent friends to end bombing of civilian centers.

The Franco-British statesmen agreed also to hurry establishment of a neutral commission to fix the blame in the Spanish air raids.

The commission, composed of a Swede, a Norwegian, and an Englishman, will have headquarters at Toulouse. It will speed to bombed cities, at the request of either the Spanish government or the rebels, to fix responsibilities for deaths of any civilians.

Its only power will be the weight of world public opinion, which French and British believe will be sufficient to bring a halt to the raids.

Resists Being Dragged Into War.

The commission, which the United States declined to join in line with its policy of keeping out of foreign entanglements, was expected to start operations a week ago. Its appearance at Toulouse now is promised for next week.

Diplomats here said the Spanish government, fighting for its life, has a perfect right to avoid defeat by any means it deems fit, but they also stressed that France and Britain must resist being dragged into a war, an eventuality they foresaw should Spanish government planes attack Italian or German ships or territory.

At the same time the question of the Franco-Spanish frontier appears far from settled definitly by the recent shutdown order. France reserves the right to reopen the frontier, as well as to send supplies to the Spanish government, if Italy refuses to remove "volunteers" from rebel armies.

Says Warships Catapult Planes.

BARCELONA, June 26.—(AP)—A Spanish government authority today accused Italian or German warships of catapulting bombing planes into the air off the east coast to raid Spanish government cities.

A high official of the government's air force declared evidence had been found that a number of recent raids on coastal cities, with great loss of life resulting, had been executed by "foreign" planes shot out from warships of Fascist powers.

A BOMB THEORY BLOWS UP IN A RAILWAY STATION

The object that lay wrapped in paper on the steps leading from the waiting room to the train shed of the North Western station looked as if it were a bomb. It was almost round and a wick projected from the paper. The discoverer last night shied at it, and so did the railroad detectives he summoned. They called the detective bureau's bomb squad and Sergts. Frank Freemuth and James Garvey responded and stripped off the covering without qualms. The object was one of those black, open flame lamps such as the street railways use for warning marks when repairs are in progress.

SUSPECTS TELL PLOT TO SUBMIT FALSE RETURNS

Loss of Millions by Cheating Charged.

Investigators for the state's attorney yesterday opened a sweeping campaign against merchants who are alleged to have defrauded the state of millions with false retailers' occupational tax returns. From four men they obtained confessions relating how a chain of meat markets, with the connivance of a state employé, withheld $46,000 and then, believing "the fix was in," quit paying sales taxes entirely.

Thomas J. Bugan.

"This is only the first step," declared Assistant State's Attorney Thomas J. Bugan. "In the last three weeks we have discovered that sales tax cheating is scandalously prevalent. For example, we have made a hurried investigation of 186 merchants. It appears that every one of them owes the state more than $10,000 and most of them around $50,000.

Sees Hope for Tax Cut.

"I have no doubt that if they can all be made, through prosecution, to pay in full, the state would be able to reduce the tax to 2 per cent and still have ample funds for relief. We are going to get our evidence against the cheaters in shape rapidly and bring them all in. There should be millions of extra returns to the state."

The decision to use stern methods on the tax evaders, according to Bugan, was made several weeks ago at a conference of State's Attorney Courtney and Gov. Horner.

Those who admitted the swindle yesterday, and signed statements concerning it, are Edward F. Petrak, 1413 South 58th court, Cicero, and his uncle, James J. Petrak, 2337 53d avenue, Cicero, owners of the meat marketing chain; Joseph Murray, 2414 North Leclaire avenue, formerly an investigator for the state finance department, and Herbert Bachman, 4701 North Kilbourn avenue, a pickle salesman.

Pay Tenth of Tax, Then None.

Bugan and Investigator Gus Bartels, who gathered much of the information, said the Petrak bank accounts showed that their five stores did a gross business of between $500,000 and $750,000 annually, but paid taxes

Shoo Children Away So Men Can Sail Toys

BY MARCIA WINN.

This may be kid stuff to you, but the great shallow basin at 51st street and South Shore drive which for years has been considered to be a children's wading pool is not, it seems, for children at all. It is for adults and their toy boats.

During the week, it became known yesterday, children may bring their boats there. But on Saturdays and Sundays, from May 7 to Nov. 13, it is the sacrosanct province of elderly men and their model boats.

Yesterday, as the stormy waters of the tree bordered pool were denied to all except the sixteen model sailboats, piloted by sixteen excited men, the scene took on the aspect of Papa snatching Sonny's electric train on Christmas day.

Police Fend Small Boys Off.

Small boys stood wistfully along the shore. If they sought to place their own boats in the water a park policeman stopped them.

Few of the children were aware of the ban. Going unobtrusively to the far end of the pool they slipped their boats in—only to be stopped.

"But we didn't KNOW we couldn't sail our boats," Philip Maher, 8155 Drexel avenue, who is 12, said quietly. "We thought this was for boats."

One mother, Mrs. Agnes Fransen of 7648 Peoria street, whose small son, Richard, was ordered to withdraw his boat almost before it was wet, pleaded that he be allowed to play along the bank. The boat had a string on it.

When told that it would interfere with the racing of the Ogden Park Model Yacht club, she stared in surprise toward the elderly boatsmen and said, "Why, the big babies!"

The Men Are Surprised.

E. M. Chesebro, plant superintendent of the Illinois Bell Telephone company, deserted his toy to explain that there is "no discrimination" at all against the children. They just can't play when Papa has a permit.

"We usually rope this thing off," he said, indicating the pool. "It's hard for people to realize this was built for model yacht sailing.

"The youngsters can sail here all week long. Why," he added happily, "we even help them if they need us. But on Sunday and sometimes Saturday we have our races."

HEWS COFFIN FROM LOG AND LISTENS TO HIS OWN 'FUNERAL' SERMON

Kingston, Tenn., June 26.—(AP)—Bewhiskered Felix Breazeale — who wanted "to hear what the preacher says about me"—sat happily beside his handmade coffin today while a minister eulogized him in a long "funeral" sermon.

"It was the nicest funeral I ever heard," he said. "When I die there won't be another one. This was my last funeral and I'm mighty well pleased."

While the Rev. Charles E. Jackson of Paris, Ill., praised the manifold merits of "Uncle Bush," a crowd estimated at more than 8,000 swarmed over the peaceful little Cave Creek valley grove.

For more than three hours after he had been consigned to his Maker, the hearty old farmer stood beside the coffin he hewed from a walnut log and shook hands with hundreds.

Breazeale, who is 74 years old, dressed in new suit and hat, rode to the grove in a herse that called for him at the little farm home where he lives alone.

IGNORE MOSQUITO BITES AND THEY WILL GO AWAY

If you nobly refuse to scratch that mosquito bite when it first appears this week you will forget it in from 5 to 10 minutes, J. Lyell Clarke, sanitary engineer with the Des Plaines valley mosquito abatement district, predicted yesterday.

Mr. Clarke spoke as an authority on mosquito bites, having led a searching party this week-end to find where the estimated 13 billion mosquitoes now converging on Chicago are lodging. Recent rains frustrated their biting, he said, but it will start again today.

The mosquitoes, he found, will bite but not often. They seem more tired than hungry. Normally they hit, hum, and bite. This year they are wary and cautious, often flying on and off the human flesh without a nip.

The least infested spots, he found, are near the intersections of North and Austin avenues and of Madison street and Oak Park avenue. Five minutes in Grant park produced only two bites, but at 87th street and Harlem avenue twenty-eight nibbled in that period.

Fiancee Looks on Helpless as Youth Drowns

One young man was drowned yesterday while his fiancée ashore watched helpless, and two companions were rescued while swimming in the lake off 50th street. A high wind whipped up heavy waves and only a few had ventured in the water at that location.

The drowning victim was Joseph Ricard, 22 years old, of 5343 Dorchester avenue, son of a former chief of police of Toledo, O., who was studying at the American Academy of Arts, 25 East Jackson boulevard. He sank in the water more than 40 feet off the pilings in the sight of his fiancée, Miss Harriet Horning, 23 years old, 5220 Kenwood avenue.

Helps Exhausted Friend.

Price Banister, 22 years old, and Tracy Novinger, also 22, both of 5405 Woodlawn avenue, were rescued and taken to the Illinois Central hospital for treatment.

The three were swimming some distance from shore when Banister started in. Novinger shouted that he was exhausted and needed aid. Banister went to his assistance and both battled the waves until they were picked up.

Fiancée Sounds Alarm.

At the same time Ricard, who was farther out, disappeared from view when a heavy wave washed over him. Miss Horning sounded an alarm. The coast guard was summoned but was unable to search for the body because of rough water.

James Winegart, 17 years old, 6340 Parnell avenue, drowned yesterday while swimming with several companions in Round lake. Chief William Harrison of the fire department and aids began a search for the body.

STOKOWSKI AND GARBO JARRED AS CAR TIPS OVER

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 26.—(AP)—Greta Garbo and Leopold Stokowski, the orchestra conductor, were badly shaken but uninjured today when the auto in which they were riding overturned on a highway south of Stockholm. The taciturn movie star and the musician, whose friendship has given rise to frequent reports of betrothal and of marriage, continued on their journey after scrambling from the car.

Roosevelt Will Greet Swedish Prince's Party

Wilmington, Del., June 26.—[Special.]—Celebration of the 300th anniversary of the landing in America of the first Swedes and Finns will be carried out tomorrow morning by members of Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf's official party while the prince remains aboard the liner Kungsholm. The prince is confined to his suite by a recurring kidney ailment. Prince Bertil will take his father's place in the celebration that has been planned for months on both sides of the Atlantic.

Arriving here late today to await arrival of the Swedish royal party and take part in the landing ceremony, President Roosevelt went to the estate of Eugene du Pont, father of his daughter-in-law, the wife of Franklin D. Jr., to pass the night.

Site of New Sweden.

Wilmington was crowded tonight with visitors for tomorrow's celebration, which will be continued for four days in Delaware, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, parts of which states were embraced in the New Sweden founded in 1638 by a company of 150 Swedes and Finns sent to America by Gustafus Adolphus.

The principal event of the opening ceremony will be the presentation of a monument erected by Sweden on the landing site. The presentation now will be made by Prince Bertil and it will be accepted by President Roosevelt. Then the President will present the monument to Gov. Richard McMullen for the state of Delaware.

A lawn festival will be given in honor of the visiting delegation after the monument ceremony. Crown Princess Louise will attend with her stepson.

Condition Not Serious.

Dr. Wollmar F. Bostrom, Swedish minister to the United States, tonight denied reports that the condition of the crown prince, who is 55 years old and heir to the crown of King Gustaf V., is serious. Dr. Bostrom explained that because of the kidney ailment the crown prince's physician had advised complete rest for at least four days.

The crown prince's general condition was said by Dr. Bostrom to be very good and the prince hopes to be able within a few days to take his place in the celebrations that have been arranged in honor of his visit.

When it became known today that the crown prince could not leave his ship, arrangements were made for him to address the crowd at the monument ceremony by radio. Whether he would be able to do so was not known definitly.

Arrives for Dinner.

Accompanied by Col. E. M. Watson, his military aid, President Roosevelt arrived at the du Pont home shortly before dinner. After being greeted by Mr. and Mrs. du Pont at the door the President and du Pont retired to the lawn for a chat while Col. Watson, an old family friend, visited with Mrs. du Pont and members of the household.

The President was a guest of the Du Ponts a year ago this month when his son and Ethel du Pont were married. Tonight there were no other guests and dinner was a family affair.

Eugene du Pont has withdrawn from operation of the family industrial empire, leaving control to Irenee, Pierre, and Lammot du Pont, to whom the President has referred to as the princes of privilege.

To See Boat Races.

Immediately after his acceptance speech tomorrow Mr. Roosevelt will leave for his home in Hyde Park, N. Y., stopping en route at Poughkeepsie to watch the intercollegiate boat races from the deck of the presidential yacht now kept in the Hudson river for his immediate use.

Mr. Roosevelt will stay in Hyde Park until Thursday when he will go to New York for two dedicatory speeches at the 1939 World Fair. On Saturday he will start back to Washington and plans one stop at Gettysburg, Pa., for the seventy-fifth anniversary of the civil war battle.

20,000 at Field Museum on Su-Lin's First Sunday

Su-Lin's admirers continued to call upon her yesterday, her first Sunday at the Field museum. Undaunted by rain or cloudy skies, some 20,000 appeared to crowd around the case where the baby giant panda, whom they grew to love during her reign as mistress of the Chicago Zoological park at Brookfield, is mounted on a slab of stone. "On an ordinary Sunday we generally have about 15,000 people here," an attendant at the museum said.

SHOOT INDIANA TROOPER; FLEE WITH DEPUTIES

Free Officers After 50 Mile Ride.

La Porte, Ind., June 27 [Monday].—[Special.]—Two desperate gunmen shot and critically wounded an Indiana state policeman near here last night, fired at a newspaper photographer, menaced a third man, and kidnaped two deputy sherifs in the latters' car.

Ray Dixon.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

For eight hours the deputies, Charles Hahn and Joseph Kowalczyk, were prisoners, and under constant threat of death. While police of three states—Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan—blocked boundary highways, the gunmen drove their captives through dark rural roads south and west of La Porte to foil pursuers and road blockaders.

Finally tired of carrying the prisoners, the outlaws put them out of their car early today one-half mile east of U. S. Highway 41, midway between Lowell and Cook, more than 50 miles from here. The deputies immediately telephoned superiors, reporting they were unharmed.

Trooper Shot Three Times.

The victim of the shooting was Policeman Ray Dixon, 28 years old, of South Bend, who was shot three times at close range. Two bullets entered his stomach and one clipped his right hand. Doctors at Holy Family hospital here said he had an even chance of recovering. Three fellow policemen stood by to give blood for a transfusion.

A minor automobile accident laid the groundwork for the swift and exciting action. Two automobiles collided at the intersection of United States highway 20, six miles north of here, and Fail road, one mile east. One car was driven by Walter Sanders, 22 years old, of Michigan City, Ind., and the other by John E. Boergert, 23, of 257 Woodstock avenue, Kenilworth, Ill.

Boergert and his companion, Miss Laura Schmidt, 20 years old, of Detroit, Mich., were injured slightly.

Car Stalled in Road.

Policeman Dixon was in South Bend when he heard of the accident. He started for the scene in a police car. He was in uniform. He took with him R. J. Hennings, a newspaper cameraman. After investigating the accident Dixon arrested Sanders and put him in the police car alongside Hennings. Then they started for La Porte, taking Fail road as a short cut.

Half a mile south of U. S. 20 Dixon noticed a car stalled at the side of the road. A red haired man sat at the wheel, a light haired man beside him. Both were in their middle twenties. Policeman Dixon stopped on the opposite side of the road.

"What's the trouble?" he asked.

Fires Without Warning.

"Maybe I can give you a hand," said Dixon, stepping from the police car.

As he did so the red haired man leaped out, leveled an automatic pistol, and fired three shots. Dixon fell in the road and rolled into a ditch.

Hennings jumped from the police car and ran into a farm field. The gunman fired at him twice. Sanders remained in the car.

The gunman and his companion stepped up to him.

The two men eyed him a moment, then ordered him to get out.

"Now beat it," said the gunman.

Sees Abduction of Deputies.

Sanders ran and as he attempted to cross a fence his clothing caught in the barbed wire. For police records this was a fortunate accident because it enabled him to see the subsequent drama.

The two outlaws got into the police car, apparently to escape in it, but before they could start another car drove up. It was a 1934 model black Studebaker, with Indiana license 758-090. In it were Deputies Hahn and Kowalczyk, who were returning from the scene of the Sanders-Boergert accident.

They saw the police car, but did not see Dixon wounded in the ditch. As was the policeman, they were taken by surprise. The desperadoes climbed from the police car and leveled their guns at the startled deputies.

"They made the deputies get out of their cars and into the back seat," said Sanders. "One of the gunmen got into the rear seat with the deputies and the other took the wheel. Then they drove south."

Aids Wounded Trooper.

Sanders then ran to Policeman Dixon's aid. He lifted him into the police car and drove to the hospital in La Porte. There he broke the news of the shooting.

All available law officers were ordered to the search for the kidnapers, with special instructions to avoid endangering Deputies Hahn and Kowalczyk. In view of the gunmen's pitiless shooting of Policeman Dixon, which was reminiscent of the bold style of the old Dillinger and Brady gangs, the authorities feared they would not hesitate to kill the deputies. As midnight passed without word from them, the feeling grew that they had already done so. Shortly before 4 a. m., however, Hahn called in and reported himself and Kowalczyk safe. The kidnapers drove on, he said.

Outlaws Abandon Auto.

The outlaws left one substantial clew behind—their abandoned automobile. The wheel and door handles were examined for finger prints. The car bore Michigan license plates which had been stolen yesterday morning from Three Oaks, Mich. Inside was a set of Wisconsin plates which had been stolen Thursday night at Columbus, Wis. There also were several cartridges, a stiletto, some women's underclothing, three suitcases packed with men's clothing, and some fishing tackle.

Wisconsin authorities said that before the license plate theft in Columbus two men had robbed a woman of her car at Stevens Point and exchanged shots with a pursuing policeman. This car was abandoned in Columbus.

Where Indiana Trooper Was Shot

Principal points entering into shooting of Indiana state trooper by two desperate gunmen near La Porte last night. The trooper, who was taking a motorist to La Porte for questioning, stopped to befriend the men when they suddenly opened fire. They then kidnaped two deputy sheriffs and drove off in their car.

9 ARE ARRESTED; SOLVE ROBBERIES IN WEST SUBURBS

Chicago avenue police yesterday completed the roundup of nine alleged robbers known as the suburban night riders because of a large number of holdups committed in recent months in western suburbs. The gang is said to have taken more than $25,000, most of which was spent for night life.

The first arrest, made two weeks ago, was that of Steve Vernie, 724 North avenue. Detectives John A. O'Donnell and Leo J. Kelly saw him in ragged clothing one day and in smart, new attire the next, and he was handing out $1 tips. Their suspicions aroused, they arrested him.

The resulting investigation led to the arrest of Herman and Heman Sittig, twins; Montealm Markham, Anthony Ballo, Dominick Politano, Anthony San Filippo, William Babcock, and Richard Schikora. Capt. Thomas Harrison said all have confessed one robbery or more, and that 100 holdups will be solved as a result. Miss Betty Semper, a friend of Herman Sittig, is also in custody.

NAZI LAMBASTS JEWS, CZECHS, AND LIPSTICKS

NUREMBERG, Germany, June 26.—(AP)—Julius Streicher, intensely anti-Semitic governor of Franconia, lambasted Jews, Czechoslovaks, and lipsticks in an address today before 200,000 listeners.

"As far as I am concerned, all Jews may die," the Nazi No. 1 Jew baiter roared. "When the last Jew is dead—that is, when the last bacillus of disease has disappeared—will the sun shine again on the peoples of this earth."

About the Czechoslovak situation, which last month created tension between Germany and Czechoslovakia, Streicher boasted that "our army is bigger than you or foreign countries think."

He declared he had just told a meeting of 25,000 boys and girls that in his opinion they were "much nearer to God than they were before Adolf Hitler came to power."

"They are beautiful, godlike, and natural," he said about the youth. "Women who use lipstick had better not come here."

INDIANA KILLER'S EXECUTION IS SET FOR MIDNIGHT

Robert Shaw, an ex-convict, sentenced to die for the murder of a deputy sherif in La Grange county, Ind., is scheduled to be electrocuted shortly after midnight tonight in the Indiana state penitentiary at Michigan City.

Shaw's execution originally was set for midnight last Thursday, but he was given a last minute reprieve through the intercession of Warden Alfred Dowd. Dowd said he was not certain that the death sentence imposed on a plea of guilty and without a jury trial was proper. He telephoned the Indiana governor, who granted a reprieve. Then Omer S. Jackson, Indiana attorney general, ruled that the conviction was proper under the law, and the execution again was ordered.

Shaw, who was born in Canada and is a British subject, shot and killed Deputy Sherif Harry E. Spice on Dec. 3, 1937, while being sought as a robber suspect. He was sentenced by Judge Clyde Carlin of La Grange.

Flying Boat Begins New England-Australia Service

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, June 26.—Imperial Airway's empire flying boat Cordelia left Southampton with twenty passengers and a heavy load of mail at dawn today to inaugurate the first flying boat service to Australia, 13,000 miles away. Tonight the plane arrived at Athens and tomorrow it is due at Basra, Iraq. It is expected to reach Sydney on July 5.

CZECHS PRESENT NEW RESISTANCE TO NAZI DEMANDS

Hope of Settlement Now Appears Distant.

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 26.—While this city was jammed with half a million tourists to see the gymnastic exercises of the sixth annual jamboree of the Sokol organization, Prime Minister Milan Hodza and other members of the government sweated through a hot, sultry day considering the intricate minorities problem.

Despite conferences with representatives of the Sudeten German [Nazi] party and almost continuous sessions of the committee formed by the government's coalition party leaders, no substantial progress has been made towards a solution. In official pronouncements during the last three days, the government cautiously has been preparing the public for possible failure of the negotiations with all the consequences that it will imply for the fate of the country.

Set Date for Discussion.

One fact was announced—that discussion of the minorities problem will begin in parliament July 12 and continue to the middle of August.

In the last three days party leaders have become aware of the real scope of the demands of the Sudeten party headed by Konrad Henlein. As one point after another is examined excellent reasons are found for refusing concessions. The problem has returned to where it began two months ago when Henlein made his famous Carlsbad speech.

The Sudeten party has not altered its demands for autonomy and the demands could be granted only with a change in the national constitution. The Czechs, on their side, are stubborn in their determination to keep the constitution as it is, however far they may be willing to go in making concessions within its framework.

Now that the negotiations are under way and each side sees the other standing its ground, the prospects for a sincere reconciliation of the Sudeten Germans to the state are dwindling.

Probe Sudeten Plot.

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 26.—Details of a Henleinist plot against German and Czech Social Democrats in the Sudeten German areas will be revealed in tomorrow's edition of Montag.

In the course of police searches of Henleinist premises in Reichenberg a list of 1,200 names of well known Social Democrats living in various parts of the Sudeten German areas was discovered. Against three names on the list were notes that the bearers thereof should be kidnaped and taken to Germany at the first opportunity. These three have received special police protection.

SEARCH WOODS NEAR LAKE SIX FOR LOST BOY, 3

Frazee, Minn., June 26.—(AP)—Donald Fogel, 3 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fogel, who disappeared this morning while his father and uncle were fishing, was the object of a wide search tonight.

Where boy is being hunted.

Left on the shore of Lake Six, a mile from the Fogel home, the boy apparently wandered into dense woods surrounding the lake. Footprints were found about a half mile from where he disappeared, and the trail was followed into the woods.

Costa Rica Revenue Drops; Public Works Costs Cut

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, June 26.—A sharp decline in state revenues, compared with 1937, has forced the government works administration to cut national expenditures 30 per cent, it was disclosed today. The cut will result in a reduction of employés.

SPANISH REBELS MAKE ADVANCES ON THREE FRONTS

Costal Unit Passes Town 32 Miles from Valencia.

HENDAYE, France [at the Spanish frontier], June 26.—(AP)—Simultaneous advances on three widely separated Spanish war fronts were reported today by the rebel command.

The gains were made in fierce encounters yesterday on the Mediterranean, central, and southern fronts, but government reports indicated Generalissimo Francisco Franco paid a high price in casualties.

Franco's coastal armies hammering toward Valencia informed headquarters a spearhead had passed the village of Bechi, thirty-two miles north of Valencia, and had shoved onward under a broiling sun to occupy new positions on the Valencia side of the Seco river.

Interlocked in this operation was a similar offensive about ten miles northwest of Bechi, near Fanzara, to widen the rebel coastal salient for protection of Franco's main seaboard column seeking to advance southeastward from Villarreal to Burriana.

Advance in Foothills.

A dispatch from Saragossa said a division under Gen. Garcia Valino advanced from Onda into the foothills of the Sierra de Espadan, the first of three mountainous barriers shielding Valencia. The village of Tales, southwest of Onda, was reported under rifle fire. Onda lies fifteen miles inland and west of Villarreal.

An army under Gen. José Varela striving to advance southeastward toward Sagunto along the highway from Teruel continued to meet stiff government resistance at Sarrion.

Renewed rebel activity on the central front, in the Toledo sector southwest of Madrid, was reported to have resulted in the capture of several advanced government positions near Arges, about five miles from rebel held Toledo.

Gain in Mining Region.

Continued government attacks against newly won rebel positions near Penarroya, in the rich mining region of southern Spain, were said by the rebel command to have been repulsed with rebel advances.

The fighting on this front shifted from Penarroya farther northwest to the vicinity of Peraleda de Zaucejo where the rebels reported they won control of the entire valley of La Serena river. Peraleda de Zaucejo is about sixty miles northwest of Cordoba.

Rebel advices pointed out that the operations had brought the mineral and coal mining region of Cordoba province under Franco's red and gold banners and provided a naturally fortified line for further advances by Gen. Gonzalo Queipo de Llano's army.

Alicante Air Bombed Again.

MADRID, June 26.—(AP)—Alicante was raided again today by rebel bombing planes, but no casualties were reported—in contrast to an attack yesterday in which it was estimated 100 persons were killed and 230 injured.

BAR TO CONSIDER WORLD PARLEY ON ECONOMICS

An international conference for solution of economic problems will be recommended to the American Bar association at its annual meeting in Cleveland July 25 to 29, it was announced yesterday. The proposal has been drafted by the association's international and comparative law section. The conference, as proposed by the legal experts, would be called by the United States.

"Such a conference," the report says, "might well be the forerunner of a permanent world congress meeting at definite intervals. Such an organization, making use of expert opinions in its solution of all pressing matters, would furnish the most reasonable and practical method of securing peaceful international coöperation."

JAP AND CHINESE FLYERS BATTLE FOR AIR MASTERY

Report 33 Planes Shot Down Over Nanchang.

SHANGHAI, June 26.—(AP)—Chinese and Japanese war planes clashed in a great battle today high over Nanchang, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's largest air base, but the outcome was in dispute.

A Japanese communique reported that between thirty-three and thirty-six Chinese planes were destroyed and admitted loss of three Japanese craft. Chinese, however, declared they had no losses, but two attacking craft were destroyed.

[A Hankow official report said five Japanese pursuit planes were brought down in dog fights over Nanchang. It was also said that a Chinese bombing squadron raiding the Japanese air field at Anking on Saturday destroyed twelve Japanese bombers and five pursuit planes.]

Three Flights Begin Attack.

The Japanese said the Nanchang attack was started by three groups of army planes which engaged a Chinese squadron. Between twelve and fifteen of the Chinese planes plummeted to the ground in this phase of the battle, the Japanese communique said, while three of the attacking planes were lost.

Japanese naval planes took up the battle at noon, engaging twenty Chinese planes in "dog fights." Six defending craft were shot down, the Japanese said, while a second contingent of naval planes brought down thirteen more.

The Japanese said their airmen then carried out a bombardment of the airdrome in which two grounded Chinese planes were destroyed.

The Japanese Yangtze river offensive today had reached within 200 miles by river from Hankow with Japanese gunboats forming the spearhead of forces under orders to blast a path through a gantlet of Chinese shore batteries and cross-river booms.

Planes Bomb Fighting Lines.

Japanese planes bombed Chinese positions on both banks of the Yangtze between recently fallen Anking and Matowchen—the latter the site of the first boom faced by the invaders. The airmen reported inflicting "heavy damage."

Sanguinary fighting between Chinese infantrymen and Japanese landing parties continued in the Anking-Matowchen sector.

Northern Kiangsu province was bombed, particularly around Fowning, about 350 miles north northwest of Shanghai, to prevent reorganization of defeated Chinese forces near the eastern terminus of the Lunghai railway.

REVEAL LOOTING OF CHINESE CITY BY OWN SOLDIERS

Dikes Breached to Halt Japs at Chengchow.

HANKOW, June 24 [Delayed].—(AP)—How strategic Chengchow was looted but saved from Japanese capture by eleventh hour breaches in Yellow river dikes was told today by foreigners reaching Hankow after a fortnight's isolation in Chengchow.

Well timed and well placed breaks were said by the refugees to have been made by plain clothes men and soldiers of the 80th Chinese division just in time to prevent Japanese occupation of the junction of the Peking-Hankow and Lunghai railroads at Chengchow.

Explode 100 Land Mines.

Fearing the arrival of Japanese before the floods caused by the dike breaches could take effect, Chinese troops remaining as a rear guard after the main Chinese force withdrew, exploded more than 100 land mines. They demolished military positions, railroad equipment, and government buildings and burned army supplies.

During and after this systematic program of destroying anything of possible use to the enemy soldiers, Chinese of the 109th division systematically looted Chengchow's modernized quarter, the witnesses said.

Few Buildings Spared.

Only a few buildings were not ransacked. Much private property was stolen or smashed. Premises of an outlying Catholic mission were entered repeatedly until Italian missionaries personally established a 24 hour guard routine.

After a four day looting rampage officers succeeded in bringing the soldiers under partial control by posting anti-looting proclamations, which, however, failed to prevent city rowdies from starting where the soldiers stopped.

Firemen Routed by Flames 40 Feet Beneath East River

New York, June 27 [Monday].—[Special.]—Four firemen wearing gas masks failed in a dramatic attempt last night to put out a fire raging forty feet below the bottom of the East river in the north bore of the 50 million dollar Manhattan-Queens vehicular tunnel now under construction. After the firemen for two hours had attempted to reach the blaze Joseph O'Hanlon, assistant chief of the fire department, announced there was nothing his men could do. It then was decided to send four sandhogs [professional tunnel workers] down to attempt to extinguish the flames.

5 AND 10 HEIRESS FACES FIGHT WITH COUNT OVER CASH

See Money Deal Entering Divorce Case.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 26.—Danish divorce courts soon are expected to put an end to the second romance of Countess Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow with a European nobleman and possibly make her a "woman without a country."

Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow.

It is not clear yet whether the divorce, which it is confirmed the $40,000,000 five and ten cent store heiress is seeking in Copenhagen courts, will leave her a citizen of Denmark, the country of her husband, Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow.

Legal authorities appeared doubtful what her civil status or that of her son Lance, who is 2 years old, will be after the divorce. Her London friends said they feared American authorities might not look kindly on her appeal for restoration of American citizenship, which she renounced last December in order to escape taxation.

Speedy Hearing Expected.

Danish authorities are getting busy on her divorce case, advices from Copenhagen said. A speedy hearing is anticipated in accordance with Countess Barbara's wishes.

Henning Repsdorf, Copenhagen attorney, has been in London since last Wednesday. He was summoned by urgent cable from the countess' solicitor, William Mitchell, who has been a daily visitor at the countess' home, Winfield house.

The main point which lawyers for the countess, who married the Danish count the day after she had divorced Prince Alexis Mdivani in May, 1935, are trying to figure out is how to get a Danish divorce which will be acknowledged by both British and American courts.

[Alexis Mdivani, a Georgian prince, was killed in an automobile accident in Spain in August, 1935.]

Wants Custody of Son.

The Woolworth heiress also wants to keep her son and the matter of his custody is expected to be bitterly contested. A money settlement is believed to be in the background, too. It is said that Countess Barbara and her husband had agreed that in case of divorce she should keep her fortune with nothing going to the count.

Gossip among friends, however, is that the count, while perhaps not broke, has not very much money.

It is said that the count does not want to abide by the financial agreement because of "certain circumstances."

Confess Tax Fraud

James F. Petrak (left) and his nephew, Edward F. Petrak, who own five meat shops and are alleged to have confessed to defrauding the state of nearly $60,000 of sales tax money by keeping a set of false books.

Herbert Bachman, a bookkeeper, spent one day a month making out the false books, according to the confessions.

[TRIBUNE Photos.]

Joe Murray, former investigator for the state department of finance, was arrested with the Petraks. He is said to have confessed that he instructed the Petraks in their fraudulent operations while he was still an employe of the state.

Lightning Kills Woman; Two Others Are Injured

Jacksonville, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—Mrs. Kathryn Perkins Lee, 22 years old, wife of Ward Lee of Greenfield, was killed yesterday by lightning. Two others were injured.

FOUR CONFESS $46,000 SALES TAX FRAUD PLOT

Open War on Widespread Cheating.

only on one-tenth of that amount, although their customers were charged the full 3 per cent on all purchases.

"That was between Jan. 1, 1934, and Sept. 1, 1937," said Bugan. "Since September they have paid no retailers' tax, although they have banked large sums every day. I asked them why, and they said it had all been fixed—they'd be foolish to pay anything after they had proved that they could get away by paying only one-tenth.

This confidence, it was indicated, had something to do with their exposure. The finance department suggested them as good subjects for investigation because of their failure to report anything at all. Bugan estimated that they owe from $10,000 to $12,000 since September and that this, added to the previous $46,000 and penalties, would bring their total sales tax debt to nearly $60,000.

Tell of Fixing Books.

The Petraks first met Murray in 1934, when they asked information on what sales tax they had to pay. They have four markets in Chicago—at 3454 26th street, 4135 26th street, 1736 Chicago avenue, and 4214 Madison street—and one in Berwyn, at 6424 22d street.

"They said," Bugan reported, "that their interview was in the office of the state finance department. Murray told them he would come out to their office. They have all confessed that Murray set up a false set of books for the firm.

"Then Murray introduced Bachman as an expert bookkeeper, and he went around once a month, fixed up the books in one day and made the returns and remittances to the tax office. For his services he received $20 a month. We have seized both the correct books of the firm and the fraudulent set that was used for occupational tax purposes, and the Petraks were frank enough to say they probably owed the $60,000."

Politics Is Blamed.

Murray, who was let out of the state finance department job last fall, said he was now employed in the city collector's office. He asserted he had received no monetary reward for his part in the plot; that he had assisted the Petraks because a "political friend" had requested him to do so. The identity of this friend was a mystery. The Petraks and Murray declined to name him, but the merchants said they thought he was the brother of an alderman.

Although an investigation of the Petrak case was started about the first of the month, Bartels and Bugan were not ready to act until Saturday. Then they arrested the uncle and nephew and after quizzing them all night obtained statements tending to implicate the other two men.

All Charged with Conspiracy.

Murray and Bachman were arrested at their homes yesterday morning. The four men were charged with conspiracy to defraud the state and the store owners were booked also for making false statements and for failing to make returns. All were taken to the Brighton Park police station.

The retailers' occupational tax, in the last two years, has furnished more than a third of the state revenues of Illinois. In 1937 it produced $83,000,000. Statistical experts have expressed the opinion frequently that but for evasions and fraud the income would be much greater. The state finance department added a number of investigators in the Chicago area this year. Possibly because of the closer watch being kept on retailers, collections for the first three months of 1938 were higher than in the same period of 1937, though business conditions were not as good.

MERITS OF PAPER CONTAINERS FOR MILK ARE STUDIED

Bundesen Gets Report on U. of I. Tests.

A summary of tests made at the University of Illinois on three types of paper milk containers was submitted yesterday to Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health. A movement is under way in Chicago to introduce the use of paper containers for milk, which now is sold in glass bottles only. The full report will be submitted to health authorities early next month.

The tests were made by Dr. Paul H. Tracy, chief of dairy manufactures in the college of agriculture. Generally favorable results are reported, although the investigators questioned whether paper containers will ever be practical for home delivery, the use of glass bottles being deemed more economical for the dealers.

Seeks Sanitary Standards.

Dr. Bundesen said the use of paper containers is barred by the health ordinance. Before he can approve them for use here the manufacturers must demonstrate that their product is as sterile as bottles and that the containers will withstand normal usage. He is interested chiefly in having the paper manufacturers set up sanitary standards to guard the material which goes into the containers and in having definite proof that the paraffin coating will keep the milk free of bacteria.

Of the three types of containers which were studied, one is formed and coated with paraffin immediately before filling while another was prefabricated and pre-paraffined. These two types required special equipment for filling. The third type is prefabricated and coated with paraffin by the manufacturer, but can be filled with the same equipment used for bottles.

Customers Like It.

Basis for the experiments were the reactions of members of the 300 families on the university milk routes who used the containers for sixteen months. At the end of a year 80 per cent of these customers said they preferred the paper containers to the glass bottles. They liked the single service feature and the convenience; they did not like them because they could not see the cream line. Several advantages for the dealer also were brought out. Among these were: Less noise and confusion in bottling the milk, more space in the refrigeration room, and less weight in the delivery trucks.

The investigators visited several paper mills to examine the stock at various stages of production. Several thousand finished containers were examined and most of them were found to be sterile or extremely low in bacteria content.

"It was found possible to make paper that is practically sterile," the report states. "During the process of manufacture microorganisms are destroyed."

However, Dr. Bundesen pointed out, there is no law or other method of control to force manufacturers to use sterile paper. "There can be no doubt about sanitary qualifications for paper containers when milk is involved," he asserted. "The manufacturers themselves must establish some control over the industry for the protection of the consumer."

Paper containers are used in New York for grade B milk while the glass bottles are required for grade A milk. Chicago has no grade B milk, all sold here being of grade A quality. Paul Potter, executive secretary of the Associated Milk Dealers, said that the dealers here question whether a reduction in the price of milk could be effected by using the paper containers here. However, some are willing to use them for convenience, he said.

750 Detroit Excursionists Marooned on Island in Erie

Detroit, Mich., June 26.—(AP)—Seven hundred and fifty Detroit excursionists were marooned tonight on South Bass island in Lake Erie after the excursion steamer Put-in-Bay, which had left them there yesterday, broke its propeller, and a second vessel, commissioned to take them off the island, declined to do so because of heavy seas. The Put-in-Bay, which was to have returned to the island today for the excursionists, struck an obstruction and broke two blades of its propeller.

PEAK IS SCALED IN SEARCH FOR M'CORMICK BOY

Fate Still Concealed in Rugged Heights.

Albuquerque, N. M., June 26.—(AP)—Another fruitless day of search for John Medill McCormick was concluded tonight as the rocky heights of Sandia peak for the third successive day mocked efforts of hundreds of searchers to learn his fate.

Nearly 350 men, including some of the finest mountain climbing talent in the Rockies, were baffled by the boy's whereabouts, or whether he was dead or alive.

Indians Guide Searchers.

The searchers were augmented today by Sandia Indians to whom the mountain terrain is home, and a detachment of 115 CCC enrollees. One Indian was detailed to each of seven parties of searchers, and directors considered calling in a group of Navajos for additional help.

The search was spurred briefly late in the day by a report that what appeared to be McCormick's body had been sighted on the high face of the peak. It appeared another of many such false alarms, as a search party was seen through powerful glasses to reach the spot in question and go on down the peak.

The spot was approximately 700 feet above the rocks where Richard Whitmer, 20 years old, McCormick's climbing companion on an expedition that was started last Wednesday, was found dead, killed in a fall.

Get Reports by Radio.

Reports on the search were relayed to the base camp by field radio on the mountainside, which was swept by intermittent rainstorms late in the day, making climbing hazardous.

McCormick, 21 years old, is the son of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick Simms and the former United States Senator Medill McCormick, who died in 1925. His mother now is the wife of Albert G. Simms, an Albuquerque attorney and former congressman.

CHARGES AGAINST TWO DETECTIVES WILL BE DROPPED

Assistant State's Attorney William Crawford said yesterday that indictments charging Frank McKune and Earl Flannery, suspended Town Hall detectives, with conspiracy to commit an illegal act, will be dropped. The men are scheduled to go on trial before Judge Rudolph Desort today, but Crawford said the state will move to dismiss the indictments because the evidence would be the same as in a previous trial which resulted in their acquittal on June 13 on a charge of allowing prisoners to escape.

CAPTAIN O'NEILL OF U. OF W. WILL BE BAND JUDGE

Capt. Charles O'Neill, for 27 years director of music of the Royal 22d Regiment, Quebec, and at present professor of music at the University of Wisconsin, has been named chairman of the Chicagoland Music Festival band contests by Capt. Howard Stube, chairman of the instrumental competitions.

Capt. Charles O'Neill.

Capt. O'Neill, widely known as a conductor and composer, is famous as a judge of band contests. He is a graduate of the Royal School of Music in London, a former president of the American Bandmasters' association, and vice president of the Dominion College of Music in Montreal. For six consecutive years he has been judge of the national band contests in the United States.

With fifty other vocal and instrumental judges in the festival contests, Capt. O'Neill will be at the speakers' table at the second festival luncheon, to be held Friday, Aug. 19, in the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel. The festival concert will be held the following night in Soldiers' field.

Dayton, O., June 26.—[Special.]—The army is testing a Curtiss single seater fighter with two propellers which turn in opposite directions. The propellers are operated on two separate drive shafts, one within the other.

The arrangement is not new, as Francesco Agello, Italian flyer who holds the world's speed record with 426.5 miles an hour, used a plane similarly equipped to set his mark in 1933.

The main benefits gained from the oppositely rotating propellers are reduction in the diameter of the propellers for equal power and elimination of torque without loss of efficiency.

250 COLLEGIANS LEARNING HOW TO REPEL AIR RAIDS

The mysteries of anti-aircraft fire are being explored by 250 young men of the Reserve Officers' Training corps now undergoing their six weeks of field training at Fort Sheridan. The candidates for commissions in the United States army reserve arrived at the fort a week and a half ago and will be there until July 27.

The cadets come from coast artillery units at seven central west universities, the University of Illinois, Michigan State college, the University of Cincinnati, the University of Minnesota, Washington university, at St. Louis, Mo.; the University of Kansas, and Kansas State college.

Use Regular Regiment's Guns.

Maj. James B. Muir Jr., who commands the R. O. T. C. unit at the University of Illinois and who is one of the regular army officers instructing at the fort, explained that R. O. T. C. cadets of the coast artillery in this area devote most of their time to the study of anti-aircraft work. At the fort the cadets are using the equipment and guns of the 61st coast artillery regiment, regularly stationed there.

Reveille Blows at 5:45.

Reveille is blown at 5:45 a. m. Breakfast at 6:30 a. m. is followed by calisthenics and drill until 8:30 a. m. The balance of the morning and the afternoon is devoted to schooling in the use of anti-aircraft equipment and in general military tactics.

The cadets are divided into three batteries. Each battery will have had, by the end of the camp, seven periods of instruction in firing three inch anti-aircraft guns, and anti-aircraft machine guns, and in the operation of anti-aircraft searchlights.

KELLY TO ATTEND ST. LOUIS OPERA OPENING TONIGHT

Mayor Kelly will leave at noon today for a brief visit to St. Louis where he is to be the guest of Mayor Bernard F. Dickmann at the city's summer opera this evening.

He plans to take a midnight train from St. Louis to Springfield to be there tomorrow for conferences on the program for the closing days of the first special session of the legislature.

"I understand there will be some conferences," the mayor said last night, "but I shan't know what the situation is until I reach Springfield."

Cost of Living

Here the artist has compared the annual cost of living for a family of four in various cities. There is more than $300 difference between the high, Detroit, and the low, Mobile, Ala.

The highest and lowest cities for the cost of necessities.

Washington, D. C., June 26.—(AP)—It costs a laborer's family of four $317 less to live for a year in Mobile than it does in Detroit. These are the cities that stood at the top and bottom of a living cost study made in thirty cities by the WPA. The figures were drawn from March 15 prices compiled by the WPA and the bureau of labor statistics.

Living costs will play a part in the wage fixing that eventually will be done under the new wage and hour law.

Food costs were highest in New York and lowest in Memphis, Tenn. Expenditures for clothing were greatest in Cleveland, O., and lowest in Mobile. Housing was considerably more expensive in Washington than in any other city. Mobile was lowest in this expenditure.

DIES OF SKULL FRACTURE.

Paul Higgins, 57 years old, 804 North Wabash avenue, died yesterday in the County hospital of a skull fracture incurred in a manner unknown to police.

Dr. Peter C. Schenkelberger, 59 years old, physician who had practiced orthopedy in Chicago for many years, was killed yesterday afternoon in a plunge from the window of his office on the ninth floor of the Bell building at 307 North Michigan avenue. The body, in its fall, struck and shattered a street lamp in the lower level of South Water street.

Dr. Schenkelberger.

Dr. Clement W. K. Briggs, 1033 Loyola avenue, a physician with offices at 160 North La Salle street, told police that Dr. Schenkelberger called him at his home before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, saying:

"I'm tired of everything. Please notify my wife and daughter about this thing. They won't see me any more."

Dr. Schenkelberger was born at Winesburg, O. He was graduated at the Hahnemann Medical college in 1903 and later took advanced work in orthopedics at the clinic of Dr. Lorenz in Vienna. His internship was served in the Montreal Homeopathic hospital. He was a member of the American Medical association.

CIRCUS PACKS UP AFTER STRIKE TO GO BACK TO BASE

Scranton, Pa., June 26.—(AP)—The traditional code of the sawdust ring—"the show must go on"—went into discard today as the Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey circus packed up to move prematurely to winter quarters, its 1938 tour ended by a strike of 1,600 workers.

An agreement was signed late last night to return the show to Sarasota, Fla., by the circus' director, John Ringling North, and Ralph Whitehead, head of the American Federation of Actors. The union had refused to accept a 25 per cent cut of the contract wage scale which North said was necessary for the show to go on.

Under a baking sun the big top and other tents came down this afternoon as the canvas men and roustabouts went back to work, assured of contract wages until the equipment is stored for the season at Sarasota. Before they had finished a sudden storm interrupted work and the departure may be delayed until tomorrow.

HERE ARE FACTS ON AUTOMOBILE LIABILITY BILL

Measure Found Simple in Its Purposes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—A financial responsibility bill, expected to be enacted with a drivers' license law before the special session is ended here on Thursday night, is simple in its purposes but complicated in its methods of attaining these purposes. Its terms, covering sixteen printed pages, may bewilder many of the 2,700,000 Illinois drivers who will be concerned.

The main purpose of the financial responsibility act, as it is satisfactorily functioning in other states, is to curb recklessness inspired by a knowledge that the driver will not pay for any damages that his recklessness might cause.

Statement on Provisions.

A simple but incomplete statement of the provisions is this:

When a driver's license has been revoked for one of the more serious trafic offenses his driving license and his auto license are suspended until he establishes proof of his ability to pay for damages in any accident he might cause thereafter. When a motorist is convicted in a civil suit for damages resulting from an automobile accident, his licenses are suspended until the judgment is paid and he establishes proof of his financial responsibility should his carelessness cause a second accident.

The proposed law, as drafted, offers several means for establishing this proof. However as the law functions in other states, the usual method is to post a public liability insurance policy. The policy must cover $5,000 for the injury or death of any one person, $10,000 for the injury or death of more than one person, and $1,000 for property damage.

Insurance Not Compulsory.

This does not mean that public liability insurance is to be compulsory. Compulsory insurance has been tried in only one state, Massachusetts, and the results, according to reports, have not been satisfactory.

Under the financial responsibility law, insurance is not compulsory until after the motorist has been found guilty of carelessness in a civil suit or has been found guilty of one of the more serious trafic offenses in a criminal prosecution.

A motorist may elect to go without liability insurance, either because the premium would be a hardship or because he does little driving.

If this is his choice, which is permissible under the financial responsibility act, the law places a burden upon him to exercise more than ordinary care. He is restrained by a threat of losing his driving and car licenses for any serious trafic violation, or for any accident damages which he would be unable to pay.

The bill sets up qualifications of these provisions. For the vast majority of motorists, it is sufficient to know they must carry a so-called 5 and 10 insurance policy or they are in danger of being barred from the highways if, resorting to the vernacular, their driving gets them into a serious jam.

Stop in Chicago

Harry Hopkins and Mrs. James Roosevelt driving away from Union station in automobile yesterday.

Mrs. James Roosevelt, wife of President Roosevelt's eldest son and secretary, stopped in the city between trains yesterday on her way to Rochester, Minn., where her husband is to undergo treatment at the Mayo clinic for a gastric ulcer. She was accompanied by Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator.

Roosevelt has been in Rochester for the last five days. Hopkins and Mrs. Roosevelt were met at the train in the Union station by Howard Hunter, regional WPA director, and Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health.

RESORT COUNTRY ROADS CALL FOR CAREFUL DRIVING

BY HAL FOUST.

Wisconsin's trafic police yesterday warned city motorists of hazards peculiar to the lakes and woods country in the northern part of the state. From now until schools convene next fall thousands of Chicago automobiles will be cruising the winding highways and byways of this vacation land, with many of the drivers unfamiliar with conditions off pavements.

Clifford Guilday and John Brown, state patrolmen assigned to the Eagle river and Rhinelander district, cautioned that a carefree vacation must not include carelessness at the wheel. They advised that a safe mental attitude in driving these woods is imaginative, visualizing possible risks immediately ahead and constantly guarding against these possibilities.

Lesson Is Demonstrated.

In a tour of their territory with THE TRIBUNE road car and a photographer, the policeman demonstrated the meaning of their words. Their lesson is best told in pictures on the back page of this edition.

"You don't know what's on the other side of this hill," Brown said as we ascended a grade in wooded hills along the Wisconsin river near Rhinelander. "The radiator of a car may appear this instant at the crest and in the middle of the road. Sound your horn, reduce your speed, and keep to the right.

"That birch second growth hides any automobile that might be coming this way around that turn," the policeman continued when we had gone a few rods farther in the trail. "Imagine a car about to come around the turn and you'll be driving properly."

Danger Spots Pointed Out.

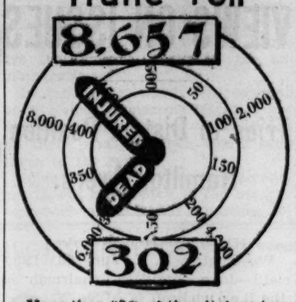
We drove to Jennie Weber lake, to Eagle river, to Cat Fish lake, and through tall forests to Butternut lake. Guilday pointed out narrow bridges with limited visibility on their approaches where a driver must be expectant of any trafic from the opposite direction. He took us over trails with short sight range where two cars could not pass safefly faster than ten miles an hour because the roadway was narrow and bordered by trees, ditches, or soft sand.

Glorious views of blue waters bordered by dense mixed woods were an invitation to stop for a few minutes where there was no place to park safely. Ditches wouldn't let the car off the road and there were hills or curves ahead and behind.

"The most important factor to bear in mind," said Policeman Guilday, "is that these roads are not built for the same speeds as might be safe on main routes in southern Wisconsin or in Illinois."

THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1938 Trafic Toll



More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

1 KILLED, 5 HURT WHEN AUTO HITS A SAFETY ISLAND

Mrs. Mary Stafin, 56 years old, 1516 Wabansia avenue, was killed and five other persons were injured last night when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a safety island in front of 2915 North Western avenue.

The injured are Edward Brod, 26, of 2916 North Hamlin avenue, driver of the car; two daughters of Mrs. Stafin, Catherine, 16, and Sylvia, 12; Miss Lottie Wiater, 29, and Steven Pliza, 28, all of 1516 Wabansia avenue.

John Tuttle Brown, 23 years old, 450 Belmont avenue, a credit department employé in a loop store, died last night in the John B. Murphy hospital of a skull fracture suffered yesterday forenoon when he was struck by a car in front of his home. The driver was Leon Rochlin, 17 years old, 900 Ainslie street, a delivery boy. He was charged with reckless driving and released on bond.

Mrs. Dorothy Smoother, 18 years old, colored, 4444 Evans avenue, was killed early today in an automobile collision at 58th street and Trumbull avenue. She was in a car driven by Walter Gardner, 24, also colored, 648 East 41st street, when it collided with one driven by Edward Pazak, 8900 Major avenue, Oak Lawn. Neither Gardner nor Pazak was hurt.

Six persons were injured, two of them critically, when three automobiles collided early yesterday at 67th street and Pulaski road. The most seriously injured are Miss Helen Sandra, 23 years old, of 1618 Cullerton street, and Peter Dumny, 21, of 1418 West 13th street, with whom she was riding.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 395 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 302 were killed in Chicago, where 8,657 were injured in the same period.

TOY BALLOONS EXPLODE; 100 CHILDREN HURT

VERSAILLES, France, June 26.—(AP)—More than 100 children were injured today when a stand where toy balloons were sold caught fire. The children were burned about the face and body and trampled in the panic following the explosion of the balloons, which set fire to the stand.

Police believed a lighted cigaret touched off the balloons.

A thousand children and their parents had assembled on the main streets where booths were set up as part of a celebration in honor of Lazare Hoche, one of Napoleon's generals.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

A STORY A DAY

By CALEB

"AND THAT is our story in dresses for the coming week."

Again and again in our store discussions the word "story" appears—for this is a business full of stories. Merchandising has always been a romantic calling. Those who think of the merchant's life as humdrum and cloistered are far from the mark.

Back to the dawn of history merchants have always been adventurers. Success in merchandising has always been dependent upon the ability to seek out and purchase useful, exotic, unique or sumptuous merchandise beyond all comparison.

In the olden days merchants often were among the company with explorers. They always followed closely upon the heels of discovery, penetrating quickly into new countries to discover and return in triumph with their finest produce. Christopher Columbus setting off across an uncharted and fearsome ocean did so with a merchant's errand in mind. He wanted to find a water route by which to reach India and its supply of silks, spices and fine goods.

In the days of '49 when mining towns sprang up like mushrooms in the new gold country, a peddler with pack mule and wagon appeared with the first prospectors, and the general store was usually among the first buildings to go up.

Merchandising today is still as adventurous, thrilling and absorbing as it was when Marco Polo fared forth. Some of our buyers today follow the self-same routes that have led merchants to markets for a thousand years or more.

But wherever they go—to ancient village or modern mart—the things they buy breathe stories: alive, absorbing, colorful. A fascinating human story is woven into the colors of an oriental rug. Fabrics, woods, books, china, glass—all tell their story. Even such mundane articles as handkerchiefs and luggage come to us with the faint aroma of some far-off land, some story to shower glamour on their making.

How then can merchandising be humdrum or dull? Passing through the store it is easy to sense that most of us are keenly aware of and absorbed in this fascinating side of our work.

L. H. M'CORMICK WIDOW DEAD IN SANTA BARBARA

Noted Humanitarian, Art Collector and Hostess.

Mrs. Constance Plummer McCormick of Chicago, widow of Leander Hamilton McCormick, died yesterday of a heart attack in the home of her son, Alister, in Santa Barbara, Cal., according to word received here. Mrs. McCormick, who was 73 years old, had been in poor health for some time. She had undergone an operation last February in the Presbyterian hospital.

After the operation she was taken to her son's Santa Barbara home to recuperate. She failed to rally, however, and six weeks ago her two other surviving sons, Leander J. and Edward Hamilton McCormick, both of whom live in England, were summoned.

Native of England.

Mrs. McCormick was born in Canterbury, England, in 1865. She was married in Chicago in 1887 to Mr. McCormick, author and inventor and a member of the famous harvester family. [Mr. McCormick's grandfather was Robert McCormick, on whose Virginia farm the first model of the reaper was tried out before the civil war.] Mr. and Mrs. McCormick lived in England until 1917, then came to Chicago and settled permanently in the venerable McCormick mansion at 631 Rush street.

In the spacious house Mrs. McCormick assumed her duties as one of the city's social leaders. The ballroom of the old home, one of the largest private ballrooms in the city, was the scene of innumerable receptions for visiting nobility and celebrities. She herself was a chevalier of the French legion of honor, an honor conferred by the French government.

The old home's notable art collection was largely the result of Mrs. McCormick's interest in art treasures. During their long stay in England and on the continent after their marriage she aided her husband in selecting valuable art pieces.

Leased Famous Mansion.

Shortly after her husband's death in 1934 Mrs. McCormick moved to the Drake Tower apartments, 179 East Lake Shore drive, where she lived with her nephew, Stephen Plummer, and his wife. The mansion at 631 Rush street became a night club and is now a restaurant.

Mrs. McCormick was a member of various humanitarian organizations, and at the time of her death was president of the woman's board of the Presbyterian hospital, and a director of the Children's Memorial hospital. She also was president of the Alliance Française, a life member of the Chicago Opera company, and a member of the Fortnightly, Casino, and Saddle and Cycle clubs. In 1921 she was chairman of the social committee of the Chicago Historical society.

Besides her three sons she is survived by five brothers and four sisters, all residing in England. Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning in Santa Barbara. Her body then will be taken to Miami, Fla., for burial beside her husband.

G. O. P. CHAIRMAN HITS ROOSEVELT VIEWS ON ISSUES

Tries to Distort Position, Hamilton Avers.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—John Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, denied today the truth of President Roosevelt's charge in his Friday night fireside chat that the Republicans would repeal social security and stock exchange legislation, go back to the old gold standard, and give free rein to monopolies.

John Hamilton.

"I cannot let Mr. Roosevelt undertake to define the issues which separate the Republican and New Deal parties, especially since he undertakes to distort the position of his opposition," said Mr. Hamilton. "Mr. Roosevelt may define his party as he will, but he cannot accurately say that 'the opposing or conservative school of thought, as a general proposition, does not recognize the need for government itself to step in and take action to meet these new problems.'

Points to Record.

"In neither the Republican platform of 1936 nor in the course pursued by a majority of Republicans of the house and senate during the last two years can any evidence be found that the Republican party has advocated repeal of old age pensions, unemployment insurance, or the securities or exchange act.

"Republican efforts have been aimed at improving and making more workable these undertakings. The Republican position on old age pensions and unemployment insurance coincides with the present views of the original sponsors of that legislation.

"As for monopolies, the Republican platform two years ago declared that 'a private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable' and added that 'we favor the vigorous enforcement of the criminal laws as well as the civil laws against monopolies and trusts and their officials, and we demand the enactment of such additional legislation as is necessary to make it impossible for private monopoly to exist in the United States.'

Recalls Ill-Fated NRA.

"What has the Roosevelt administration done, beyond talking, to curb monopolistic practices? Actually it blessed and legalized through the NRA many of the monopolistic practices outlawed by Republicans, who gave the country its first anti-trust legislation.

"If Mr. Roosevelt had wished accurately to state the line of demarcation between the New Deal and Republican parties he would have pointed out that the Republicans have fought his reckless experimentation, his effort to subject the nation's agriculture, industry and labor to burocratic domination, his policies of punitive taxation which strangle business, his reckless spending and indifference to national solvency by incurring a breathtaking debt, his creation of widespread fear by unnecessary and futile monetary tinkering and threats of inflation, his disregard of the fundamenta' principles of the American form of government, his effort to pack the Supreme court—in which he was defeated—and the constant harassment by word and deed of legitimate business by himself and his left wing advisers.

Studies New Problems.

"In brief, the conservative opposition to the New Deal of which Mr. Roosevelt spoke is not adverse to meeting new problems of today, however, in the light of the practical experience of mankind and within the framework of the American constitution and form of government. A conservative knows, by mankind's experience, that one stepping out of a six story window will fall to the ground. A New Dealer stubbornly insists such a person will ascend to to the skies because he proposes to repeal the law of gravity."

This misrepresentation of the Republican position by the President, said Mr. Hamilton, is the first of those "mean blows" that Mr. Roosevelt predicted would be struck in this contest.

"I hope," the Republican chairman added, "we will have no more 'mean blows' during this campaign, because as Mr. Roosevelt so aptly recalled, 'the man who strikes first admits that his ideas have given out.' For our part, we shall meet 'mean blows,' misrepresentation, personal attack, and appeals to prejudice with facts taken from the record. The record will be sufficient. 'Mean blows' on our part will not be necessary."

PRESIDENT EYES 1940 IN DRIVE TO STRENGTHEN GRIP

Convention Control Vital to His Regime.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt intended his Friday night fireside chat to be the opening gun of the 1940 battle for control of the party, in the opinion of most Democratic leaders regardless of faction.

In raising aloft the liberal banner and proclaiming a holy war on the conservative Democrats who have differed with him, Mr. Roosevelt is viewed as assuming the leadership of the drive to perpetuate his policies under the guidance either of himself for a third term or a President of his choice.

In this struggle the Democratic primaries in the congressional elections this year are a highly important, if not a vital, factor. In each state and congressional district the Democratic faction that wins the primary will acquire a commanding voice in the naming of delegates to the 1940 Democratic national convention.

Seeks Popular Vindication.

If in these primaries Mr. Roosevelt succeeds in purging his party of the Democratic candidates who flouted his will in his effort to pack the Supreme court and in other matters, and if he wins a new congress controled by his faction of the Democratic party he will have abundant reason to consider himself in receipt of another impressive popular vindication.

Under such circumstances the President would be in a position to drive through the bill conferring dictatorial power upon him to reorganize the government which was defeated by a Democratic revolt in the last session and to round out the remainder of his program of political, social, and economic innovations. Furthermore, he would be in a well nigh impregnable position for dictating the 1940 Democratic nomination for President.

If the President should succeed in controling the 1940 nomination, the nominee, of course, will be himself or a left wing Democratic candidate acceptable to him. That he regards his own nomination for a third term well within the range of possibilities few Democrats dispute. At any rate he never has closed the door to a third term nomination.

Threatened by Conservatives.

If Mr. Roosevelt should lose the Democratic primaries into which he has projected himself and should lose control of the congress to be elected in November, the conservative Democrats would be in the ascendant and his own faction would be forced upon the defensive. Roosevelt policies would be halted in congress. The conservative Democrats would be in a position to threaten Mr. Roosevelt's control of the 1940 convention. They might in the end succeed in forcing the nomination of an anti-Roosevelt man or at least a middle of the road Democrat.

With 1940 crucial to the administration and 1938 crucial to 1940, Democratic leaders were not surprised by the political tinge of the Friday night fireside chat. Nothing short of the vital considerations of 1940, in their opinion, would have impelled Mr. Roosevelt to drop the mask of professed aloofness from the factional contests in the Democratic primaries. His speech to political ears rang with the confession that it is now a case of sink or swim for his administration.

Conservatives May Bolt.

If the President wins the whip hand in 1940 and renominates himself or names a left winger as the candidate, the conservative Democrats undoubtedly will bolt the ticket either formally or informally. The result would be a conservative Democratic coalition, formal or informal with the Republicans. If the conservative Democratic faction bests Mr. Roosevelt he will be confronted with the choice of accepting the nominee or bolting to lead a third party.

Nomination of a conservative Democrat would be likely to precipitate a left wing bolt to a third party, whether under the leadership of Mr. Roosevelt or John L. Lewis or some other protagonist of revolt. Lewis is preparing for such an eventuality with his C. I. O., his labor's nonpartisan league, the New York Labor party and the Farmer-Laborites of the northwest looming up as the potential building blocks of his political edifice.

PREDICT 150,000 VOTES TODAY IN HIGH COURT RACE

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—Voters of the third Supreme court district will go to the polls in sixteen central Illinois counties tomorrow to choose between Judge Joseph L. McLaughlin of Sullivan, a Democrat, and Attorney Walter T. Gunn of Danville, a Republican, to serve the unexpired term of the late Justice Lott R. Herrick of Farmer City.

Much interest has been manifested in the race because of its bearing on the fall election. Estimates are that almost 150,000 voters will cast ballots.

Those who predict a close vote point to the fact that the total Democratic vote in the April primaries was only 6,437 greater than the total Republican vote, the count being 125,408 Democratic and 118,971 Republican.

Although the campaign has been spirited, neither side expects more than 60 per cent of the total primary vote of 244,379 to come out tomorrow. The Republicans were making strenuous last minute efforts today to bring their people to the polls to match the unexpected surge of Democratic employés and workers.

SOUTHERN WPA WORKERS TO GET $5 PAY BOOST

Washington, D. C., June 26.—(AP)—The Works Progress administration ordered today pay increases averaging about five dollars a month for all WPA workers in 13 states, mainly in the south. The WPA estimated that 500,000 in the lowest wage brackets would benefit.

The states are North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Kentucky, Florida, Arkansas, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Tennessee, Mississippi, Texas and Oklahoma. Administrator Harry L. Hopkins said the new scale meant that no WPA worker would receive less than a dollar a day in any region.

ISSUE OF RELIEF HOLDS STAGE AS SESSION WANES

Senate Caucus to Scan Truce Terms.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—Two concurrent special sessions of the legislature are moving toward sine die adjournment at 12 o'clock Thursday night. The final four days, like the closing innings of a tight baseball game, are tense with possibilities.

On the senate side of the capitol tomorrow night will be a Democratic caucus to determine whether the majority party will accept the truce terms agreed on by some of its leaders in the perennial quarrel between the Horner-Courtney and the Nash-Kelly factions. Mayor Kelly is expected here tomorrow. His principal interest is relief.

The armistice agreement in the house calls for $5,300,000 more to be appropriated for relief, $2,800,000 from the state treasury and $2,500,000 from the city's share of the gasoline tax revenue.

Gov. Horner will be anxious about this caucus, since his faction will be in the minority and the outcome may determine the fate of two tax bills to bolster the state budget from the strain of the relief appropriations.

A producers' tax to collect a 3 per cent levy from occupations now exempt from the sales tax and a use tax to collect 3 per cent from purchases outside Illinois on property to be used in occupations within Illinois, are the imposts sought by the administration.

In the house, which will convene at 9 o'clock tomorrow night, these new taxes are scheduled for a roll call on their passage, which would send them to the senate.

Some possibility exists that amendments will be adopted to the use tax—probably when and if it reaches the senate—exempting from its provisions those products which cannot be purchased in Illinois.

Utility companies, it was reported, have told S. L. Nudelman, director of finance, that they could not, for example, purchase generators, copper wire, and other necessary equipment in the state and feel they should not be penalized for their inability to buy Illinois products.

MR. ROOSEVELT AND THE PURGE.

Mr. Roosevelt in his fireside chat said that not as President but as head of the Democratic party he would take sides in the party primaries when his principles and his name were at stake. He would not, he said, oppose a liberal candidate who "had conscientiously differed from me on any single issue."

This denial of the purge does not agree with what has happened or what is planned. There was much sophistry in the speech. Mr. Roosevelt tried to convey the impression that he was not saying exactly what he was saying, as when he pleaded for argument without blows while he slipped over a few punches to the chins of his favorite economic royalists.

Mr. Roosevelt spoke as the fuehrer. His opinions must be the party opinions and through the dominance of his party be made the national opinions. Nonconformity is not permissible. It is not allowed within the party. Opposition, whether within or outside the party, is stigmatized as unworthy, ignoble, and unpatriotic. No one who does not accept Mr. Roosevelt's program is to be regarded as well intentioned or worthy of respect.

He spoke of democracy, independence, freedom of opinion, of religion, and the press, but without modifying his obvious idea of personal government which will always be right and cannot be opposed. The only defect he found in his government was that once or twice it had put too much trust in untrustworthy persons. Five years ago he wasn't very much in favor of freedom, particularly of the press, when he tried to license newspapers under a code and when his NRA administrator was cracking down on all protests.

Mr. Roosevelt intends to have no one in the Democratic party who will not support the legislation he proposes, follow him without criticism in any course of action he takes, and agree with him that when word goes out of the White House it is imperative. The speech will not give a Democratic congressman who was independent and used his own mind any sense of security in his campaign for reëlection. Senator Guy Gillette of Iowa was a pretty thoroughgoing New Dealer on his record of supporting Mr. Roosevelt, but he was on the blacklist because he opposed the court packing plan. That was his one great offense and it was an unforgivable sin. The White House tried to beat him in retaliation. He "had conscientiously differed with me" on a single issue, which was whether the United States should keep its democratic and constitutional form of government.

The other senators on the blacklist will get the same treatment. And now it is apparent that members of the house of representatives will be put through the purge. The White House storm troopers, James Roosevelt and Tom Corcoran, have picked young William E. Dodd Jr. to run against Congressman Howard W. Smith of Virginia because Smith has been too independent. It may be ridiculous, but it reveals intentions.

Mr. Roosevelt indicates that there is no place in his party for any one who is not a 100 per cent planned society New Dealer. The conservatives are out. The purge is to get them and there will be only Hitler yes men or Stalin communists. The federal spending and lending campaign is just being started to run along with the political campaign. The opposition must bent five billion dollars. Such men as Glass, Byrd, Burke, Wheeler, Garner, and all others, whether in the senate or house, who defeated the court bill and the reorganization bill are to be run out of the party.

THE NEGLECTED WEST SIDE.

The Public Works administration in Washington has agreed to assist Chicago in extending Wacker drive east from Michigan avenue to the Outer drive. PWA will supply 1¼ million dollars and the city 1¾ millions for the project.

There can be no doubt that the completion of Wacker drive will be a boon to motorists of the north shore suburbs and the north and south sides of the city. It will save them time and nervous energy in their journeys to and from the loop. The improvement will bring to completion an important element in the outgrown city plan and in so doing will emphasize again the northward trend of the community.

But once more the west side has been forgotten, though it is through the west side that the need for modern motor highways today is greatest. There is only one practical method of solving that trafic problem: the construction of elevated highways which would eliminate at once most of the motor accidents and most of the congestion. For reasons of jealousy and stubbornness, which are discreditable to all concerned, the west side elevated highways have not been built.

Valuable as the Wacker drive extension will be to those in a position to benefit from it, the west side improvements would prove of far greater value to the community as a whole. The west side has been neglected and in fairness should have been given first consideration.

A SCHEME TO BETRAY ILLINOIS.

The constitution of Illinois provides that a constitutional convention may be called in the state only if a majority of the citizens voting in the election at which the issue is presented to them approve the proposal.

This is a common sense provision. The constitution is the fundamental law of the state. In it the rights of the citizens to freedom of speech, freedom of religion, and kindred liberties are defined and guaranteed. There should be no possibility of whittling away these rights unless the people unmistakably express a demand for constitutional revision.

A voter who expresses a choice among candidates for office but does not express an opinion about the calling of a convention is now counted for all practical purposes as opposing the call, and this is exactly as it should be. The constitution should be subjected to revision only if, affirmatively and clearly, the majority of citizens favor the proposal.

Two bills have been introduced in the special session at Springfield which are intended to circumvent the present wise provisions of the constitution. The trick is to make a vote in the party circle count as a vote for holding the convention. At their party conventions the party bosses are to pass on the question of revising the constitution. If the back room boys favor the proposal then a vote in the party circle at the subsequent election will be counted as a vote for the convention.

It will be relatively easy to induce a majority of the professional politicians of the state to favor a convention because a convention means to them the spending of money and the exercise of power. As these same politicians control the bossed vote of the state, and as the bossed vote is instructed to place a cross in the party circle, the enactment of the bills now pending would open the door wide to constant meddling with the fundamental law of the state.

The people of Illinois do not want that. There is no widespread demand now for a constitutional convention, not to mention a succession of them. The scheme will be hailed, of course, by those who wish to overthrow the government, for it will enable them to do by stealth what they otherwise would have to do by violence; but these revolutionaries, though noisy, constitute only a negligible proportion of the whole population.

The vast majority of the voters of Illinois are not dissatisfied with the present constitution, as they have shown repeatedly in refusing to indorse proposals for amendment. The amendment of particular clauses of the constitution, if amendment is desired, can be accomplished readily enough if the people are so disposed. No good and much harm can flow from a scheme to enable the political bosses to call a constitutional convention whenever they calculate it is to their interest to do so.

A BIG MAN FOR A BIG JOB.

A committee of eminent physicians in Chicago, selected by the Institute of Medicine after a painstaking survey of available men, recommended Dr. Benjamin W. Black for the wardenship of the Cook County hospital. The finding was reviewed by the Citizens' advisory council and heartily approved. The county board displayed excellent judgment in promptly indorsing the selection. Dr. Black was formally offered the appointment.

Dr. Black is at present health director of Alameda county [Oakland], Cal. The position he holds is an important one, his tenure is secure, and he is naturally reluctant to give it up before he has any assurance that the post offered him will be at least equally attractive. Fortunately a way out of the difficulty seems to have been found. The officials in Oakland are reported disposed to grant Dr. Black a year's leave of absence, without pay, during which he might come to Chicago. If at the end of the period he chose to remain here he could then resign his California position. Otherwise he could return to it.

This solution would be an admirable one for all concerned, and in particular for the 60,000 men, women, and children who each year are patients at the County hospital. Dr. Black is recognized as a hospital administrator of the first rank. Part of his medical training was received at the Cook County hospital. He has been an officer of the United States Public Health service and has an enviable record as executive head of veterans' hospitals. He is believed to be better qualified than any other man in the country to manage the largest charitable hospital in the world.

Chicago will have reason to be grateful to the officials of Alameda county if they make it easy for Dr. Black to accept the appointment here.

Editorial of the Day

RECOVERY BY SCRIP.

[Des Moines Register.]

Bergenfield, N. J., experimented a year ago with the Townsend recovery plan and today has three-quarters of 1 per cent of its original fund left as the sole evidence of the system's self-perpetuating ability.

Under the auspices of the Bergenfield Townsend club, raffle tickets were sold to raise a $200 "revolving fund." This was turned over by lot to a man who was to spend it—in the form of specially printed Townsend scrip—within a month. Each transaction was to be taxed 2 per cent to recreate the fund. Then a new pensioner was to be chosen to re-spend the same amount.

The first pensioner got rid of the sum quickly enough. It was all gone in twelve days. But the tax had raised only $21.40. This revenue was swelled to $26.40 by a bank, which purchased five of the scrip certificates for its odd currency collection. The deficit then stood at $173.60. But expenses, such as hiring the hall for the raffle, printing the scrip, and a few other minor items took $14.90 more, bringing the deficit to $188.50 and leaving $1.50 of the original $200 on deposit to start the second revolution.

Most of the supporters of the plan were thoroughly "unsold" on it by the outcome of the experiment. Some complained that Bergenfield merchants had refused to coöperate and had held the scrip in their tills, preventing rapid circulation. Sponsors had expected them to be anxious to pass it along so as to get rid of it.

One man feels fairly friendly to the system—the one who drew the lucky number the first time—but even he has a kick to register. He says the winning of the prize in that one raffle has made him a "sucker" for all kinds of raffle tickets, and he hasn't won anything since!

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

FROM STORM AND DARK.

When winds like cavalcades of fear
Sweep down the dark and earth is shaken
By their tumult, from her dreams
It is the woman who will waken.

She will softly rise and lean
Anxious lest their sleep be marred,
Careful of their warmth and cover.

She will listen at the stair
To mark if all be well, and tighten
Blind and sash against the swarms
That fiercely fill the night and frighten.

O she will learn from storm and dark
How deep her love for dear ones sleeping
Before she turns to rest again

Wash Day in the Ozarks.

Wash day here in the Ozark mountains would be one of your happiest days. Your first duty is to light a wood fire between those two big stones in the back yard! Then clear, ice-cold rainwater is drawn up from the cistern, the pulley creaking musically as the cool, wet chain is guided through your fingers. The wash boiler is quickly filled and lifted on the stones over the rousing fire! Next a generous amount of Ma Perkins' famous soap powder is poured in and stirred vigorously. Into this cold suds go sheets, pillow cases, lunch cloths, all the "white things." The boiler lid is clamped down, the fire poked, and wash day is off to a good start!

When the contents of the boiler bubble the clothes are lifted out and carried to the tub under the tall hickory tree for the lazy rubbing which will bring out the last hint of soil. Another stick of seasoned oak wood is put on the fire, and another boilerful of clothes is put to simmering.

You say you're going to hurry this washing, but, shucks, no one ever hurries in the Ozarks! You watch the sun rise higher and higher over the mountain top, glinting at last on the stones of the old well where Jesse James used to stop and water his tired horse.

You watch the sheep go down the lane to pasture in the north forty, the Shropshire lambs as fleecy and white as the puffy white clouds in the azure sky overhead. You happily note that the Scotch sheep bells, each tuned to a different pitch so the shepherd can distinguish different bell-sheep, make an off-stage accompaniment to the brilliant performance of the mocking bird doing his routine in the treetop above you. Just for fun you count his imitations, 13 in all, including the cardinal, the wren, the robin's rain song, the mourning dove, the bluejay, the squirrel's chatter, and something that sounds like "Pretty Girl" (the flatterer!).

Almost before you know it it's time to hang the clothes in the glorious midmorning sunshine, their clean, fresh fragrance akin to that of the pink and white honeysuckle at the gate arch, and the sweet winey odor of wild grape blossoms along the lane! You look upward as you put a snowy sheet on the line, glimpsing those hazy, high wooded ridges far in the distance, and into your mind come the words: "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. . . ."

Pity those city women who do their washing by pushing a button in the basement!

Chicagoans interested in neat-northsidiana—particularly advertising copy writers—are discussing Allis McKay's "Woman About Town." Miss McKay, who was a Chicago advertising artist, writes friends from Seattle, where she is now living, trailing off a little wistfully in one letter that Chicago is the only city that has a front yard, as she terms the brave strip of greenery along the lake. As one near north sider phrased it: Her book brings back memories . . the days when the Dill Pickle club was going strong . . . when young lads like Zack Moseley were studying under Carey Orr, laying the background of knowledge that helps now in the producing of "Smilin' Jack," ace of flyers; when Allis was working night and day at her so-interesting job mourning the novel she wanted to write but could never find time for. . . The near north side has had the faculty of laying the groundwork for a number of people who have made the grade. And in doing so left an indelible footprint in their memories. . . .

FIRST AID IN BROKEN BONES.

WE hear a great deal about the passing of the old family doctor—that essential member of society who was father confessor, counselor, and friend to all. But the fine professional type of a few generations ago would be at a loss to fit himself into many communities today. The reason is that the practice of medicine has changed so abruptly. The same requirements for skilled care and an understanding attitude remain, but typhoid and diphtheria have vanished, or largely so, and in their places have come ailments characteristic of our fast moving civilization. Trafic, for example, demands a far greater knowledge of the treatment of fractures than was necessary even a quarter of a century ago. Happily, most medical men have met the situation by becoming thoroughly familiar with the correct management of our highway tragedies.

But here is a serious difficulty. Improper first aid frequently does more harm than the original mishap. The tendency of those who wish to assist is to help the victim to his feet, whereupon he may fail, tearing nerves, muscles, and blood vessels. Those lending a hand may not be entirely at fault, however, as the patient himself may try to use an injured limb, thereby increasing the hazard—displacing fragments of bone. Any one thrown to the ground violently should be assumed to have suffered a fracture until it is proved otherwise.

There is only one safe rule for those who arrive early on the scene—do not attempt to straighten any part of the body that looks crooked or out of place. Do not lift the patient to move him to an adjacent store or home should a broken bone be suspected until the affected area has been fixed firmly with splints and bandage. Unless this is done, carrying him, even for a short distance, may work irreparable damage.

How many fractures occur in the United States each year? Nearly one and one-half million, and of these one-fifth are of the extremities. William Darrach of New York has estimated that with proper initial aid $100 per patient could be saved in the cost of medical care.

It is perhaps unfortunate that every injury cannot be handled immediately by a physician. As a rule, those who are first on the scene are bystanders, passing motorists, and local or highway police, many of whom understand what to do for wounds, but who are not so well trained in handling a broken limb. The point that must be insisted upon is fixation—splinting—which should be accomplished exactly where the patient lies. Some localities are providing emergency splints, available at central points, so that they can be brought to the site of a smash-up quickly.

Let us assume that some one has sustained a fractured leg. He has been thrown from his car and is lying by the side of the road. If a regular splint is not obtainable the thing to do is to secure at once two or three narrow strips of wood, such as fence pickets. Pad the sticks with handkerchiefs or some material to avoid pressure. One may be placed on the limb and one on each side. All are tied tightly in place over the clothing with neckties or clothesline rope. The individual should be kept warm in the meantime, and after everything is "shipshape" he may be transferred as deftly as possible to a bed made of clothing on the back seat of a car. Even a pillow tied about a leg serves as a satisfactory safeguard. All bandages should be sufficiently snug so that jarring will not be felt.

As a rule, involvement of the upper extremities—wrists, elbow, or upper arm—will be less troublesome, as these patients can walk. If multiple fractures have been sustained each should be immobilized before transportation is undertaken. No needless delay should be tolerated, and it is wise to place the victim in the nearest hospital as soon as possible, as shock, that peculiar nervous reaction, may threaten life. If unconsciousness is present the gentlest handling should be practiced, inasmuch as the patient cannot protest.

VARIETY OF CAUSES.

J. K. K. writes: I have a right antrum infection and I ache and am stiff in neck and shoulders. My eyes itch and there is a slight eyeball hardening. I am 64 years old. Are all these disorders related to each other?

REPLY.

It is quite possible that the rheumatic signs in the neck and shoulders are due directly to your infection. The chances are, however, that the hardening of the eyeball has some other cause. A focus of disease which lowers resistance is bound to be followed by numerous complaints.

BATHING MAY HELP.

A. B. C. writes: I have had whiteheads on my face since early youth. My father also had them. Are they hereditary? Is the diet a factor? Can you suggest treatment?

REPLY.

With some persons the sebaceous [oil] glands in the skin are overactive. When the outlet ducts are plugged blackheads result. The condition may very well be hereditary, but excessive oil intake, internally and externally, should be avoided. Scrupulous cleanliness and the use of diluted alcohol on the face after bathing may help.

FOR FALLING HAIR.

E. Z. writes: I am losing my hair rapidly. Can anything be done to prevent this loss?

REPLY.

Shampoo the hair twice weekly with tincture of green soap. Dry thoroughly and massage the scalp vigorously. Ultraviolet or direct sunlight may then be used. Many physicians advise sulphur [ointments or lotions]. Occasionally endocrine gland extracts are helpful. Consult your family doctor about this possibility.

CAN AFFECT BODY.

J. A. writes: Can ringworm attack other parts of the body than the toes? What does it look like?

REPLY.

In addition to appearing as inflamed scaly areas between the toes, or whitish thickenings about the nails, the fungus may cause watery blisters or vesicles on the soles of the feet and on the palms of the hands. Eventually the skin breaks loose in patches. No part of the body is exempt.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN.—The Nazi Women's Welfare organization has announced the creation of new "Reich Bridal Schools." They will be erected for the purpose of teaching the bride-to-be the rudiments of married life. The first schools for brides were opened in Germany after the Schutz Staffel [hand picked guards] ruled that its members only may marry girls who have had thorough training in these institutions.

The newest bridal school was opened on Mother's day in Schwanenwerder near Berlin, where twenty-five girls registered for the six weeks' course. It includes cooking, sewing, housekeeping, care of babies, nursing, and instruction in all the fundamentals necessary to insure a successful marriage as well as the teaching of Nazi philosophy.

"The bride of today is the mother of tomorrow," leaders of the brides' schools said. With German mothers being trained in the various organizations of the "Reich Mothers' Service," more attention is being paid to mothers-to-be.

Girls enrolled in the courses live in a two-room flat of the type which can be rented with the help of the maximum marriage loan of $400.

The complete course costs $48. Those entitled to receive a marriage loan receive $40 with which to pay the greater part of the fee. This loan, the organization said, need not be repaid.

In addition to the school opened near Berlin, another is nearing completion in Thuringia, while plans are being pushed for the construction of more such institutions.

"There will be one school to every province for the time being," welfare organization leaders said. "We hope that some day there will be a brides' school for every large city in Germany."

Meanwhile teachers in German "housekeeping schools" are being exhorted to "arouse economic thinking" among their pupils and teach them to adapt themselves to Germany's food shortages.

"Pupils must learn to think economically and to recognize the connection between housekeeping and national economy," leaders of the Teachers' union said. "Your courses must be adapted to the present needs and adjusted to the condition of the market."

The difficulties which German housewives encounter in working with "ersatz" [substitute] foods and materials are clearly reflected in these instructions.

"These girls must develop the strength and the will to subordinate themselves to the four year plan," teachers were told. "They must be taught how to help their families and acquaintances to learn the value of synthetic materials and the treatment of present day foodstuffs."

DECEASED'S REMAINS.

Chicago, June 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—When a man who is married passes away [1] who has the right to the remains, the wife or the mother? I have been told that a case of this kind has been tried in the Illinois courts and [2] the mother was given the right to her son's body on the ground that [3] written in the marriage contract, [4] as well as in the Bible, are these words, "They are man and wife until death do them part." I am presuming that after death the body should and can be claimed by the mother, [5] who naturally loves him more than any one else in the world. R. A. C.

1. In 17 C. J. 1139, it is stated "Upon the death of a married person, the surviving spouse has the paramount right as to the custody of the remains of the deceased and its burial."
2. We know of no such case.
3. This is not true in the ordinary case.
4. We are not clear as to such wording in the Bible, but even if there is such wording, it would not control.
5. Opinion and cases would differ on this point.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

PROBATE FOR TITLE.

Chicago, June 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I'd like some advice on selling a two flat building. There are five living children, all married and of age.

1. Does it have to go through probate, as there was no will, and, if so, what does that cost, and [2] how should we go about it?
3. How long will it take? The property was in my mother's and father's name before their death. If one of the children decided to buy it [4] does that make any difference, and [5] how soon could it be sold?
6. Should it be settled after six years? I am a widow. M. H.

1. Probate will be necessary in order to produce a title which a contract purchaser would be forced to accept.
2. Employ an attorney.
3. Creditors are allowed a year in which to file their claims, and ordinarily the estate is closed after the expiration of that year.
4. Not unless it means that the child will be willing to waive probate.
5. See preceding answers.
6. Same.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

WITNESSING WILL.

Chicago, June 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Can an attorney who drew up a will with his secretary sign the will as witness?

2. Does will have to be signed by witnesses in presence of parties making will?
3. The attorney who drew up the will died. Will that have any bearing on the contesting of will?
4. Can a bequest be made to executor to make statement of money on hand and expenses paid?
5. Will the executor be compelled to fulfill bequests made to party making will and fully dated and signed?
6. Is there any special time a contest can be made after will has been probated? A. S. R.

1. Yes.
2. The testator and witnesses should sign in one another's presence.
3. If a witness has died proof of his handwriting would be enough.
4. We do not understand the question.
5. In general it is the executor's duty to carry out the will, if that is what you mean to ask.
6. Yes, contest must be started within a year of commencement of probate proceedings.

OUR CITY HALL.

Chicago, June 24.—Writing this letter pains me as much as I hope it does you.

After traveling all over the United States I finally arrived in the city of my dreams and, as usual, I wanted to see the city hall of Chicago first. Now I don't like to say this, but after being in more than fifty city halls in these United States and finding them all beautiful and well kept buildings, you can imagine my horrible disappointment in seeing yours for the first time. Of all the unkempt, filthy looking buildings, this was the worst. Venders everywhere, sloppy looking elevators and elevator attendants, papers and candy wrappings strewn all over the floor and, of course, I also would have the misfortune to ask a few questions and receive gruff and uncivil answers.

Why, will you tell me, does the beautiful city of Chicago have such an unsightly building representing it? The city, I am sure, has plenty of idle men looking for work. Why not have a few clean up the mess. Also take the venders out and let people go out to buy their candy and fruit.

A DISILLUSIONED VISITOR.

HOAGLUND-ALLUM LOOTERS.

Chicago, June 23.—THE TRIBUNE commented editorially on the Milwaukee miscarriage of justice and we wondered if it would do so regarding the latest local travesty. I refer to the sentence imposed on the officials of the defunct Hoaglund & Allum company. Seven hundred thousand dollars was their loot; prison, for perhaps only eleven months at taxpayers' expense, their penalty. The lesson for embryo crooks might well be: "Do not be a piker. Steal a million and get a year or so; rob a till of a few dollars and draw a year to life!" Such justice as meted out to these embezzlers begets nothing but distrust and disgust with our judiciary. While the three thieves plan how they will enjoy their ill-gotten wealth after a year, their victims walk the streets looking for jobs or seek relief from the state. No wonder "radicals" grow in number.

JAMES A. MOAN.

ANOTHER BOY PROBLEM.

Chicago, June 23.—Can't you assist the motormen and those riding our surface lines in this city to prevent boys from hanging on the back of cars? It seems strange the police cannot be given authority to arrest such boys.

The motormen now have more work than enough to collect fares without having to run to the back of the car, slowing up trafic, and hindering those trying to get to work on time. I am speaking especially of the 61st street line, as I use that line four times a day. L. BARNES.

"LISTEN, KIDS."

Chicago, June 22.—I have always found it interesting to read Ed Sullivan's column "Looking at Hollywood."

However, his column under date of June 21, headed "Listen Kids," is one that I cannot pass over without comment. It is a masterpiece in itself. If more articles of this type were being written today maybe it would help stabilize this hurdy-gurdy world of ours. Hats off to Ed Sullivan, and may he continue to bring out his sparkling words for many years to come. HAROLD J. SHAPIRO.

PICKETS.

Chicago, June 22.—The army of pickets that parades unfair signs in front of business places upholds what is admitted to be as unfair a law as ever was enacted in this country—the Wagner labor law. The President does not want this law amended, though its unfairness is only equaled by Hitler's treatment of the Jews. If we want to be classed with that country, the stage is all set. C.

GOOD OLD BOB FITZSIMMONS.

Chicago, June 24.—All must agree that Joe is a wonderful fighter and there are none among the heavyweights today or probably in the past that can or could have withstood his terrific punishment. But he seems to lack the finishing skill of one of the greatest fighters that ever lived. I refer to Robert Fitzsimmons. His record will show that he knew exactly where to land to end the battle with one blow, and it made no difference if his fist traveled a distance of only six inches.

I saw him once in Chicago against a much heavier fighter, but old Fitz just made one of those awkward feints and then his opponent was carried out of the ring in a most peaceful slumber. Again, in a battle with the huge, powerful fighter, Peter Maher, the ruby Robert sent in his sleep producer in the first round, and THE TRIBUNE'S report on the fight read: "Maher's eyes turned glassy and he fell heavily to the floor and was counted out." Also there was a fight at New Orleans in 1893 with the clever boxer, Jim Hall, who was outboxing Fitz, but like a flash Bob saw his chance. One blow, and the first word Hall uttered when wakened up was, "What round was it, Charley, that I was knocked out?" His second was the famous English fighter, Charley Mitchell.

Go all through the old gladiator's record and you will see results were the same until he became too old and was defeated by Jeffries. Old-timers will remember Fitz as a knockout wizard, and he had a more human way of ending the battle and saved his opponent from much suffering. I doubt if there ever will be another one who will possess that skill. He was admired by all, including Theodore Roosevelt. H.

LIKE A BOILER FACTORY.

Chicago, June 24.—On our street there is almost a constant din from baseball games, peddling and dogs barking. Street baseball is not only a hazard but a noise nuisance. Autos are continually blowing their horns, the players are yelling and the bats are clanking on the pavement. There apparently is no regard for peace or property. The ball is knocked into trees, shrubbery and flowers, and new lawns are tramped on to retrieve the ball.

Then there are various wares peddled on the street—a banana cart of the early '90s, about eight ice cream peddlers yelling and ringing bells as late as 11:30 p. m. It is more like a boiler factory than a residential street. All this occurs on Union avenue between 69th and 71st streets. SUBSCRIBER.

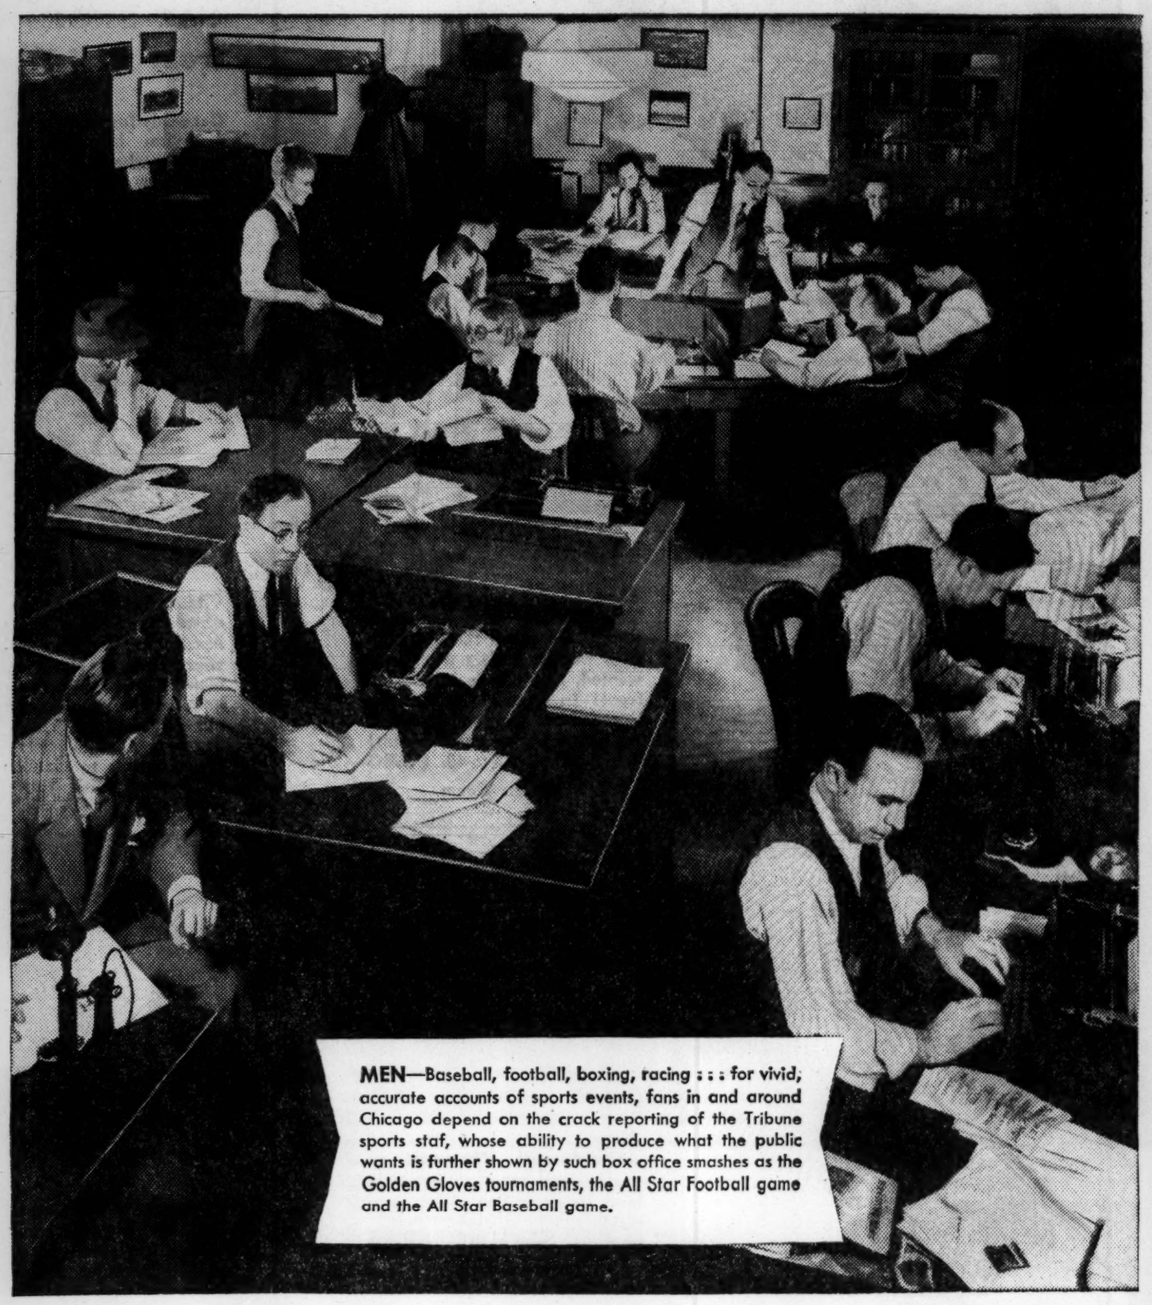
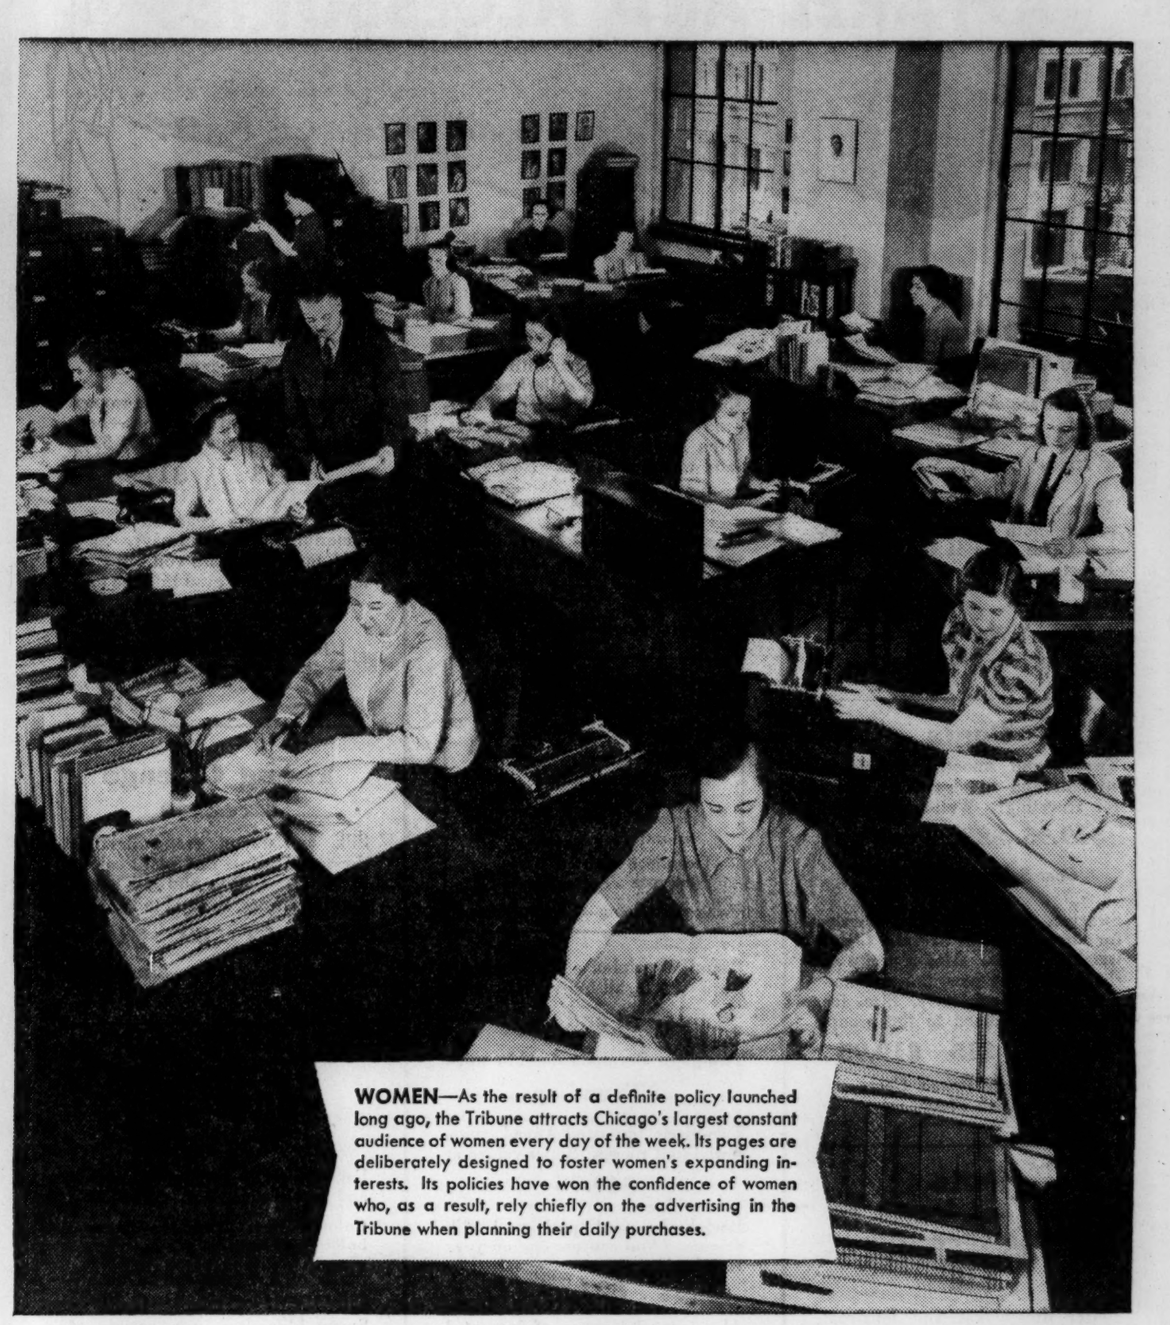
The newspaper that clicks best with its readers...



MEN—Baseball, football, boxing, racing . . . for vivid, accurate accounts of sports events, fans in and around Chicago depend on the crack reporting of the Tribune sports staf, whose ability to produce what the public wants is further shown by such box office smashes as the Golden Gloves tournaments, the All Star Football game and the All Star Baseball game.



WOMEN—As the result of a definite policy launched long ago, the Tribune attracts Chicago's largest constant audience of women every day of the week. Its pages are deliberately designed to foster women's expanding interests. Its policies have won the confidence of women who, as a result, rely chiefly on the advertising in the Tribune when planning their daily purchases.

clicks best for its advertisers

Because the Tribune is most successful in selling its own product in the Chicago market, it is the medium best able to help you sell yours

How successful a newspaper will be in helping you to sell your product to the public depends on how successful it is in selling its own product.

When it has shown continuous growth . . . consistently demonstrated vitality throughout the years . . . you can be sure a newspaper has the acceptance and support of increasing numbers of readers.

In Chicago the newspaper which has succeeded best in widening the market for its own product is the Tribune. Men and women in every income group . . . Chicago's largest, most responsive audience . . . are attracted to the Tribune by the scope and quality of its news reporting, its staunch independence, and its many features, comics, and service departments.

As a result, the Tribune every day of the week makes more than 690,000 individual sales of its own product in Chicago and suburbs. It reaches practically as many metropolitan Chicago families as any two other newspapers combined. Today the Tribune is the only newspaper with majority coverage of all families in metropolitan Chicago.

The Tribune built its circulation, holds it circulation, and continues to increase its circulation because it plays a vital and intimate part in the lives and thinking of the people who read it.

Chicago's retail merchants recognize this plus value in Tribune circulation. They place 53.6% more advertising linage in the Tribune than in any other Chicago newspaper. General advertisers recognize this Tribune "plus" by placing in it 68.2% more advertising than in the second Chicago newspaper.

Your advertising will click best in the Tribune because the Tribune clicks best with Chicago newspaper readers. No matter what you sell—or at what price you sell it—the Chicago Tribune gives you an inside track to America's second greatest market.

Rates per 100,000 circulation are among the lowest in the country

Miss Joan Ford Is Engaged to Harger Rollo

BY JUDITH CASS.

At a party Saturday afternoon at his home, 1260 Astor street, Eugene E. Ford announced the engagement to be married of his only daughter, Joan, to Harger Rollo, son of Mrs. J. Clarke Dean. The news could not be said to be surprising to any one who knows Miss Ford or Mr. Rollo, but it was received with cheers and congratulations by all their friends who were at the party, none the less.

Miss Ford, tall and stunning, is a favorite model for charity fashion shows and is immensely popular with her contemporaries and their parents, as well. She was educated at the Girls' Latin school, Miss Madeira's in Washington, and Vassar, but she spent only one year at college. She made a joint debut with Miss Eleonore Thompson, the John R. Thompsons' oldest daughter, two years ago.

Mr. Rollo went to Yale after attending the Boys' Latin and the Westminster schools. He left college after two years, however, to enter business in Chicago. No date for the wedding is set.

Announce Katherine Trees', Barbara Vail's Engagements.

At two teas yesterday the engagements were announced of cousins, Miss Katherine Trees and Miss Barbara Vail, who have grown up together on Chicago's south side. Mr. and Mrs. Merle Jay Trees entertained from 5 until 7 o'clock in their home at 5492 South Shore drive to announce that their daughter is to become the bride late next fall of John Richard Kingman, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kingman of Ottawa, Ill.

Mrs. Arthur Hamilton Vail entertained from 4 until 6 o'clock in her home at 5136 Kimbark avenue to announce that her daughter and William Connor Laird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Robert Laird of Marshfield Wis., will be married on Sept. 17. The hours for the two parties were slightly different so that mutual friends could call at both homes.

Miss Trees attended the Faulkner school, Miss Risser's school in Rome, Italy, and was graduated from the University of Chicago. Mr. Kingman is a graduate of St. Stephen's college, Annandale, N. Y., and took post-graduate work at the University of Chicago. He is engaged in business in New York.

Miss Vail and Mr. Laird both attended the University of Chicago, for which he prepared at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. They will be married in the Joseph Bond chapel on the university campus.

Two Weddings Today and Another Tonight.

Three weddings are on the calendar for this last Monday of June, two this afternoon and one tonight. Miss Elisabeth Ballard, Miss Jean McWilliams, and Miss Dorelle Moulton are the brides.

Miss Ballard and Frank F. Fowle Jr. are to be married quietly at 5:30 o'clock in the chapel of Christ church, Winnetka, the Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard officiating. The wedding will be a small one because of the recent death of the bride's grandfather, Ellis Ames Ballard of Philadelphia, and there is to be no reception following. Instead, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest S. Ballard, parents of the bride, will entertain in their Hubbard Woods home for the young people who were to have been in the bridal party.

Mary Ballard will be her sister's only attendant, and William C. Fowle will be his brother's best man. When Mr. Fowle and his bride return from their wedding trip to the Seigniory club at Montebello, Quebec, they will be at home for the summer in the Ballard home while the Ballards are at their summer home at Chebeague, Me. In the fall the Fowles will move to the north side.

McWilliams-Hamilton Ceremony in Church.

Miss McWilliams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. McWilliams, and Charles D. P. Hamilton III., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. P. Hamilton Jr. of St. Louis, are to be married at 4:30 o'clock in the McWilliams

Hostess at Luncheon Today

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
MRS. LAURANCE H. ARMOUR.

THE Chauncey McCormicks, the Philip Swifts, the William McCormick Blairs, the Farwell Winstons, the William H. Mitchells, and Frank Voss, painter, who just has finished a picture of Laurance H. Armour's favorite and famous horse, Golden Dawn, will be Mr. and Mrs. Armour's guests at luncheon today in the Post and Paddock club at Arlington Park. It will be the opening racing program of the season at the beautiful park, and it is probable that if the weather is good there will not be an unoccupied chair in any box in the clubhouse or the grandstand by the middle of the afternoon.

Among others who will have luncheon parties are the Warren Wrights, the Robert J. Thornes, the Prentice Porters, Mrs. Walter Peacock, Mrs. Donald R. McLennan, Mrs. A. Watson Armour, Charles H. Schweppe, Mrs. Harry L. Thompson, the Weymouth Kirklands, the Silas H. Strawns, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hughes, the W. E. Macfarlanes, Harry Watts, John Behr, and Roy Keehn.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mrs. Bradford Eastman Phillips of Wilmette gave a tea yesterday at her home to announce the engagement of her daughter, Betty Anne, to Martin A. Johnson Jr. of Wilmette. Miss Phillips, who just has been graduated from DePauw university, leaves July 1 for a trip abroad. Mr. Johnson, a graduate of Purdue university, just has completed work for his master's degree in chemical engineering at the University of Michigan. He is leaving this week to work in the east. No date is set for the wedding.

At a tea at their home yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Oscar M. Armstrong of 6954 Princeton avenue announced the engagement of their daughter, Lucille, to George E. Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Flodin of 7917 Yale avenue. Miss Armstrong is a graduate of the University of Illinois. Mr. Foster is a graduate of the University of Illinois and received his master's degree at the University of Chicago. The wedding will take place Aug. 19.

3 Scholarships Awarded by U. of C. Law School

Award of three Raymond scholarships at the University of Chicago law school was announced yesterday by Dean Harry A. Bigelow. The winners are Ritchie Gilruth Davis of 6049 Kimbark avenue; Irving Axelrad of Huron, S. D., and Paul McClung Barnes of Monmouth, Ill. All three are to be graduated from the law school next year. The scholarships of $500 each were established in 1930 by Mrs. Anna L. Raymond in memory of her husband, James Nelson Raymond.

St. Joseph's Hospital Staf Bids Farewell to Associate

Miss Anna J. Willenborg, instructor in anesthesia at St. Joseph's hospital, was honored for thirty years of service yesterday at a tea in the nurses' residence. The Sisters of Charity, who operate the hospital; the hospital staf, and the nurses attended. Miss Willenborg is retiring to become executive secretary of the American Nurses' Anesthetist association.

First of Black Clothes Carry a Hint of Fall

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The first black clothes offering important fashion forecasts for fall always cause consternation, especially to the shoppers who have just caught up on their midsummer buying. Occasional cool days, however, give the clothes collector a good excuse for buying a new model just as soon as it arrives.

Because the newest models are made of materials as cool as anything in pastel tints, as simple in streamline as the most unadorned summer cotton, they're all practical, and easy to wear.

Newly unpacked showings feature clinging jerseys with all sorts of intricate shirring. Emphasis is placed on the clinging silhouette, brief sleeves and thin narrow tie belts. These are priced under the $20 limit. Good finds for a depleted allowance. This jersey has a subdued sheen and is as thin as any one could demand. All blacks and some stunning color contrasts are obtainable, such as black with a shirred front panel of willowware blue, black with an inset panel of dull raspberry and the dramatic combine of white against black.

For more money, and worth the extra amount, there are daytime dresses of swanky dull textured jersey or thick but NOT hot crêpe. These dresses are all-time classics. With costume accessories they can be "dressed up" or "down," ready for every hour of the day.

The workmanship and shirred details are excellent examples of inspired designers. Fitted basque bodice tops are new, so are the cartridge rolled shoulder seams, the soft deep V necklines, and the crossed band material in sleeves. Unusual belts outlined in gleaming satin, patent lether or dull gold are the only contrast to the fabric of the dress. As midsummer dress parade outfits, these can't be equaled!

WEDDINGS

Miss Jean Brandon, daughter of the Rodney Howe Brandons of Batavia, and Joseph Roy Burton, will be married at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in Calvary Episcopal church, Batavia, with a reception following at the Brandon home, Lockwood hall. Miss Nancy Brandon will be her sister's maid of honor, and Chapin George Burton of New York will be his brother's best man. Mr. Burton and his bride will live in Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Binswanger announce the approaching marriage on July 23 of their daughter, Marion, to Milton Stern Jr. of Glencoe. The wedding will take place at the Highland Park home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. H. B. Steele. Mr. Stern and his bride will be at home on the near north side in the early fall after a cruise in Green Bay on his new sailboat, Marimil II.

Lutheran Mission Society Holds Festival Tomorrow

The Chicago Circuit Women's Missionary federation will rally representatives of fifty Lutheran churches of the United synod at its summer festival tomorrow at the Medinah club. A program will follow luncheon at noon, with Mrs. Lillian Young Otte, missionary to Zululand, South Africa, as speaker. Mrs. Jesse Thorson is president.

Good Morning!

Trifles light as air, are to the jealous, confirmations strong
As proof of Holy Writ.
—Shakespeare.

That "vehement flame," jealousy, is the villain of this movie, causing a pair of good men and true to commit unprecedented actions.

Once before, this same story, titled "A Kiss Before the Mirror," served as a successful co-starring vehicle for Nancy Carroll and Paul Lukas. Today, quite as effectively, it carries Gail Patrick and Warren William to new histrionic heights—AND—proves Ralph Morgan no mean tragedian.

Mr. William, as Jim Stowell, a successful and ruthless prosecuting attorney, deeply in love with his pretty wife, with whom, because of job exigencies he spends precious little time, is called upon to prosecute one Prof. MacAllen, who, in jealous frenzy, has murdered his adored mate.

There are extenuating circumstances. The professor is known to be a kindly man of high ideals, idolized by the students, and loved by all who know him. But Prosecutor Stowell will see no reason for the act—until—

He finds himself faced with a situation that mows down his cocksure self-righteousness and determination, and gives him a flabbergasting new viewpoint of cause and effect. . . .

The story's outcome is believable.

Miss Patrick and Mr. William give thoughtful and highly intelligent performances. Mr. Morgan hands you a gratifying surprise as the professor. Never knew he had it in him! Lillian Yarbo, a colored maid, provides a needed and delightful touch of comedy.

The whole photoplay evidences good judgment.

Soroptimists Hear Report on Convention Tomorrow

Dr. Edris Rice-Wray, president of the Soroptimist club of Chicago, will report on the recent national and international conventions of the organization at Atlantic City, N. J., when the Chicago unit holds a dinner meeting tomorrow night at Fred Harvey's restaurant, 308 South Michigan avenue.

Looking at Hollywood — by Ed Sullivan

The Week's Wash

Hollywood, Cal., June 26.—Most gorgeous item to come to the films in the last year is Hedy la Marr, who even makes Dietrich move out of the winner's circle for sheer femme allure. Wait until you get a load of this lovely number in Wanger's "Algiers." She'll create more talk than any performer in seasons. Terrific!!! . . . Lee Russell arm-in-arming it with Herbert Marshall . . . Simone Simon out one night with the earl of Warwick; the next night with Stanley Kahn. . . . Mary Brian with Robert Paige. . . . Charlie Chaplin is not a bad picker; his latest is Geraldine Spreckels, very tasty. . . . Martha Raye and Dave Rose will see a preacher. . . . I wish that the Henry Wilcoxons would make up their mind. . . . When Dorothy Lamour's hubby is out of town he permits her to go only with Wesley Ruggles. . . . M.-G.-M. crowd collected a hatful when that $104 shot romped in at Hollywood on Saturday. Mervyn le Roy gave the tip to everybody else, but didn't play it.

Hedy la Marr.
[Acme Photo.]

Absolutely nothing to the Selznick-Jock Whitney rumors at Universal. . . . Don't be too, too startled if the "Gone with the Wind" publicity was timed perfectly for the release of Norma Shearer's "Marie Antoinette." I doubt that Norma would play the "Scarlett" rôle. . . . Lana Turner and Greg Bautzer at the Troc. . . . Rochelle Hudson and Jack Dunn romancing for the publicity department. . . . Gloria Swanson dined with young Doug Fairbanks before training back east. She left the children here. . . . Abe Lyman and Eleanor Powell carrying on, via telephone. . . . Paul Whiteman will do a Gershwin memorial concert July 11 at New York. . . . Ben Finney flying back to Broadway tonight. . . . Vic Orsatti with Carole Landis. . . . Frances Mercer with Heinie Cooper. . . . William Powell at the race track every day, looking lots better but still thin.

The Katharine Hepburn picture is doing about 92 per cent of normal business, which ain't enough. . . . The Ozzie Nelsons east bound. . . . Max Baer telling picture pals what he intends to do to Joe Louis. Best bet is they'll have to chloroform Baer to get him to the ring. . . . Sonja Henie, Lee Tracy, the Eddie Cantors, Don Ameche all getting ready to leave for Europe. . . . Frank Parker and Eleanor Whitney still hand holding, but her real heart would surprise you. . . . Stock market spurt upped picture stocks millions of dollars. . . . Jean Parker with Don Barry. . . . Joe Schenck with Germaine Aussey. . . . Harry Brand, 20th Century-Fox publicity chief, arranged Shirley Temple's meeting with President Roosevelt. Brand is a Republican.

The Louis-Schmeling fight pictures are not grossing, as the result of a one round K. O. . . . M.-G.-M. will star Robert Young, as suggested in this space too often. . . . Business bad in Hollywood night clubs. . . . Temperament exploding on the Jeanette MacDonald-Nelson Eddy set. . . . Only pictures doing big business through the country are "Robin Hood," "In Old Chicago," and "Test Pilot." The rest are all spotty. . . . Hollywood Reporter, trade paper, calling on theater owners to give pictures a better break, runs a two column cut of a small town theater marquee, which advertises: "Tonite, one lousy feature and bank night—$250 and $50" . . . The editorial is headed "This Thing Must Stop."

Hollywood novelette: A femme star just lost some jewels, so she engaged a detective to track down the crooks. The detective is the same one who was engaged by the wife of a male star to gather evidence for her divorce suit. The femme star is the lady who completes the triangle.

Luise Rainer is moving into a Brentwood home and will take out American citizenship papers. . . . Jack Benny's vacation will be an auto tour of the northwest. . . . Phil Harris will spend his coining dough on vaudeville dates. . . . "Three Comrades," sneered at by Hollywood, continues to do great business throughout the country. . . . Ted Lewis negotiating for a San Francisco world's fair deal. . . . Never saw so many Greeks in Hollywood as were here for the Skouras wedding. . . . Buster Keaton and Marilyn Martin beginning to look serious about it.

Paulette Goddard out with Al Scott. . . . The Director Frank Lloyds will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary July 7. . . . The Al Segals expecting Sir Stork. . . . Nan Grey and Charlie Martin insist it's a romance. . . . The Ella Logan-Cully Richards thing flattened out since Mike Glasscock appeared. . . . Recommended: Joseph Spurin-Calleia in the Boyer picture. . . . Phyllis Brooks and Cary Grant still at it. . . . Harry M. Warner and Jack taking bows on the tremendous success of their Inglewood race track, which will do more than $12,000,000 on a 33-day season. The hecklers predicted that the track would not do $10,000,000 because of the depression, but people always find money with which to gamble. The Warner track now intends to get winter dates to buck Santa Anita. The resulting bickering may kill horse racing in California unless Santa Anita agrees to share the winter season, which is doubtful. . . . Bill Robinson cleaned up $7,800 on the Joe Louis fight.

Mu Phi Epsilon Conclave.

Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honor sorority, will open its 25th national convention today at the Drake hotel. The meeting will continue through Thursday.

SYNOPSIS.

On board the S. S. Panama Queen, sailing from Los Angeles via Panama to New York, are Anne Sydney, who has a part in a Broadway play, and her crippled and embittered sister, Mena; Arnold Vernon, rich English motion picture producer, and his coldly beautiful wife, Claire; Isobel Butler, who has a stateroom next to the Vernons and hopes to get in pictures through him; Alex Reed, young surgeon, returning to work after two years' illness; and gossipy Mrs. Panting. Isobel meets and arouses Vernon's interest. Anne and Alex are mutually attracted.

INSTALMENT VII.

A BITTER QUARREL.

Alex got up and threw his cigaret away—a tiny red arc dying in the sea. "Come along and dance with me."

Alex Reed had not danced for more than two years. But he found he could do it as well as ever. Anne seemed to float with him without weight. She had superb technique and grace. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon were dancing together—Mr. Vernon dancing very well, as fat men often do.

"Poor fellow," whispered Alex in Anne's ear, "I'm sorry for him." Anne glanced over his shoulder. She saw Claire Vernon's face in the light of the Chinese lanterns—cold and still, expressionless as marble. She saw a woman divorced from every warm heart-stirring emotion in life. "I'm sorry for her," she whispered back.

Then she saw Mena sitting on a deck chair among the spectators following her progress with a disapproving stare. Mena's mouth was drawn down at the corners and between her eyes was an angry line. The music ended. Alex drew Anne's arm through his and began to lead her away. Anne drew it back. "I'm sorry," she said regretfully. "I thought my sister was playing bridge. I'll go and join her now. I don't want her to be lonely."

Alex Reed barely hesitated. "Very well," he said, "in that case may I come with you?"

The attention did not soothe Mena's hurt feelings. She was sullen and monosyllabic while they sat and talked with her, and she spoke her mind while she and Anne prepared for bed. "That's a nice thing to do—bring me away on a trip I didn't want to come on—along among strangers—and then leave me stranded."

"But surely, Mena, you don't want us to be together all the time."

Mena laughed unpleasantly. "There's a little difference between you disappearing like a cheap girl with a strange man and me being pestered by that impossible Mrs. Panting."

Anne was swept by a gust of her wild, impulsive temper. "How dare you talk like that about me, you jealous cat! How dare you!"

Mena backed away from Anne's blazing eyes. "So that's my trouble? I'm jealous, am I?"

"Well, what else is it? Why are you so unpleasant? So unfriendly? So miserable? Don't I do everything I can for you to make life interesting when you won't raise a hand to do anything toward it yourself—no, not even to use a lipstick!"

Mena's face suddenly crumpled and she threw herself on her bed and burst into violent weeping. Anne's temper collapsed and she was beside her sister at once, her arm around her, comforting—consoling. "Don't cry, Mena, dear—I know how it is. But listen—listen—it's your own fault, dear. Why don't you believe me? You could have everything any other girl has except a few sports you don't care for anyhow."

Anne repeated it solemnly. "Yes—everything."

Mena's mouth twisted. "Men, too, I suppose." She burst into tears again. "No man will ever love me as long as I live."

Anne was overwhelmed with pity. She leaned over and put her arms round her again. "Stop crying, Mena—you'll make yourself sick. You're so wrong. You must listen to me. Let me show you how to go after life. You are not alone. You have me. I love you——"

Mena turned violently and thrust Anne away with a gesture as decisive as a blow. "And I hate you."

THE SECOND DAY.

The heat increased as the Panama Queen steamed steadily south. Isobel Butler kept a diary. She rang for her breakfast and recorded yesterday's minor triumph while she lay lazily propped up in bed. "Let me see. Today is the second day—that's twelve whole days to work in. I needn't say anything about anything today—just go on consolidating——"

She heard the Vernons moving about in their room. They were also late risers. She dressed carefully in her new white beach pajamas, spent a full half hour on arranging her hair to get that smooth but careless effect. Then she went on deck.

Perhaps she could stop by Mr. Vernon's deck chair and say hello to him. His wife was with him. They were both reading—deeply absorbed in their books and oblivious to each other. She paused at Mr. Vernon's side. He looked up and smiled at her, and again she was struck by the singular sweetness of his smile and his whitely clean eyes. He was brown with the sun, too. Really she thought he's no pill at all, romantically speaking—he's actually attractive as a man. "Good morning," he said.

Claire looked up from her reading. "Good morning, Miss Butler."

"Good morning, Mrs. Vernon. I hope I'm not disturbing you with your book."

"Not at all. I'm going down to the pool to sunbathe right now," and she drew herself out of her chair and stood up. Isobel saw the look exchanged between husband and wife and she knew that in some way she was the cause of Claire's cold anger. But what the hell, she thought, I can't make a mess of my future just to please her.

Mr. Vernon indicated the chair Claire had just left. He seemed a little defiant—he was certainly also angry. "Sit down for a little while if you will and talk to me."

Isobel sat down, arranging herself carefully, conscious of Claire's enviably slender grace. "It's hot, isn't it, this morning?"

"It will be hotter when we get into your tropical business. Do you mind it?"

"I don't mind anything so long as I'm enjoying myself. And I am enjoying this trip, aren't you?"

"Yes, I'm enjoying it. It's a change for me to have a little peace." He was anxious to change the subject. "Tell me about yourself. What do you do when you're not traveling in ships?"

Careful—now careful—Isobel admonished herself. She said: "O, for several years I was a model in New York."

"That's interesting. Photographic?"

"No. Clothes. I modeled wholesale and then in a Fifth avenue store. I posed for a few photographs for the clothes—but that was for the store advertising."

She saw the light in his eyes. His interest was genuinely captured "Tell me something about the background—the lives of the girls—I see a possibility for a story."

Isobel told him, picking her way carefully through the maze of her somewhat bitter knowledge, her jagged, colorful experience. But what the hell, she thought. Why not be herself? If she let herself go and told it naturally, with appropriate gestures instead of this laboriously edited version, he would see she had personality, that she could act. She dropped her assumed manner so suddenly that she could see she had startled him. But what of it?

She told him of her roommate, Polly Sims, famous as Gloria Fontana, who ruined all her chances with drink and finally stepped out of a sixteenth story window in the store. "I got disgusted with the whole thing. So, I thought, why should I, with all my talents, stand for that? So I packed up and went to Hollywood."

"And then?"

Isobel searched frantically in her mind for an excuse for her failure that would not doom this opportunity also to oblivion. But she could think of nothing very convincing. "There are so many girls out there fighting and kicking for a chance. Girls with pull and girls with no scruples. I knew nobody. I didn't get a look-in."

"So now you're turning your back on that, too, and going to relatives in England?"

Isobel turned away and stared at the sea. "I'd thought I'd try my luck when I get there. Never say die. You never can tell."

Playlet Given as Benefit for Camp Algonquin Fund

One of the first 1938 benefits for the Camp Algonquin fund maintained by readers of THE TRIBUNE was held yesterday at 4260 Hazel avenue. The benefit, for which adults were charged 10 cents admission and children 5, was a playlet given by Barbara Rose Raike, Mary Ellen Kopf, and Isabel Anne Lyman. Camp Algonquin, 43 acre summer camp on the Fox river, has been a summer's haven for needy children for the last three decades. A gift of $9.10 will send a child there for two weeks.

Self-Assurance Excellent, but Look in Mirror

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Often you and I are surprised and amused at the smugness of an acquaintance who, in our eyes, may not measure up to the beauty standard the individual entertains toward herself. In other words, she thinks that she is much better looking than you and I may credit her with being.

When the person is plain, we probably have said that it was lucky she was endowed with the assurance that is hers. And we still do think that it is far better to be possessed with an overgrown sense of self-assurance than to struggle against that well known inferiority complex one hears so much about. In the latter group one sees girls and women who could do marvels for themselves if they did not go down under the i. c. defeat. Impatience is what one has for such individuals when you realize what they could do for themselves with a better self-estimate.

But it is of the other group that we would speak today, because they run a risk that is easily prevented with a slightly more critical attitude toward and about themselves. In mind is a particular woman of the character outlined. She has an enormous ego about her appearance, her accomplishments, everything. But we note with the added years her ego is doing her appearance wrong.

Some one suggested to her recently that she was putting on considerable weight, plainly obvious in the huge hipline and protruding abdomen. She reared on her hind legs and let out a yowl at her informant, assuring her that just the week before her corsetiere told her that her proportions were perfect. Some one might have told her that her hair could be smartened up a lot, too. But in the face of that self-assurance of hers, none would dare except the one who called attention to her superfluous pounds with results fatal to their friendship.

But that's what happens when one sets out with too much assurance to fit the case. We have a theory that such women, looking at themselves in the mirror, visualize themselves on all occasions as an entirely different person. Not seeing themselves as others see them, their assurance defeats them because they do not pursue the course that keeps them smart and up to the minute.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Now here's something new — and sensible! It's for the feet, and we for one are glad the cosmetic industry has at last given us something to beautify the tootsies. The average feminine feet can stand it.

To help you put a decent looking foot forward this summer there are two new preparations, boxed in one package. One is a pedicure powder, the other a soothing, softening lotion for massage. A few days of tender care for those feet with these and you won't be ashamed to go barefoot on the beach.

The pedicure powder is remarkable. After you step out of the tub or from under the shower, before the feet are quite dry, the powder is to be massaged into the skin—with special effort on the callouses and the rough spots most feet have. The slightly abrasive action of the powder does a great deal toward softening the rough humps and bumps. In addition to this it tones the skin of the entire foot.

After this is well worked in the lotion is applied. This is a rich, cooling cream that soothes and softens; it's to be stroked in very gently, and always with upward strokes. Your feet will feel greatly refreshed afterward. The cream vanishes very quickly.

You can do this at the beginning of the day or at the end. In hot weather, traditionally hard on the feet, we think it should be done twice.

Child Seldom Forgets Those First Sorrows

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"My short experience of children," writes a young mother of two little girls, "has taught me a child seldom forgets the unpleasant things. Pleasant things they seem to take for granted—unpleasant things they remember for months."

"Pity 'tis, 'tis true." The hurts leave a mark—a bruise—a scar. The young thing is very tender, after all, and easily hurt—not just her exquisitely fine skin, her young flesh, but her feelings, too.

Evidence of it is on every hand among our adult associates. Their memory is long of unkindnesses, of humiliations of many hurts or unhappy experiences, suffered 'way back in early childhood.

It's natural, I suppose, that children should not easily forget unpleasant things, just as it is natural that they should take kindness and lovingness and understanding for granted. It's a sad fact; but since it's true we who are introducing our young children to life, or rather life to our young children, should keep it well in mind. And especially because they do not always show their hurt. Their deeper feelings young things don't often share.

It isn't that they mean to be reticent, but it's simply not instinctive for children to talk about their deeper experiences—they probably couldn't if they wanted to. To be really articulate about emotions far beneath the surface is a capacity that even many grownups never achieve.

Little children are born, I'm sure, with the expectation [if you could use such a definite word] of being loved and cherished. Anything else is undoubtedly in the nature of a shock—varying, of course, in degree. I'm sure almost every mother, no matter how wise or loving, knows this. She has at least once, in a weary or distraught moment, done or said something to a small beloved child whose startled eyes or quivering mouth have made her realize the fact.

As the writer of the letter I have quoted says, deep understanding will help us to save our children many little heartaches—"and what can be sadder than the heartache of a child?"

"How to Gain Obedience Without Punishment" is the name of a booklet of interest to parents and teachers. It will be sent on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

WHY FALSE TEETH WEARERS HAVE BAD BREATH

Millions Suffer Without Knowing!

You can't notice any odor from your plate or bridge—but others can! Dentists call this odor "denture breath" and it's serious. It comes from a mucin-scum that collects on plates and bridges. This scum is almost invisible—but it can make your breath so bad that friends shudder. It can breed decay-bacteria that infect your other teeth, actually hurt your health and spoil your pleasure.

Ordinary brushing can't get this scum off plate or bridge—can't protect you against "denture breath." But just try Polident! Polident not only cleans—it actually purifies plates and bridges without brushing. It gets every bit of scum, tarnish, stain and odor—dissolves it away and leaves your plate sweet and clean as new.

Your breath will be fresher, your mouth feel cleaner—and your plate last longer and look better. Polident is approved by dental authorities, Good Housekeeping and tens of thousands of delighted users. Long-lasting can costs only 30¢ at any drug store.

POLIDENT Cleans, Purifies Like Magic

Put plate or bridge in ½ glass of water. Add a little Polident powder. Leave in 10 to 15 minutes—rinse—and it's sweet and purified—ready to use!

Memorial chapel of the First Presbyterian church, which was given to the church by the bride's father and his brothers in memory of their father. The Rev. Harold L. Bowman will officiate and a reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents in Cedar street.

Miss Florence Hermes will be the maid of honor, and Miss Louise Forgan, whose engagement to Robert Bradford Upham Jr. was announced on Saturday; Miss Lucy Harrison, Miss Valeria Harris, Miss Peggy Kipp of New York, and Miss Mary Ellen Herron of Lansing, Mich., who is engaged to Carl von Ammon, will be the bridesmaids. Maribel Sears will be her cousin's flower girl. Everett Hamilton will be his brother's best man, and ushering will be Hugh L. McWilliams Jr. of Boston, Edward Bakewell Jr., Nathaniel Ewing Jr., and A. Timon Primm of St. Louis, and an easterner, Robert Beckwith, a former classmate of the bridegroom at Yale.

The bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. P. Hamilton, and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rubicam, have come from St. Louis for the wedding. After a honeymoon in Jasper Park Mr. Hamilton and his bride will be at home in St. Louis.

Moulton-Andrus Wedding in Winnetka Tonight.

Miss Hermes and Miss Harris will be even busier than the brides today, for they will have several changes of costumes to make, since they are among Miss Moulton's attendants, also. Miss Moulton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Moulton of Kenilworth, and Vincent D. Andrus, son of Mrs. Edward W. Pinkham of New York, are being married at 9 o'clock at the Winnetka Congregational church, the Rev Samuel D. Harkness officiating. A reception, with supper and dancing, will follow at the Skokie club.

Miss Harris will be maid of honor. The bride's aunt, Mrs. J. Lee Bausher of Reading, Pa., whose daughters, Elaine and Phyllis, are to be junior bridesmaids, will be the matron of honor. Miss Hermes, Miss Ruth Tilden, Miss Lily Fleming, Miss Prudence Johnson, Miss Helen Andrus, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Mary Louise Cherrington of Cincinnati, Miss Ann Kenyon of Providence, R. I., and Miss Lois-Don Clancy of Louisville will be the bridesmaids.

Mr. Andrus will have his stepbrother, Richard A. R. Pinkham, for his best man, and another stepbrother, Edward W. Pinkham Jr.; George Berger Jr., and John Gibson II. of Pittsburgh; Joseph Beach of Hartford, Conn.; George Seabury IV. of Boston, David Currier of Scarborough, N. Y., John Street of Philadelphia, and Homer Dixon Jr., Edward M. Bertha Jr., and Alan Johnston of Chicago will usher.

Dr. and Mrs. Pinkham, and an uncle of the bridegroom, Dudley Palmer, of Boston; the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Moulton of Milwaukee, and several of the bridegroom's eastern friends have come for the wedding. Mr. Andrus and his bride are sailing on the Normandie on Wednesday to spend two months abroad. They will live in New York.

Seldomridge-Zabriskie Prenuptial Parties Given.

Several parties are being given for Miss Edith Virginia Seldomridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Russell Schroyer of Evanston, and John Lansing Zabriskie, son of Mrs. Nicholas Lansing Zabriskie of Aurora-on-Cayuga, N. Y., who are to be married Wednesday. Miss Jane Miller, daughter of the Donald C. Millers of Evanston, who is to be the maid of honor; Miss Mary Rawlins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Rawlins, who is to be a bridesmaid, and two of the ushers, Kenneth Grulee and Lauren Healy of Evanston, already have entertained for them. Mrs. Robert Lansing Zabriskie, who, with her husband and the bridegroom's mother, has come from Aurora-on-Cayuga for the ceremony, gave a luncheon yesterday, and Mrs. Malcolm Schroyer gave a beach party last night. The bridegroom's mother is giving a dinner tonight, and the Howard Schroyers are giving a dinner at their home tomorrow after the wedding rehersal.

Miss Seldomridge and her attendants, who include also Miss Katharine Watters of White Plains, N. Y., all were graduated from Wells college this month. Mr. Healy, Mr. Grulee, and Mr. Zabriskie's other ushers, Robert Potter of Chicago and James Falck of Elmira, N. Y., all were at Williams together. The best man will be the bridegroom's nephew, Robert Wells Zabriskie of Dallas, Tex.

Others coming from out of town for the wedding, which will take place at 8:30 o'clock in the evening in Northminster Presbyterian church in Evanston, are Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Munn of Orange, N. J.; Mrs. Richard J. Riley of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Miss Betty Nugent and Jack Nugent of Southampton, N. Y.

Peacock Camp Board Welcomes Children Today.

Six members of the Board of the Peacock Camp for Crippled Children have a very important engagement for this morning, for they are going to be on hand at the camp in Lake Villa to welcome the first contingent of campers. On the welcoming committee will be Mrs. Frank Reynolds, president of the board; Mrs. William Baerther, Mrs. H. Foster Straw, Mrs. Owen West, Mrs. Howard Emig, and Mrs. Frank Priebe. After meeting the children the women will have luncheon with Mrs. Otto W. Lehmann at her residence in Lake Villa.

The Cradle society has cards out for the ceremony of the laying of the corner stone of its new building on Thursday evening at 5 o'clock at 2049 Ridge avenue, Evanston.

Frock for Informal Hostessing

WOMAN'S AND MISS' HOME FROCK.

You'll be spending many hours in your garden this summer, and many more in hostessing informally at your house in the country. For these domestic duties you will need a variety of simple, comfortable, easily laundered yet smart house frocks and the kind you can slip on over your dressy frock is especially important. We have a pattern to offer today which you are certain to like, especially if you are a bit overweight, since its lines are slenderizing. The V-neckline is styled in surplice fashion and the garment is made to fit the waist perfectly by virtue of the belt, which slips through notches and may be tied to hug the streamline. There's a capacious pocket on the skirt and the soft sleeves are cut in one with the shoulders. From the latter there radiates shirring that lends grace to the bodice.

All the inexpensive yet beautiful cottons and linens will make up beautifully. And there are so many attractive color schemes in gay prints, plaids, and stripes that you can find just the harmonies you prefer.

A pattern, No. E-11175, for a touch of embroidery on the collar and pocket is available for 10 cents extra.

Style No. 2714 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 4½ yards of 35 inch material, with 1 yard of 35 inch contrasting.

NEW SUMMER FASHIONS—One hundred and eleven patterns of up-to-the-minute apparel, from sports wear to pajamas and children's sun suits, are pictured and described in the Chicago Tribune's new Book of Clotilde Fashions for Summer, 1938. Price, 15 cents. If ordered with a pattern, 10 cents. On sale at Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower.

Mexican wares are fascinating the year 'round, but doubly so in summer, for they are so admirably suited to informal living. Mexican glass with its lovely colors and hand crafted uneveness of line, Mexican tiles, tinware, and fabrics can bring gayety and charm to any warm weather dining table.

We saw some stunning place mats made of tin that looks much like silver. They're not a bit expensive, and most artistic. With them you can use the colorful pottery plates and the green, blue or white bubble glass.

This same tin has been shaped into plates, too, and into bread and butter dishes. And you'll find it used to make graceful little baskets for floral centerpieces, and holders for the conventional sizes of flower pots, as well as for decorative mirror frames and lanterns. Prices are so low you'll want to get a lot of this ware. EDITH WEIGLE.

Sally Tells How to Win Invitation for Skating Show

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Our opening party is something I know you boys and girl will enjoy. It's the ice revue at the College Inn of Hotel Sherman. Here's an opportunity to see some of the finest ice skaters in the world, performing on real ice in a big loop hotel.

There are two little girls, Helga and Inge Brandt, who have come all the way from Switzerland to be in the show. Duke and Nobel will demonstrate how skating should not be done, and that's sure to tickle your funny bone. There are three champions in the show—Bud Lewis, Robin Scott, and Jenna—and they're all marvelous to see. There is a real clown, too, Carl Marx, and a skilful magician, Marcus.

I have invitations for fifty boys and fifty girls and I'm going to give them to the youngsters who can prove to me that they'd really like to come. If you're one of those and can write a letter that will convince me that you are, you may be a winner. Just tell me why you think you'd enjoy the party, and be sure to give me your full name, address, and age. You must write that letter without help from any one.

Next Thursday morning the letters will be read and the winners selected, so if you plan to write, be sure your note is on my desk in plenty of time. If you're successful you'll see your name in next Sunday's TRIBUNE.

Address your letter to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Buy a good grade of creamy peanut butter for peanut butter cookies. The less expensive, very dry kind which sticks to the roof of your mouth when you eat it isn't very good in cookies, of course, and it isn't very good for sandwiches, either.

One might make half a dozen or more kinds of peanut butter cookies—refrigerator, drop, brownies, kisses, and others. All of them are easy to make and require no particular skill in blending. I recommend any of the following recipes:

Spiced Peanut Butter Drop Cookies.
[3 dozen 2 inch cookies]

½ cup peanut butter
1 cup brown sugar
2 beaten eggs
2 tablespoons milk or cream
2½ cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon soda
1 cup chopped dates or raisins [optional]

Cream peanut butter with sugar and add beaten eggs and milk. Sift dry ingredients together and add. If fruit is used, add it last. Drop by teaspoonsfuls on a greased baking sheet and bake at 350 degrees, moderate oven. The cookies may be molded through a cookie press if fruit isn't added.

Peanut Butter Sugar Cookies.

½ cup peanut butter
1 cup sugar
1 beaten egg
2 tablespoons cream
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1¾ cups flour
½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat peanut butter until smooth. Add sugar and mix it in well. Add beaten egg, cream, and vanilla. Sift dry ingredients together and mix them in. Chill the dough, roll thinly, and cut with a cookie cutter. Sprinkle with sugar and bake at 375 degrees for about 8 minutes.

Peanut Butter Brownies.

1 cup sugar
¾ cup butter
½ cup peanut butter
2 eggs
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
2 squares unsweetened chocolate

Cream together butter and peanut butter, and add sugar. Combine with the beaten eggs melted chocolate and flour, which has been sifted with the baking powder and salt. Spread in shallow pan lined with waxed paper and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for about 20 minutes. Cut in squares while still warm.

Peanut Butter Refrigerator Cookies.

1 cup butter
1 cup peanut butter
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
3 cups flour

Cream butter and peanut butter, and mix in the sugars. Add vanilla and eggs, then work in salt, soda and flour, sifted once together. The dough will be stiff. Shape it into a long roll, wrap in wax paper, and store in the refrigerator until ready to use. Slice thinly onto a cookie sheet, and bake at 350 degrees.

It's high time to put up strawberries, rhubarb, and cherries. See Mary Meade's booklet, "Jellies and Preserves from Early Gardens," on sale for 3 cents at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower; or it will be mailed for 5 cents in stamps. Address mail requests to Mary Meade.

Ravinia Festival Opens Thursday

RAVINIA park on the north shore, which saw and heard so many brave sights and sounds in those predepression years when Louis Eckstein was presenting in his wooded paradise some of the finest summer opera performances in the world, awakes next Thursday night from its winter sleep for the beginning of the third festival of symphonic music.

Each Thursday, Friday, and Saturday night and Sunday afternoon—from June 30 to Aug. 7—the pavilion among the trees is to be the scene of a concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra. There will be a guest director at every performance.

Artur Rodzinski, conductor of the Cleveland orchestra, takes the first two weeks [eight concerts]. He will be followed by Willem van Hoogstraten, formerly in charge of the Portland, Ore., Symphony orchestra, who will direct four concerts.

The fourth week schedules Eugene Goossens, conductor of the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra, and the eight closing concerts will be given to Eugene Ormandy of the Philadelphia orchestra.

Mr. van Hoogstraten appeared on the program of the symphonic festivals at Ravinia two years ago.

Pass	1 heart	1 spade	3 hearts
3 spades	4 hearts	4 spades	Pass

"West undoubtedly should have bid four hearts instead of three, and this would have shut North out. It seemed to me that North's three spade bid [although made in fear and trembling] was a shrewd piece of work. I don't think much of East's double because it helped declarer locate the spades and virtually dictated the play of the hand, which was extremely interesting.

"West opened the heart king. He was a good enough player to know that the fourth best lead is conventional, but later explained that he wanted to hold the lead if possible in order to determine the correct shift. Declarer ruffed with the spade five and laid down the spade ace. When the jack dropped from West he was pretty sure that East had the remaining Q-9-6. The diamond queen was led and lost to the king. East then laid down the heart ace, and declarer, to avoid being ruffed down below East's trump length, discarded the club four. Now dummy was out of hearts, also. East then played the club three, and declarer went right up with the ace. A low diamond was led to the ace and the spade eight was returned, covered by the nine and won by the ten. Now declarer led the club ten. East won, and at this point the defenders were in bad shape. East could return only a club or a heart. He chose the former. Dummy won, and played the jack, and East was helpless. To ruff with the six merely would permit declarer to overruff, draw the last trump, and run the diamonds. To discard would do no good, either. The spade three would be led through the Q-6 to the K-7 with the same result. If West, on lead with the club king, had returned a heart, East would be 'couped.' Dummy would ruff, declarer discarding his high diamond, and clubs would be played. East could discard, or ruff, as he chose. He never could make a trump trick.

"The points of play, of course, were for declarer to conceide the second heart trick and, even more important, for him to refuse the club finesse.

"Yours truly,
"W. R., San Francisco."

Undoubtedly declarer's play was an example of excellent card placing. My correspondent's remark about West's raise was, of course, well taken. West, with only one honor trick but hightly favorable distribution for a heart contract, should have leaped all the way to four. It took considerable straining on North's part to bid three spades. Surely he could not have strained another inch to bid four. Of course, South might have taken his life in his hands and ventured five diamonds, which would have been an absolute laydown with good guessing in the spade suit.

Floral Applique Block Appeals to Tyro Quilt Maker

Marigolds.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

The gay floral applique block, "Marigolds," is one of those easy-to-make patterns which appeal to the beginning quiltmaker because of their freedom from difficult patches. The block is small, measuring 10 inches square, and it is set together in an alternate arrangement with plain ones. While "Marigolds" looks like a modern motif, it is ranked among the quilts made between 1875 and 1880. Its exact age is unknown. It was in southern Illinois and Indiana that this block enjoyed greatest popularity, but it has been seen in the eastern section of the country as well as the southwestern part of America.

For a limited period Nancy Cabot offers 10 quilt patterns of her own choice at a price of 10 cents for the group (12 cents by mail). Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

Orchestra Wins Ovation as It Closes Season

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Yesterday's Great Northern theater concert of the Illinois Symphony orchestra offered to all of us who believe in the triter of the copy book maxims an opportunity to gloat over the fact that honest effort does, sometimes, win the recognition which we say it deserves.

The large scale ovation tendered Izler Solomon and his forces at the conclusion of this final program of a thirty-eight week season indicated that these musicians have won for themselves a high place in the town's regard. This place has been achieved not by the social prestige which adheres to these concerts [the Great Northern is definitly not the place to be seen of a Sunday afternoon] nor by any attempt to seek popularity by means of a beer garden repertoire.

Yesterday's concert quite justified the pandemonium which broke loose at its conclusion. There was a crisp performance of Glinka's "Russian and Ludmilla" overture, a "Pathetique" symphony which emphasized certain hitherto incompletely revealed qualities of Mr. Solomon's musical makeup, a presentation of the Respighi Toccata by a pianist whose name must be added to the long list of the orchestra's happy solo finds, and a version of Enesco's First Roumanian rhapsody so bounding and folklike that it positively cried aloud for the Glière "Sailor's Dance" which duly followed it.

Yesterday's "Pathetique" all but talked, so direct and plastic and heart tearing were its more lugubrious utterances. The entrances of the first violins, in particular, came to be moments of quite intolerable excitement. The members of this choir took from Mr. Solomon's unspoken wish the cue for effects of shading and dynamics which turned a mere succession of notes into a personal pronouncement of a moving sort.

To introduce a slightly flat note into the song of praise which this half-column seems to have turned into, is it possible that this inordinately gifted young conductor is showing the first signs of a theatricality which will be as much of a calamity to us as to him? Was the conclusion of the "Pathetique" a little too stagewise, and the calesthenics of the Rumanian rhapsody directed slightly toward the audience rather than the orchestra?

Jeanne Zavitz, soloist of the day, humanized the ponderous poetry of the Respighi piano toccato with a touch that was graciously feminine. A minor technical error or two, and the fact that she once got out of step with the conductor were all that a reporter eager to chronicle slips could find.

Now the Illinois Symphony orchestra moves out of doors to play an alternate Thursday evening series in Hutchinson court at the University of Chicago [beginning June 30] and an every Wednesday cycle in the Wilmette amphitheater starting July 6. Programs begin at 8:30. Admission is free.

KREEVICH NAMED ON AMERICAN ALL-STARS

21 SPRINTERS ENTER $3,500 INAUGURAL RACE

Expensive 2 Yr. Olds Make First Start.

BY FRENCH LANE.

There will be nothing slow about the opening program of the Arlington Park Jocky club's annual race season today.

Search the country over and you could not find speedier horses than those named for the $3,500 Inaugural handicap, a sprint event at seven furlongs. Besides the speed, there is the additional note that never before has such a large field been named in the overnight entries. There were twenty-one of these nimble footed thoroughbreds at Arlington Park last night awaiting the call to battle.

It is a mere guess as to which will be the favorite, but those mustering the most backers are Warren Wright's Talked About, Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Mountain Ridge, Lemar Stock farm's Millie M., Mrs. A. M. Creech's Miss Dolphin, Mrs. Emil Denemark's Genie Palatine, and Morris Vehon's Threadneedle.

Weather Is Factor.

One thing is certain, however. The favorite, whoever it may be at post time, should reward his backers at 6 to 1 or better.

And there are the weather and track conditions to provide more complications. Fair skies have been promised by the weather man, and the Arlington track dries quickly. However, it is so well soaked by the week-end rains that it hardly seems possible for the going to be at its best when the first of Arlington's rich array of stakes is contested.

Although this Inaugural handicap is supposed to be the star attraction of the day, more than likely the youngsters in the first race—a five and one-half furlong dash for 2 year olds—will steal the show.

This little band is made up of the prides and joys of some of America's most prominent turfmen. Most of these youngsters will be making their first start. They have trained faithfully. Some have shown amazing speed. In this first test, their owners are going to try and get a line on whether or not they are to be great horses.

Sun Beau's Son Entered.

In this little group is Sun Lover, a son of Sun Beau, the old gentleman of the horse tracks who earned more than any other horse in history. Sun Beau rolled up much of this fortune over this same Arlington track.

There's On Location—son of Teddy Cinema—one of the most expensive 2 year olds Mrs. Mars purchased at Saratoga last August. There's Calumet Red, son of Hadagal-Peter Polly, one of the youthful speedsters from Warren Wright's stable. Remember when Hadagal won the Arlington handicap?

Young R. A. Firestone of Akron, O., will be represented by Court Counsel, reputedly one of the fastest sons of the famous sire, Wise Counsellor. Mrs. John Hertz will send Book Plate, a grandson of famous old Broomstick, into this skirmish.

Galsum Likes Turf.

Woven into today's program will be the mile and a sixteenth Geneva purse over the Arlington turf course. Only at Arlington are these "over the grass" races provided in Chicago. There are few tracks in North America that stage them.

In this struggle there appears the best speculative medium of the day. Galsun, from Warren Wright's stable, was thoroughly educated over the turf at Hialeah last winter after he had indicated a particular liking for that sort of racing. He's a big chestnut son of Gallant Fox-Sunstroke and has indicated at Lincoln Fields lately that he is in splendid condition.

Arlington presented a busy scene yesterday. The last of some 700 horses moving in from Lincoln Fields arrived late in the afternoon. Huge shipments were unloaded from New York and Suffolk Downs in New England, from Canada, from Detroit, Kentucky, Delaware Park, and Maryland.

Giants Defeat Cubs, 5 to 1; 200th Victory for Hubbell

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 26.—The Cubs paid homage today to Carl Hubbell, monarch of National league southpaws. They made themselves willing victims of the Oklahoman's 200th big league triumph, a triumph in which the title holding Giants shared to the tune of 5 to 1.

So the Cubs, two and one-half games from the top, started for home tonight, none too happy, of course, over a tour in which they were victors in only five of twelve engagements.

Cubs Fail in Pinches.

The Cubs not only fell easily today but handled themselves in anything except pennant winning fashion. They hit Hubbell hard enough, but as usual were impotent in the pinches, ten of them dying on the bases. And with some strange fielding in which Augie Galan made two bad throws and Carl Reynolds lost a fly ball for a homer, they added to their own troubles. Such events increased the unhappiness of Larry French and Bill Lee, the former being charged with a defeat in which he yielded only three hits in seven innings.

One inning of the seven he pitched—most of them in rain, which once halted the struggle—was enough to hand French his tenth beating of the year. Two of the three hits off him were crowded into the fourth inning. Included with the hits were an intentional pass and one of Galan's erratic throws, two Giants scoring. That's all the scoring they did until Bill Lee was dropped into the soggy argument in the eighth, with the Cubs one run behind. The General met trouble instantly, a cluster of three runs skidding across the plate, two of them because Bob Seeds, the former American leaguer, got a homer on the fly ball which Reynolds should have caught.

Hits Go to Waste.

The last four innings brought the Cubs' attack out at its best and also its worst. From three hits in the sixth, they were able to extract only one run. From two hits in the seventh, they derived nothing. Two hits in the eighth with one out also went to waste. A hit after an error in the ninth didn't make Hubbell hesitate in his choice between his 200th victory and his 108th defeat in ten years of big league pitching.

Perhaps because they didn't want to stand out in the rain any longer than necessary both Hubbell and

Hornsby Gets Manager's Job in Chattanooga

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 26.—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby was named manager of the Chattanooga Lookouts of the Southern association today. The announcement was made by Joe Engel, club president.

Hornsby has served as coach for the Baltimore Orioles this year, occasionally taking his place in the lineup as a pinch hitter. One of the greatest hitters of all time, Hornsby was formerly manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, Boston Braves, Chicago Cubs, and St. Louis Browns.

Placed on Active List.

Engel said Hornsby would be placed on the club's active list, making him eligible for player duty. He will join the club in Knoxville tomorrow.

"I paid more for Hornsby than any other player I ever obtained for a Southern league team," Engel said. He declined to name the purchase price.

The Chattanooga team dropped into the league cellar today. It is one of the few fan owned clubs in the country, having been purchased from the Washington Senators through sale of $5 a share stock plus a substantial sum furnished by Engel.

Set Batting Record.

For six consecutive seasons Hornsby was batting champion of the National league and he led the league another year. He set the highest modern batting average by hitting .424 in 1924 while playing with St. Louis of the National league.

As manager of the Cardinals in 1926 he won the league pennant and the world series. He succeeded Joe McCarthy as manager of the Cubs in 1930 and remained in Chicago until August, 1932.

SAVAGE TAKES GOLF TITLE IN 39 HOLE MATCH

Lincoln, Neb., June 26.—(AP)—A drive sent out of bounds by Ed Kingsley from the thirty-ninth tee provided the opening which gave Ven Savage, 27 year old Salt Lake City golfer, a 1 up victory over his fellow townsman and the trans-Mississippi golf championship today.

BIG TEN TACKLES COAST STARS IN TWILIGHT MEET

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The twilight track meet between the Western conference and the Pacific Coast conference, postponed from Saturday because of rain, will start this evening at 7 o'clock in Dyche stadium. According to the revised schedule of sixteen events, which was drawn up by the coaches of the competing universities immediately after the announcement of postponement, the games will be completed at 8:30 p. m.

The order of events also was changed, although the meet will start with the quarter mile relay at 7 o'clock and will end with the mile relay at 8:30. The mile run, one of the features of the competition between the two leading collegiate conferences, now is fifth on the program of the track events and it will start at 7:40 p. m.

Coast Has Edge.

The 120 yard high hurdle race has been moved to second position on the list of track events. By shortening the time schedule the coaches have insured completion of the meet before dark, and since none of the field preliminaries will start before 7 o'clock, spectators will see the entire meet even if unable to leave Chicago's loop before 5 o'clock.

No one questions the supremacy of the boys from the far west over the Big Ten, but this, of course, will not detract from the fight for the fourteen individual championships. Last year the Pacific conference won 92 to 44 in the games, which were held for the first time. It is the plan of the conference to continue this interconference rivalry if public support warants.

Each conference is limited to three entries in each event. No preliminaries will be held. First place will count five points in determining the team championship. Second place will count three, and third place one. The winning team in each of the relays will score five points. There will be no points for the defeated relay team.

The feature mile brings together again Chuck Fenske of Wisconsin, Big Ten champion, and Louis Zamperini of Southern California, who whipped the Badger runner in the national collegiate games while establishing a new meet record of 4 minutes 8 3/10 seconds. Zamperini, who regained eligibility shortly before the N. C. A. A. meet, whipped Fenske through his superior sprint.

Fenske set the pace after the first quarter, for which distance John Munski of Missouri led the 18 starters until he was passed by Zamperini in the stretch. The Trojan champion won by five yards. Zamperini never has been beaten since he ran his first mile in high school competition. Fenske's time in the Big Ten and in the Central Collegiate meet two weeks ago in Milwaukee stamp him as a consistent 4:10 miler. He probably ran a bit faster than that at Minneapolis. But tonight Fenske must be at peak form to win and Zamperini must duplicate his race in the National Collegiates to stay in front of the Wisconsin senior.

Trutt, Smith Are Present.

Mel Trutt and Jimmy Smith of Indiana, who finished in that order behind Fenske, in the Western conference meet, will support the Badger in tonight's meet. Trutt and Smith also finished third and fourth, behind Zamperini and Fenske in the National Collegiate mile, so it would seem that Leonard Spencer of California, and Ed Barrows, Stanford, the other entrants tonight will be shut out.

The Western conference athletes last year won four of the ten events and two of the six field events. They scarcely can hope to do better, for Don Lash of Indiana last year won

A Warning to National Leaguers

BY ARCH WARD.

NIGHT baseball in the major leagues, pioneered by the Cincinnati Reds and adopted with remarkable financial success by the Brooklyn Dodgers, soon will be a standard fixture of big league schedules. . . .

It may take another year or two to convince all the magnates, some of whom always are slow to accept innovations, but after dark baseball is coming inevitably. . . . Brooklyn drew 38,000 against the Reds in its first experience with the new game and 28,000 against the Pirates. . . . These would be above average Sunday crowds. . . . Night baseball undoubtedly has been the financial salvation of the Reds. . . . There is no reason to believe it would not succeed in other major league cities. . . . It can be overdone, of course, but a schedule of, say, ten or twelve night games would benefit any club in the majors. . . . They would be equivalent to so many extra Sundays. . . . The new Ebbets field lighting system, largest and most modern night baseball plant in the country, was erected nineteen days after the delivery of materials. . . . Every team in the National league with the exception of the Giants has agreed to play night games in Brooklyn. . . . No club in the American league can play moonlight baseball without obtaining consent of the organization. . . . There are at least two spots in that league, St. Louis and Washington, where attendance could be boosted substantially by yielding to the new order. . . .

Only a small percentage of the fans find it convenient to leave their business in the afternoon. . . . The prospect of flivving to the ball park after dinner and watching a nine inning game ought to lure a considerable number who now must get their baseball over the radio or out of the box scores. . . . If Robert Taylor can entice the old man out of the house after an arduous day at the office, isn't it reasonable to assume that the manly charms of Gabby Hartnett or Luke Sewell would not leave him cold and unmoved, particularly when the moon hangs high, the winds are low, and the hot dogs are well seasoned? . . . The economics of night baseball ought to hold a definite attraction for the men in the club's counting room. . . . Not many of the teams do brisk business during the week. . . . Few of them could survive without the Saturday, Sunday, and holiday crowds. . . . Why should they object to adding ten or twelve additional Sunday throngs to their season attendance mark? . . . It no longer is an experiment. . . . It has been proved that owl baseball stimulates weekday trade without impairing the mechanics of play, and there no longer seem to be sound objections to adopting it. . . . Not many years ago it was the custom to hold important boxing matches in the afternoon. . . . Now they are held at night, which ought to prompt a contributor to point out that, with few exceptions, it probably would be better if they were held in total darkness. . . . Umpires are the only ones who would have occasion to squawk. . . . It would deprive them of their prerogative of calling a game on account of darkness.

Ain't Love Grand!

Ain't love grand!

You know it makes him beam with pride

To love and cherish till day is done,
—Cecil Lawton.

Charley Gehringer of Detroit has been named to every All-Star team. He'll play again.

All-Star Squad

PITCHERS—Bob Grove, Boston; Vernon Gomez and Red Ruffing, New York; Vernon Kennedy, Detroit; Bob Feller and Johnny Allen, Cleveland, and Buck Newsom, St. Louis.

PICK GEHRINGER, GEHRIG, FOXX FOR SIXTH YEAR

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Mike Kreevich of the White Sox, and some other fellows who hit bigger numbers than Mike, but who can't catch and throw baseballs any better than Mr. Comiskey's tiny center fielder, were named yesterday as members of the squad which will represent the American league in the sixth All-Star game to be played in Cincinnati July 6.

All the clubs in the league are represented in the list announced by President William Harridge, who made the selections from lists submitted by the eight managers. This is the first time this system of selection has been followed since THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE originated and sponsored the first All-Star game, which was played in Comiskey park, July 6, 1933, following nation-wide balloting by fans.

The 1938 list indicates that batting percentages and won and lost tabulations had some part in arriving at the personnel of the squad. This year's showing was far from the main inspiration for the honor dealing, however. Prestige of having played in most or all of the earlier games obviously had much weight in the naming of such gents as Lou Gehrig, who has played first base in all five games, and Lefty Gomez, who started all four games the American league won.

Gehringer Named Again.

There are other cases in which current skill and auld lang syne are combined elements, foremost being the case of Charley Gehringer of the Detroit Tigers, who has played second base in all the games and upon whom no improvement possibly could be made in the present going.

Though he did not select the squad, Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yanks, who will manage the All-Stars, is privileged to name his starting lineup. This means that Gehrig probably will be at first instead of Jimmy Foxx or Henry Greenberg, though Gehrig was batting only .275 in the last averages. Foxx and Greenberg each has made 20 home runs and Foxx was hitting .338 in the last official averages, with a total of 77 runs batted in, a total which has indicated he will set a new major league record this year. Foxx has been on all five squads, but he has been kicked around playing third base or acting as a pinch batter. One year he didn't even get in the lineup.

Averill Hitting Well.

Though Kreevich is a great fly chaser and a hard hitter when he hits, his .281 batting average possibly will cause him to yield to Earl Averill, who recently has been leading the Big Six from both leagues with a .384 average.

Aside from Gomez, only pitcher named for the sixth time, the hurlers were selected mainly from their current records, it appears. The pitchers include Vernon Kennedy, whom Jimmy Dykes traded off the White Sox last winter. The squad:

PITCHERS—Bob Grove, Boston; Charles Ruffing, New York; Vernon Kennedy, Detroit; Johnny Allen, Cleveland; Bob Feller, Cleveland; Buck Newsom, St. Louis; Vernon Gomez, New York.

COACHES—Art Fletcher, New York, and Del Baker, Detroit. Batting practice pitcher—Dave Keefe, Philadelphia; batting practice catcher—John Schulte, New York; trainer—Doc Painter, New York.

Each of the eight managers picked twenty-three players. The players receiving the largest number of votes, tabulated by the American league office, were named to the squad.

Gehrig Hero Last Year.

Gehrig was the No. 1 hero of last year's game, won by the American leaguers, 8 to 3. The Nationals scored their only triumph two years ago, when they won, 4 to 3, in Boston.

Gehringer has been the heaviest slugger of all the All-Stars with an average of .529. Foxx has averaged .455 in four games.

Many players chosen for previous All-Star games will not be on the team in Cincinnati, even though they still are very much in baseball. Tommy Bridges and Mel Harder pitched the American league to victory a year ago, but they failed to make this year's team. Others who will be absent include Ben Chapman, Sam West, and Al Simmons.

No Rookies Named.

This year's American league lineup is a seasoned one, not a single rookie being named. Ken Keltner, Cleveland's sensational young third baseman who some believed would make the grade, saw the veteran Rolfe and Buddy Lewis of Washington get the call.

On the pitching staf are four top ranking hurlers—Allen, Grove, Kennedy and Feller. Pitchers are restricted to three innings, except that if extra innings are played the last pitcher working can remain in action as long as the manager wishes.

HOLMSTROM WINS FROM WELSH IN STATE AMATEUR

Beats Illinois Freshman, 6 and 5.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Slender John Holmstrom, the Rockford youth who has been striving for three years to win the Illinois state amateur golf championship, made good yesterday by defeating his fellow townsman, Alex Welsh, 6 and 5, in the thirty-six hole final of the eighth annual tournament conducted by the Chicago District Golf association at the Elgin Country club.

The six foot Holmstrom, just graduated from Rockford High school at the age of 17, thus made good the promise he showed in the 1936 event at Decatur, wherein he eliminated such an able party as Gus Moreland before losing the final match to Wilbur Kokes. Last year John was stopped at the quarter finals of the state meet at Peoria, but there was no denying his golf in 1938. He went on from the 1937 tournament to become the youngest player in history to win the western junior title.

Wind, Rain Hamper Play.

Welsh won the 1937 state interscholastic tournament, and has just completed his freshman year at the University of Illinois. Alex played some of the sharpest golf in the tournament, but there was no such nine of 32 as that with which he eliminated the favored Jack Hoerner on Saturday morning.

The morning round yesterday was played in a strong wind, well seasoned with a rain which made play difficult for both. Holmstrom was out in 36, one over par, for a one hole advantage at the turn, a margin which he increased to two up at the eighteen hole intermission. He was three up on his foe at the 27th, and closed out the match on the 31st green. Johnny was three over par for the 31 holes he played.

The cards for the final match:

Out.
Par	544	353	434	35
Holmstrom	445	354	524	36
Welsh	545	453	434	37

In.
Par	544	454	344	72
Holmstrom	644	454	344	74
Welsh	444	664	344	76

Holmstrom leads, 2 up.

AFTERNOON ROUND.

Out.
Holmstrom	445	343	644	37
Welsh	645	274	435	40

In.
Holmstrom	534	4
Welsh	555	5

Holmstrom wins, 6 and 5.

Welsh evened the match twice in the morning round, at the seventh, and again at the tenth. The new champion then took the 13th and 14th and halved the remaining four holes for his advantage.

Pars Take Holes.

Holmstrom got away to a fast start and a three up edge on the afternoon first, which he birdied. Welsh retrieved that at the 22d with a 30 foot putt for a birdie. On the next green, however, Alex conceded the hole after being in hot water all the way. Welsh rallied to take the 25th and 26th with pars, but Johnny took the ninth with a par himself and was three up going to the last nine. Alex blew a four foot putt on the 28th, where he might have won the hole.

He took three shots to reach the 275 yard 29th, finally conceding to Holmstrom. The latter took the 30th, where Welsh missed a six foot putt and closed out the match on the 31st, where both were to the right of the green with their seconds. Johnny then sent a shot across a bunker to the rim of the cup for a win.

Kangaroo Lake Has Bass—and How They Leap!

BY BOB BECKER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Door County, Wis., June 26.—The large mouthed black bass that live in Kangaroo lake, a medium sized body of water in the Door county peninsula, are consistent. Like the kangaroo, the bass seem to take great pains to do a lot of high hurdling and fancy leaping. It makes no difference whether they have been hooked or not. They apparently jump for the sheer fun of it!

Since the Wisconsin bass season opened last week we have seen the Kangaroo lake bass do a lot of amusing things. Using a nine foot fly rod and an assortment of hair bugs and other lures we have had the bass jumping straight up and sideways to get these tempting foolers which were either worked on top of the water or just below the surface.

Parts of Kangaroo lake are ideal for the fisherman who likes to use those floating plunkers which dance and dive when jerked over the surface of the lake. We have found these lures effective, especially in the places where the water is only two feet deep and the growth of reeds quite heavy.

Our first evening on Kangaroo brought one of the most unusual bass fishing experiences of all our Wisconsin trips. We were using a fly rod. Lee Thorpe and Clyde Helgeson of Fish Creek, our fishing partners, had bait casting rods. Around 6 o'clock in the evening, when the wind had gone down to a whisper, the bass began to break water. Some of the fish leaped a foot clear of the water.

With so many fish showing we fished only the rises. When we saw a bass make a swirl or even show himself above the surface, the boat would be worked over there quietly and we'd shoot the hair fly to the center of the rise. The lure had to travel only a few inches and—bang! There was our fish. For more than an hour we stalked rising fish, never making a single cast until a bass revealed its location.

Turiello and Aron Meet in Marigold Bout

Saverio Turiello of Italy will defend his high rating in the welterweight division against Milt Aron of Chicago in a ten round bout in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street, tonight.

Turiello has been named No. 2 welterweight contender, only Ceferino Garcia of California being placed ahead of him, in the quarterly ratings released by the National Boxing association at its meeting in Washington, D. C., March 28.

He earned this recognition by virtue of his fine work in America in the last two years. He has stepped into stardom over Tony Falco, Phil Furr, Andre Jessurun, Louis [Kid] Cocoa, Frankie Cinque, whom he beat.

Aron has scored seven triumphs since fighting an eight round draw with Vittorio Venturi in Madison Square Garden Oct. 29, beating Lou Raymond, Charley Burns, Vincent Pimpinella, Venturi, whom he met in a return contest, Johnny Durso, Sammy Terry, and Bobby Pacho.

King Kong and Sun Jennings will meet in the windup bout of the wrestling show in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue, this evening. Bruno Black faces Rudy Strongberg in the semi-windup. Preliminary matches bring together Gene Bauman and Bull Curley, Jerry Meeker and Buck O'Neil, and Kid Chapman and Jack [Bad Man] Brown.

U. S. METHOD OF PICKING OLYMPIC TEAMS IS REVISED

New York, June 26.—(AP)—The American Olympic committee decided tonight to confine the United States team in the 1940 international games to those athletes who can show in the team trials in this country that they can outdo the performances of those who finished eighth or better in the 1936 games in Berlin.

"No athlete," the approved measure said, "can be selected as a member of any team unless his performance in the tryouts is of such excellence as to promise a creditable showing in the games."

In the past in the so-called "measurement sports" such as track and swimming those who finished first, second, and third in the final tryouts were selected.

STAGEHAND, THE CHIEF WON'T RUN IN SUFFOLK RACE

New York, June 26.—(AP)—Trainer Earl Sande said tonight that Maxwell Howard's speedy 3 year olds, The Chief and Stagehand, would not be started in the Massachusetts handicap at Suffolk Downs Wednesday.

Sande said the colts, which ran one-two in the Brooklyn handicap at Aqueduct yesterday, would be shipped to Delaware Park and would make their next start in the Kent handicap there July 2.

Fort Sheridan Cavalry Wins Show Trophy

The Fort Sheridan 14th Cavalry Horse show team won the Honolulu Tomboy challenge trophy donated in the annual Lake Forest show which closed yesterday at Onwentsia Country club. The Canadian governor general's horse guard of Toronto placed second in the event.

Crispin Oglebay's team of three hunters, Holystone, Hi Bey, and Question, won the Joseph M. Cudahy challenge trophy. The trophy was donated by Cudahy in 1935. Earlier winners were Metamora Hunt club in 1935, Mill Creek Hunt in 1936, and Rolling Rock Hunt in 1937.

The Lake Forest show, from a weather standpoint, ended a disappointing series of exhibitions. Horses and riders performed through rain throughout the east, and in Lake Forest they had few programs unmarred by downpour. Summaries:

Racine Yacht Club Wins Team Event in Dinghy Regatta

A fleet of 22 frostbite dinghies supplied the only sailing activity on the Chicago lake front yesterday as all scheduled club races were called off because of strong wind and rain.

Four races were sailed in the Columbia Yacht club's first annual frostbite dinghy regatta, which was held in the Grant park harbor. The team event was won by the Racine Yacht club with 13 points to the Chicago Yacht club's 12 point tie with the Columbia Yacht club.

The race for D class dinghies was won by Joe Haller and Grover Steffen, Chicago Yacht club, in a Dyer boat. Bert Williams, also representing C. Y. C., was runner-up. In the free for all race, which drew 19 starters, Williams finished in the best time of the day—20 minutes and 5 seconds. He sailed a craft owned by Dr. Allen S. Pearl Jr.

A Gage Park Nautical association dinghy won the B class event, defeating seven of the Columbia Yacht club's new dinghies. Summaries:

Baruna Wins First Honors in Bermuda Race

HAMILTON, Bermuda, June 26.—(AP)—The yawl, Baruna, sailed by Owner Henry C. Taylor, officially was named winner of three prizes in the Newport-Bermuda ocean race tonight as more than half the fleet of forty-three which sailed from Newport last Tuesday was reported safe in port.

Baruna, which finished yesterday morning, won the Bermuda trophy for leading the fleet on corrected time, the Fownes trophy for first yacht to finish and the class A prize for showing the way in the class for sloops and yawls.

635 Miles in 3 Days, 21 Hours.

Taylor sailed the 635 miles from Brenton Lightship to St. David's Head in three days, 21 hours 5 minutes 42 seconds. When Baruna's time allowance was deducted, she had a corrected time of 3:18:58:55.

Blitzen Wins Class B.

Blitzen, owned by R. J. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, N. C., won first prize in class "B" and was second in the fleet with a corrected time of 3:20:22:14. Rubaiyat, sailed by Nat Rubinkam of Chicago, which finished just before noon today, took second in class B and Revonoc, owned by Harvey Conover of New York, third.

Santana, sailed by W. L. Stewart Jr. of Los Angeles, won the Schooner prize while Highland Light, a cutter sailed by Dudley F. Wolfe of New York, took the Finley trophy for boats built prior to 1922.

By early afternoon all but a couple of the larger class A yachts had reached port while the class B craft began to come in at frequent intervals this morning although many still were unreported.

It's Long Road to a Place on C. Y. O. Squad

Winning a place on the C. Y. O. boxing team which will meet Ireland's champions in the C. Y. O. milk fund show at Soldiers' field July 13 will be a difficult job.

None of the seventy boys leaving for the training camp in Lockport, Ill., Thursday afternoon is certain of appearing against the Irish title holders. The competition will be keen in all classes, and especially in the 147 pound division.

There are more outstanding boxers in this division than in any other. Among the best welterweight candidates are Savior Canadeo, Tony Motisi, Harry Sparrow, and Jimmy O'Malley.

Three of the C. Y. O. boxers—Canadeo, Motisi, and Sparrow—will be attempting to make the international team for the third time. O'Malley will be making his first bid.

Motisi and Canadeo have won in the two preceding matches, while Sparrow has been beaten twice. Motisi is the present C. Y. O. 147 pound champion, and O'Malley holds the Golden Gloves and national A. A. U. welterweight crowns.

CHICAGO SQUAD LOSES SHOOTOFF AND SKEET TITLE

Stratford, Conn., June 26.—[Special.]—The Roseland Gun club of West Orange, N. J., successfully defended its championship in the tenth Great Eastern skeet shoot today with a new record on the Remington range at Lordship.

The Roseland team and the Northwest Gun club of Chicago finished with 485 out of a possible 500 targets in the regular event. Roseland broke 116 out of 125 targets in the shootoff, two better than its midwest rivals.

18 CREWS TO ROW 3 RACES TODAY AT POUGHKEEPSIE

East Strives to End Reign of West.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 26.—(AP)—Darkness fell on the rain-whipped Hudson tonight with eighteen crews awaiting tomorrow's intercollegiate rowing regatta, which will be contested under more dramatic and colorful conditions than any race in the thirty-six year history of the sport's outstanding event.

Buck Walsh, the big, likable fellow who coaches the Navy crews, is in Vassar Brothers' hospital, and his varsity eight will carry the east's chief challenge against Washington and California without him in the coaching launch.

Navy Spurred by Injury.

Walsh fell last night and suffered a fracture of the sacrum and a concussion of the lower part of the spinal cord. Ensign M. H. [Cy] Austen, who rowed under Walsh in 1935, will take over for him tomorrow. Walsh's injury brought new respect for Navy. The midshipmen saw him today and left the hospital a grim, determined lot.

The prospect of a real eastern threat to the western supremacy has boosted interest in the regatta to new heights. Alumni and rowing fans poured into town all day to be met with flag-bedecked streets and an endless stream of rumors, predictions and hopes.

Expect Crowd of 60,000.

Hotel men, railroad officials, and city folks predicted a crowd of about 60,000 will be on hand when the five freshman crews—California, Washington, Cornell, Syracuse, and Columbia—line up at the stake boats for the first race at 2:45 p. m. [Chicago time]. Among the spectators will be President Roosevelt aboard his yacht the U. S. S. Potomac.

The races will be rowed at intervals of one hour, the freshman over a two mile course and the junior varsity over a three mile stretch.

California and Washington are the co-favorites, at 7 to 5, over Navy, Cornell, Syracuse, Columbia, and Wisconsin in the varsity race, but thousands in the crowd will be pulling for the first eastern varsity victory since Navy won in 1931.

McNEILL, LEWIS HEAD FIELD IN COLLEGE TENNIS

Don McNeill of Kenyon college, ninth ranking tennis player in the United States last year, and his teammate, Morey Lewis, have been seeded first and second in the district National College Athletic association qualifying meet, play in which opens at 10 o'clock this morning at the University of Chicago.

Bill and Chet Murphy, co-captains of next year's Maroon team, and John Shostrom, captain of the 1938 team and Big Ten champion, were seeded No. 3, 4, and 5. Other seedings in a field of 23 are: William Talbert, Cincinnati, No. 6; Marion Shane, Kalamazoo, No. 7, and Marvin Wachman, Northwestern, No. 8.

Twelve leading singles players and six doubles teams will be selected to go to the intercollegiate tournament at the Merion Cricket club in Pennsylvania July 4-9.

McNeill and Lewis were seeded first in the doubles, the Murphy twins second, Talbert and Julian Moskowitz [Cincinnati], third, and Wachman and Frank Froehling [Northwestern], fourth.

DUQUOIN, 5; DOWELL, 2.

Duquoin, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—Duquoin defeated Dowell, 5 to 2, today for the second time this season. Ware, former Western association pitcher, held Dowell to 6 hits.

PHILLIES DEFEAT REDS, 10-3; THEN THEY LOSE, 8-5

Klein, Weintraub, Craft Hit Home Runs.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 26.—(AP)—The Phillies and Reds divided a double-header today before 8,500. The Phils won the first game, 10 to 3, behind the steady pitching of Claude Passeau, who stuck to the finish despite fourteen Red hits. Cincinnati took the second game, 8 to 5. It was Paul Derringer's tenth victory of the year.

In the first game the Phils knocked Jim Weaver out of the box in the third inning, having scored five runs. In the second game the Reds picked on Wayne La Master to take an early lead. Lonnie Frey of the Reds and Baxter Jordan of the Phillies each had eight hits during the day, while Klein, Weintraub, and Craft hit homers.

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 26.—(AP)—The Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals struggled through nearly six innings to a 1 to 1 tie in what was to have been the first game of a double-header today. Then they had to cancel play for the day because of rain and wet grounds. Vito Tamulis and Fiddler McGee engaged in a mound duel until rain washed out the program. Tamulis fanned six in six innings.

SNEAD DEFEATS SARAZEN; WINS $5,000 TOURNEY

Cincinnati, O., June 26.—(AP)—Sam Snead came from behind today to win the first $5,000 Goodall invitational tourney with a 3 foot putt on the second hole of a playoff with Gene Sarazen.

Snead, who started the day even in the complicated plus-and-minus scoring of the round robin, steadily cut down the big lead which Henry Picard had piled up in the first ninety holes of play. Picard had a 16-plus rating as the last thirty-six of the scheduled 126 holes of play started.

Snead, plus 14, $1,000; Sarazen, plus 14, $750; Picard, plus 13, $550; Horton Smith, plus 11, $450; Frank Walsh, plus 4, $350; Vic Ghezzi, plus 3, $300; Little, plus 2, $275; Guldahl, minus 1, $237.50; Cooper, minus 1, $237.50; Thomson, minus 2, $200; Tony Penna, minus 3, $175; Johnny Revolta, minus 4, $137.50; Dudley, minus 4, $137.50; Billy Burke, minus 21, $100; Tommy Armour, minus 25, $100.

CHATT TAKES TWO EVENTS IN CASTING TOURNEY

Howard Chatt won two of the three events at the Illinois Casting club yesterday in Washington park. He captured the wet fly and five-eighth ounce accuracy tests and placed third in the three-eights ounce event. Results:

Yankees Beat Kennedy and Tigers, 10 to 3

Detroit, Mich., June 26.—(AP)—The New York Yankees slugged out a 10 to 3 victory over the Detroit Tigers today. Monte Pearson allowed only six hits.

Lou Gehrig drove in two runs in the seventh inning with a triple and he scored when Dickey singled. In the third Chester Laabs doubled and scored on Pitcher Vernon Kennedy's grounder. After that the Tigers were helpless until the ninth, when a two run rally came too late to do any good. The defeat was Kennedy's fourth of the season. He has won ten games.

SENATORS WIN TWO.

St. Louis, Mo., June 26.—(AP)—The Washington Senators swept a double-header today, beating the Browns, 9 to 1, in the first game and 7 to 2 in the second. Al Simmons and Sammy West hit home runs in each contest.

Buck Newsom walked three men to fill the bases in the third inning of the second game, then Simmons drove the first pitch to the pavilion roof for his tenth homer of the year. The Browns took a one run lead in the first game, then they were held to two hits in the last six innings by Harry Kelley.

Cubs Leave for Home; Run Into Cards Tomorrow

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 25.—The Cubs went direct from the Polo Grounds to a nearby whistle stop where they boarded The Wolverine, which will fetch them into Chicago tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock, Chicago time.

The Cubs open at home Tuesday against what remains of the St. Louis Gas House gang. The pitching for the day will be handled by Bill Lee.

Dick Bartell set Billy Jurges on his head in the third inning today when the Cub shortstop was about to throw on a possible double play. The fans were so impressed by Bartell's aggressiveness that they gave him a loud raspberry.

Dizzy Dean, the oil magnate, who is waiting for some oil to gush from his Kansas acres, probably will have to undergo another physical examination Tuesday or Wednesday. If physicians decide he is physically sound, Dean will be permitted to start getting his problem arm back into condition. The process will require about two weeks.

The clouds which had been hovering overhead all morning sprinkled the Polo Grounds lawn just as the game started and continued for a couple of innings. Then there were intermittent showers until the first half of the seventh, when there was such a deluge that the umpires had no hesitation about running for cover. It took about 20 minutes to clean up the muddy premises.

Cubs Lose, 5-1, for Hubbell's 200th Victory

French started off at a dizzy pace. Three Cubs dropped in order in the first inning, although each of them hit line drives. The Giants also went out in order. It was the same for both factions in the second. The string of outs finally was snapped in the third and the snapping was done by French. He singled to left after two were out, but it amounted to nothing when Hack flied to Ripple.

The champions also got their first single in the third inning. Bartell hit it into center with none out. Kampouris flied to Demaree. Hubbell grounded to Cavarretta, who threw to Jurges to force Bartell. Jurges had in mind the making of a double play until he was bowled over by the high sliding Bartell. French then fanned Seeds, the Newark purchase who made his first start in left field for the Giants.

Cubs Get Close.

The Cubs got close to a run in the fourth, that is if sending a runner as far as third base can be figured close. Herman led off with a line single into center and Lieber fumbled, so Herman sprinted to second, later going to third on Reynolds' bunt. A hit or even a fly ball from Hartnett's bat would have been very pleasing, but the old fellow merely popped to Danning. Galan also failed by popping to Bartell. In the next inning Jurges assessed Hubbell for a double to left center with two out. Bill would have scored if Bartell hadn't made a lucky barehanded pickup of French's twisting grounder.

The Giants' fourth, in which French fell from a scoreless tie into a two run handicap, started with Danning singling to left. After Ripple had sacrificed Ott came up for another swing at his pet southpaw. French fooled him, but Demaree had to press himself tightly against the right field wall to catch the fly hit by the home run expert. Leiber, a right hand batter, was purposely passed, but the strategy failed. Leslie singled to left, Danning scoring. When Galan made a wild throw into the enemy dugout Leiber also counted. Leslie went to third on the error. Bartell's liner was captured by Hack.

Three Hits Score Run.

Three hits were used up by the Cubs while putting together their run in the sixth. With Hack thrown out on a tap to short, Herman slipped a single past Hubbell and Bartell. Reynolds looped a single into left, putting Herman on third. Hubbell had three-quarters of a pass completed for Hartnett when Reynolds suddenly ran for second. He was out according to Umpire Stewart. Hartnett then singled to left, Herman scoring.

Lee got the first man to face him in the seventh. Bartell and Kampouris singled, the former taking third on the latter's hit. Hubbell flied to Galan in medium left, but the short distance between Galan and the plate didn't scare Bartell. He started for home and scored standing up when Galan's throw was far wide of its mark. Seeds then hit his long fly to center and Reynolds, still several steps from any barrier, pulled up and tried to reach the ball with his gloved hand. The ball got away and Seed sprinted around the bases in the wake of Kampouris.

Big Ten Stars Tackle Coast Team Tonight

the mile and two miles. Fenske may whip Zamperini, and Walter Mehl, also of Wisconsin, is easily the outstanding two miler in the group which will race tonight. But Bob Lewis of Ohio State, who was second in the Big Ten sprint, which was won by Don Davenport with the mediocre time of 9.8 seconds, cannot expect to whip Adrian Talley of Southern California, and he might be shut out. Davenport will not compete. Bob Grieve of Illinois, won the 100 yard dash title last year.

The high hurdles will be a splendid battle between Elmer Gedeon of Michigan and James Humphries of Southern California. Each is conference champion.

220 YARDS—Lewis, Teufel, Fred Elliott, Indiana; Orr, Jack Emigh, Montana; Mack Robinson, Oregon.

HALF MILE—Charles Fenske, Wisconsin; Art Bodeau, Purdue; Mel Trutt, Indiana; Demott Modisette, California; Charles Miller, California; Kirman, Storli, Oregon.

MILE—Fenske, Trutt, James Smith, Indiana; Louis Zamperini, Southern California; Ed Burrows, Stanford; Leonard Spencer, California.

LOW HURDLES — Gedeon, Smith, Bob Lemen, Purdue; Robinson, George Anderson, California; Earl Vickery, Southern California.

HIGH JUMP—Dave Albritton, Ohio State; Wes Allen, Michigan; Bob Deifenthaler, Illinois; Delos Thurber, Southern California; Bob Canning and Bob Law, California.

Detroit, Mich., June 26.—(AP)—Horses owned by Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis won three events and placed in another in a horse show at the Utica Riding and Hunt club today.

Louis rode his McDonald's choice in the owners' event, but succeeded only in getting the third ribbon. The same horse took first in the trotting class, and Louis' most recent purchase, Bing Crosby, was first in the conformation and style and professional classes.

Sponsors said the exhibition was the first all-Negro horse show held in the United States.

WOMEN'S STATE GOLF TOURNEY BEGINS TODAY

Champaign, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—The fifth annual Illinois women's golf tournament will start tomorrow morning. Hilda Livengood, Danville, defending champion, and Mrs. Lillian Zech of Chicago will open the tournament at 9:45 a. m. on the Champaign County Country club course.

Tomorrow's qualifying rounds will segregate the players into flights with the low 32 contestants composing the championship flight.

SNYDER WINS 40 LAP RIVERVIEW MIDGET FEATURE

Jimmie Snyder of Chicago won the forty lap feature midget auto race last night at the Riverview speedway, defeating Harry MacQuinn, Milwaukee, by a narrow margin. Myron Fohr, Milwaukee, was third and Chuck Niesel fourth. Snyder's time was 3:44.

Snyder also won the opening race, defeating MacQuinn in another close finish, but lost to the latter in a handicap of eight laps in which MacQuinn set a new track record of 2:07.

Beaumont, Tex., June 26.—(AP)—Schoolboy Rowe, whose temperamental arm wouldn't make the major league grade, started his comeback today in great style, beating Paul [Daffy] Dean and the Dallas Steers, 2 to 1.

Today Dean allowed only four hits in the seven inning second game of a double-header while Rowe was touched for eight. Rowe, however, scattered the Dallas hits, including three doubles. Dallas won the first game, 5 to 2.

White Sox Go to St. Louis for 4 Game Series

The White Sox are in St. Louis for a series of four single games against the Browns, who thus far have been able to keep the cellar safe from the Chicagoans.

The Sox, whatever happens to them in St. Louis, will not be tired from baseball playing, it is said. They have been rained out of their professional activities since Washington whipped them last Thursday. The Philadelphia Athletics, as every umbrella owner knows, were in Chicago over the week-end without getting a glimpse of Mr. Lou Comiskey's baseball arena. They were to have played four games but were rained out of them all. One of these was yanked from the future, the game scheduled for Aug. 4 having been moved up to complete what was to have been a double-header yesterday.

After four games in St. Louis, in which Manager Jim Dykes will have his choice of a completely rested pitching staf, the Sox will return for three games with the league leading Cleveland Indians, followed by a July 4 double-header with the Browns.

R. H. M'ELROY, 61, STANDARD OIL OFFICIAL, DIES

Funeral Services Will Be Held Tomorrow.

Robert H. McElroy, who went to work as a messenger boy when he was 14 years old and rose to vice president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, died Saturday in the Evanston hospital. He was 61 years old and lived at 704 Sheridan road, Wilmette.

Robert H. McElroy.

Mr. McElroy, a native Chicagoan, was active until he was stricken ill a few months ago. His first job was with the Milwaukee railroad. He held the rank of chief clerk at 21. In 1906 he joined the oil company. In 1917 he became trafic manager, and in 1922 he was elected a director. Five years later he became vice president.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Florence Dascombe McElroy; a son, Robert H. McElroy Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Alzia Drake. Funeral services will be in the Rosehill cemetery chapel at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

CALLS POLICE AND FIREMEN TO SAVE HIS AILING TWINS

His twin daughters, Martha and Mary, only 13 months old, were desperately ill and William Cody of 2143 Adams street had no money to pay a doctor. So he called the Marquette police and the fire department and asked for help.

"Unless we get it mighty soon," he said, "the twins will be dead."

A few minutes later Capt. Arvid Herling of squad 7 and two firemen arrived with an inhalator. "I think they've got pneumonia," said the captain, and started to work. Next a police squad reached the house and the fire captain sent them for a doctor.

They hastened to the County hospital and drove a resident physician, Dr. Samuel Schreiber, to the Cody flat. He confirmed the firemen's diagnosis and said the twins should have hospital treatment. A patrol wagon was summoned and the twins, their parents, the doctor, and the firemen, still working their inhalator, all rode to the County hospital.

Two Killed, Many Injured in Accidents During Storm

Indianapolis, Ind., June 26.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and numerous others hurt in trafic accidents during a heavy rainstorm in Marion county today. Joseph George, 60 years old, died soon after he was struck by an automobile as he pushed a cart. Robert Renfro, 39, colored, was killed in an automobile crash.

LONDON, June 26.—(AP)—Rajah Bir Mitra Partap Sekhar Deo of Gangpur, hereditary ruler of a Bengal state embracing 350,000 inhabitants, died here today of pneumonia. He was 18 years old. His brother, Bir Undit Pradap Sekhar Deo, 15 years old, becomes the new rajah.

100,000 MARCH AT CLOSE OF QUEBEC EUCHARIST RITES

QUEBEC, June 26.—[Special.]—One hundred thousand priests, prelates, civil and military notables, and Roman Catholic laity marched through the streets of Quebec City for five hours today in the closing demonstration of the first Canadian national Eucharistic congress.

About one hundred thousand more persons lined the narrow streets, darkened the windows and roof tops of houses that were bright with flags and banners, and joined in the prayers and chants of the marchers. When the marchers reached the plains of Abraham, Cardinal J. M. R. Velleneuve placed the blessed sacrament, which he had carried under its silken canopy, in the golden ostensorium of the open air repository there.

Since the international Eucharistic congress in Montreal in 1910, no such collective demonstration of faith had been seen in Canada. The gathering was blessed by Pope Pius XI. this morning at the conclusion of a radio address from Rome.

A. J. PETERS, MAYOR OF BOSTON DURING '19 POLICE STRIKE, DIES

Boston, Mass., June 26.—(AP)—Andrew J. Peters, mayor of Boston during the famous police strike of 1919, died tonight of pneumonia. He was 63 years old.

Peters, whose public career ranged from state representative to assistant secretary of the treasury under President Wilson, was admitted to a hospital Tuesday. He was a member of the United States house of representatives from 1907 to 1914.

HOPE OF RECORD WINTER WHEAT HARVEST FADES

Crop Deteriorates During June.

Hope that the United States will harvest a record crop of winter wheat this season has been abandoned by almost all interests in the grain trade as the result of deterioration in the crop prospect during June.

Private estimates on the prospective yield on June 1, based on the physical appearance of the winter wheat plant, suggested a harvest of 810,000,000 bushels, but estimates to be issued early in July are not expected to exceed 725,000,000 bushels. This figure, however, is substantially above crops of recent years. The department of agriculture's June 1 forecast was 761,000,000 bushels, compared with 685,000,000 bushels in 1937.

Wheat Makes Rank Growth.

Drouth early in the season, followed by excessive rains and cool weather, resulted in the winter wheat plant making some rank growth, putting its strength into the making of straw rather than grain. The rains also prevented proper fertilization, resulting in the heads filling poorly over a large area. Root rot and black rust also have cut the prospective field.

Failure of an aggressive foreign demand to develop for American hard winter wheat despite the relatively low prices is counting heavily against the maintenance of prices.

Jones-Laughlin Steel Co. to Open Wire Rope Plant

A new wire rope plant has been completed at Muncy, Pa., by the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation and will go into operation July 1, officials of the company said yesterday. The plant, that of the Gilmore wire rope division of Jones & Laughlin, is a part of an expansion program.

Mexico Drops Plan for Loan of 22 Millions

MEXICO, CITY, June 26.—(AP)—The Mexican government tonight decided to abandon its plan for a "national redemption" bond issue of $22,000,000 for partial reimbursement of foreign oil companies whose properties were expropriated March 18.

The decision was reached at a cabinet meeting held by President Lazaro Cardenas at Barra de Tuxpan, Veracruz, where he is on a tour of the oil fields.

Cardenas and his cabinet felt the necessity of private industry for the funds was greater than the government's need, the official press bureau said. Congress two months ago authorized the bond issue, to have been floated July 1. Some of the President's closest advisers were known to have insisted business could not stand the drain of a bond issue because of the depression caused at least in part by the effect of oil expropriation on the national economy.

New Contract for Hide Trading Will Be Urged

New York, June 26.—[Special.]—The commodity exchange's committee on grading and warehousing for hides, which has been studying the advisability of a new hide contract, will recommend a new contract which would provide that an allowance be given by the seller to the buyer on all hides that have been out of the original salt pack more than a year, it was announced today.

Vick Chemical.

Investors' Guide: Will you please give me some data on stock of the Vick Chemical company?—W. G. C.

Answer: The Vick Chemical company is an outgrowth of a retail drug business originally established in 1885. The business was incorporated in 1919 in North Carolina, reorganized in 1925 with a Delaware charter, taken over in 1930 by Drug, Inc., and in 1933 it emerged as Vick Chemical, Inc., when Drug, Inc., was dissolved. The name was changed to Vick Chemical company in 1936.

Vick Chemical is a manufacturer of proprietary medicines. Its original and best known product is Vicks Vapo-Rub, which is sold throughout the world. Other important lines are Vicks Va-tro-nol, Vicks Medicated Cough Drops, and Vicks Voratone Antiseptic.

The company's principal laboratories are located in Greensboro, N. C., and Philadelphia, Pa., with manufacturing facilities also located in eleven foreign countries on five continents. Most of the company's profits are made during the winter months. Vick Chemical has done extensive advertising through practically all advertising media, keeping the names of its few products constantly before the public.

Net income for the three months ended March 31, 1938, declined to $326,650, or 47 cents a share, compared with net income of $941,244, or $1.34 a share in the corresponding period of 1937. Net income for the nine months ended March 31, 1938, was $2,195,551, or $3.14 a share, against $2,876,038, or $4.11 a share in the corresponding period a year ago. Earnings in recent fiscal years ending June 30:

	Sales	Net income.	Earned per sh.
1936	9,304,992	2,709,334	3.87
1929	†	3,704,607	5.29

*Six months ended June 30. †Not reported.

There is no funded debt. Authorized capitalization consists of 700,280 shares of $5 par capital stock, of which 684,880 were outstanding as of Dec. 31, 1937. Dividends in 1937 amounted to $4.20 a share, and a total of $1.20 has been paid thus far in 1938. Payments amounted to $2.40 in each year from 1934 to 1936, inclusive.

Early this year Vick Chemical company acquired the assets and business of the William S. Merrell company, Cincinnati manufacturer of pharmaceutical products, through issuance of 16,200 shares of treasury stock to former stockholders of the Merrell company. The latter company was to be dissolved and its business absorbed by Vick Chemical.

Manufactures Are Quiet in Chicago Area

Manufacturing activity in the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district remained at a low level in May, employment and pay rolls declined, and distribution of commodities in trade channels was at a slow pace, George J. Schaller, president of the Chicago Federal Reserve bank, reported yesterday in his monthly survey.

He said there were two exceptions to the slow movement -- building construction and production of foodstuffs. Building construction, the survey indicated, showed a marked upturn. The output of foodstuffs, Schaller said, was heavier in May than in the same 1937 month.

Steel Production Low.

"Output from district steel mills continued at a low level through the middle of June and demand remained light," the report said. "Production of steel and malleable castings was curtailed in May and shipments declined slightly, as new business failed to improve. At stove and furnace factories activity expanded somewhat, but was below a year ago.

"Some further slowing was apparent in the manufacture of automobiles. Shipments from furniture factories declined more than seasonally and new orders expanded less than is usual."

Durable Goods Lose Most.

The report said the heaviest losses in employment and pay rolls were in the durable goods industries.

Packing house commodities and dairy products were produced in greater volume than in May, 1937, Schaller said, and the movement of wheat was the heaviest in five years, with the corn movement also large.

Sales in most of the wholesale trade groups in the district were below a month and a year earlier, he added, and department and retail shoe stores sold less than in April.

Discussion of Costa Rican Debt Settlement Slated

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, June 26.—Settlement of the Costa Rican debt to the United States, it is understood, will be discussed when the Costa Rican minister, Castro Beeche, returns from Washington, D. C., in July. He is scheduled to confer with President Leon Cortes, who has prepared instructions to be presented for the approval of American bondholders when Beeche returns to his post.

Shippers Join to Forestall Terminal Fee

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Fearful that the railroads may be compelled by the interstate commerce commission to make terminal charges which will add millions of dollars annually to shippers' costs, a group of Chicago shippers will hold a meeting at 10 a. m. tomorrow in the Palmer house to attempt to forestall the action, George M. Blair, chairman of a special committee on arrangements, announced yesterday.

The Chicago Association of Commerce, the Illinois Manufacturers' association, the National Industrial Traffic league, and unattached shippers will attend the meeting, Blair said.

Held Part of Service.

"It is the contention of shippers that railroad service should include the placing of freight cars so that they can be conveniently loaded and unloaded," he said.

"A series of decisions by the Supreme court and actions by the I. C. C. indicate that the railroads may be forced to make terminal charges, including charges for the 'spotting' of cars, which we do not believe the shipper should be forced to pay."

The railroads some years ago were forced by the interstate commerce commission to abandon the practice of giving large shippers allowances for performing switching services at their plants. These allowances ranged from $1 to as much as $2.50 a car, Blair said.

Favored by Roads.

That many of the roads favor the granting of allowances for terminal services, as well as continuing the practice of locating freight cars conveniently at shipping point and destination as a part of the freight service, was indicated when a committee of attorneys of five eastern railroads recently filed a petition with the Supreme court approving such practices.

Shippers say that if the roads are compelled to make additional charges for terminal services a new weapon will be given their truck competitors. One of the chief advantages of the truck is the fact that it is able to pick up freight at the shipper's door and deliver it at the door of the consignee.

STEEL INDUSTRY IS HOPEFUL OF MODERATE RISE

Underlying factors in the steel industry point to a moderate upturn in production from the apparent bottom reached two weeks ago, according to yesterday's weekly summary by the magazine Steel. However, the publication avoided a definite prediction that the small current pickup in the steel market means continued improvement.

"Buying, still held close to current requirements by miscellaneous users, who are not ordering for stock, continues at a steady rate and shows increasing bredth," it said.

"Under present mill conditions such steel is taken from warehouses, where immediate delivery can be obtained. This is being reflected to mills in heavier buying by distributors, indicating that consumption is better than shown by direct mill sales.

"Observers who believe the scrap market a good indicator note a rise of $1.50 per ton in Pittsburgh, the leading consumer, and 50 cents to $1 per ton in east and west."

John Heck of A. Stein & Co. to Retire After 27 Years

Retirement of John Heck as merchandise manager of A. Stein & Co., effective July 1, was announced last night, confirming previous reports. Although ceasing to be active in affairs of the company with which he has been associated since 1911, Heck will continue as a director and in an advisory capacity.

BANKING RULES LOOSENED UP TO FREE 3 BILLION

Roosevelt Approves New U. S. Policy.

Washington, D. C., June 26.—(AP)—President Roosevelt loosened banking regulations tonight in a move designed to encourage the flow of three billion dollars of private money into business.

He ratified and ordered into immediate effect an agreement of federal banking agencies on revised examining procedure. It will affect the lending and investing policy of every bank in the country. The National Association of Supervisors of State Banks has assured its acceptance of the same plan.

These are the principal changes:

1. Bankers may make long term [over nine months] loans without criticism of examiners as long as the loans are sound.

2. Bankers may invest in the bonds of small local corporations even though the securities are not quoted on stock exchanges, provided the bank can demonstrate the worth of the bonds.

Long Loans Opposed in Past.

Formerly bank examiners criticized as risky and slow the majority of loans for more than nine months. The banks might make such loans, but they were discouraged by the knowledge that the long loans would be discounted when examiners set out to figure the net capital worth and solvency of the bank.

Loans formerly were listed by examiners as good, slow, doubtful, and loss. These have been renamed with Roman numerals, with "I." corresponding to "good." The old practice was to deduct as net capital part of the slow loans and all of the doubtful and loss class. The new rule will limit these deductions to 50 per cent of the doubtful and 100 per cent of the loss items. Thus the making of sound long term loans will not raise questions about the solvency of a bank.

Must Prove Bonds' Worth.

On bonds present regulations prevent federal reserve member banks from buying issues not easily disposable because they were not listed on stock exchanges. This shut out the bonds of small local companies.

The new regulation permits the purchase of any bonds, but in the case of bands not having an organized market the bank must prove to the examiner's satisfaction that they are sound investments.

Wall Street Still Gasping at Stock Rise; Seeks Reason

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 26.—Awed and not a little bit mystified, Wall street leaned back today to take inventory of one of the most amazing weeks witnessed by the New York Stock Exchange in recent years.

For leading stocks in six consecutive days of advance had raced ahead from 2 to 20 points as buying orders poured in on the market from all parts of the country and from abroad. All the losses incurred since the start of the year were virtually wiped out.

In one week an astonishing change of sentiment came over the financial district, elation replacing the heavy gloom that had enveloped the section for months. The rally came at a time when many brokerages had decided to pare down their already drastically cut office forces to meet expenses.

Small Forces Swamped.

Instead of making layoffs, however, many firms had to recall dismissed employés as the heavy activity swamped their undermanned forces, and once again the lights blazed after midnight.

From the standpoint of volume the market was the heaviest since last October. In the six days 10,112,140 shares changed hands, a volume at which brokers can make a comfortable living. This contrasted with the anemic figure of 1,792,530 in the preceding week.

The Big Question.

Now the big question is: "What caused the upswing?" and the answer seems to be as elusive to experts as it is to rank outsiders.

All seem agreed that the business statistics, which recorded some slight improvement in the economic situation, hardly could have supplied the incentive for such widespread improvement.

There was strong support for the theory that business conditions are now scraping bottom and that the market was forecasting the improvement to come. Present indications are said to be that the business situation this summer will be better than had been expected.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Rain Halts Haymaking

June 26, 1938.

Workers had been able to put in many good licks in the week before the rain began falling. By working from sunup to sundown the men mowed, cured, and handled 100 tons of alfalfa and clover hay, according to the manager's estimate. The hay was produced on 44 acres, averaging slightly more than two and one-fourth tons per acre.

Fifty-seven tons of alfalfa were harvested from one field of 25 acres. All this hay was run through the hay chopper and blown into the metal haykeeper. The hay was put into the haykeeper while it was quite green. It will be used as feed for cattle on the farm.

Curing Time Reduced.

Men at the farm have found that the hay stored in the haykeeper is superior to hay fully cured in the sun and stored in the mow or stack. Curing time in the open is greatly reduced where the hay is stored in the metal haykeeper. The farm's harvesters find that the haykeeper not only saves time in curing but often saves the hay. Where there is an unusually heavy crop of legume hay to be cured the haykeeper comes in hand. Even if the hay happens to be carrying a fairly high percentage of moisture it will usually keep in the haykeeper. The haykeeper also has been found valuable in saving hay during a rainy season such as the present. Farmers in the Du Page county farm neighborhood, as well as in other parts of northern and central Illinois, have had their worries this season in getting hay properly cured between showers.

The fifteen acres of hay left in the swath when the last rain fell will be turned with a side delivery rake to expose the damp plants to the sun. Since the haykeeper is full, it will be necessary to sun cure the balance of the hay thoroughly before it is stored in the mow.

Favorable weather most of last week made it possible for the farm workers to get in some effective work against the weeds that almost smothered out the corn earlier in the season. Before the rain Friday all the corn had been cultivated. All corn fields are now fairly clean except for a few patches of weeds which men are tackling with hoes.

Lamb Production Down.

The flock of 226 Southdown breeding ewes kept at the farm produced an average of nearly one-fourth of a lamb less this year than last. From 226 ewes 39 lambs were lost this year. Pure bred and grade lines combined have saved 230 lambs, or an average of slightly more than one lamb per ewe. Last year 230 ewes produced a total of 280 lambs, or an average of 1.21 lambs per ewe.

A summary of the flockmaster's records show that last year the 65 pure bred Southdown ewes lost 6 lambs and saved 78. This year the 57 pure bred ewes left lost 3 lambs and saved 54. His records also show that last year 165 grade ewes lost 18 lambs and saved 202, while this year the 169 grade ewes lost 36 lambs and saved 176. Last year the ewes dropped most of their lambs in March and early April. The lambs were born in the barn. This year most of the lambs were dropped in May. They were born in the open pastures. The heaviest loss of lambs was among the yearling ewes this year.

AVIATION LINES ADD TO SERVICE OUT OF CHICAGO

Additions to airline services affecting Chicago, beginning July 1, were announced yesterday by two companies.

The United Air Lines will increase its passenger service between Chicago and Cleveland to seven direct flights daily instead of six. A sky-lounge Mainliner will leave Chicago at 3:30 p. m. [central standard time] and reach Cleveland at 6:30 p. m. [eastern standard time].

Transcontinental and Western Air announced that night sleeper plane service between Chicago and New York in both directions will be inaugurated, increasing T. W. A.'s Chicago-New York service to six round trips daily. A "Night Hawk Skysleeper" plane will leave Chicago at 11:55 p. m. [C. S. T.] and reach New York at 6:04 a. m. [E. S. T.]. Westbound, a plane, the Chicagoan, will leave New York at 7:50 p. m. [E. S. T.] and arrive in Chicago at 12:59 a. m. [C. S. T.].
